Toilets on the blink again

That's just one problem and then

So is the kitchen light

Keep turning off and on keeps me up all night

Squeaky door

Is no more

`cause little brother knocked it down dog is missing can't find him even at the pound living room TV's picture isn't clear mom's going to replace it with mine or so I fear refrigerator is not running thanks to older sister so evil and cunning we should drop her off at an adoption center and little brother should be left on the side of the in winter let's change our name to the Smiths lets go somewhere with a place where I can play, mom can cook, and dad can fish
