Colt also has amnesia from the many electrical experiments Karbunkle's cronies performed on him.

Due to the night blindness being so bad, Colt wears eye glasses that keep his eyes focused when staring straight ahead yet allow him to see clearly but when someone else looks through his lenses all they see is blobs and blurs. His lenses are at the maximum strength allowed by the Martian Board of Optomitrists.

Quote from Rebecca's Resuce: I faintly remember the torture chamber then passing out and waking up here, I don't have a clue how I got out. I'm guessin one of the guys in Jet's unit carried me out to the ship 'cause I was in no shape to walk. It's the system Rimfire put in place for when he's not around!

I just don't understand why people have so many problems with her!

Is known to say: Hey Rimfire picked his cousin because of her SKILLS not because his uncle's her dad!
