1 - the fire

There once was a house cat named mittens he was a kitten with one sister named snow and one brother named stripes. He had a nice life with his siblings till one night a huge fire hit the house and every thing was gone even their owners. They had now were to go the only thing to do was leave to live in the wild like their mother had done. So the three cats set out in to the woods to find shelter. after an all night walk in the forest they found a old house. the three cats walked in and saw five other cats living there. one of them saw the three cats and walk over and said "why are you here?". "we need a place to stay we have no home" mittens yelled the four other cats walked over. "what are your names" asked a big orange tabby "stripes mittens and snow" snapped stripes. "so can we stay?" asked mittens. the five cats started whispering to one other then the Orange tabby walks up and says "yes but you must pull your weight we are loyal to each other and we are not going to stay long we are going to a place in the hills that has other cats and no humans in sight do you want to come with us?"
