STRESS KILLS THE BEST OF US:

Stressful is the life I lead, hoping praying pleading to fit the schools needs, Now and then I think about it and if i'll make it through but who ever knew that suicide could be in the students view, suicide is often the students escape from such a dreamless place, But I wonder if a dream could get away from such a stressful day, that is until a whip is cracked the dream will fall back into place as a wrist is slashed and a chair is dropped these are my dark and demented dreamless thoughts...

This is something I was crazely thinking about, why do most students comit suicide? Well its because of school break ups homework, failing, teasing, and bullys its just pathetic because to be truthfull who here hasn't ever thought about coitting suicide at least once....School is almost always the problem for that.
