Chapter one A Hard farewell

Along time ago in a deep forest there was a little kingdom called Elwind. Elwind was a little but beautiful place where elves lived. In this elf kingdom there was a war between this evil supernatural thing. This thing's name was Omneydor! Omneydor was taking elves and killing them. He was killing them because people say that some elves have magical powers. Powers that can bring nations to their knees! It's true what people say about elves! In this very kingdom lived a little girl named Anastasia. She was very poor, but she was powerful, and strong but she did not know it. One day her father was called to fight in the war against Omneydor. Anastasia's mother had died of giving birth to her, and no one wanted to watch her because she and her best friend the prince were trouble makers. So if her father left there would be no one to take care of her. But her father wanted peace for his daughter and his Kingdom. So the very next morning he and the other elves left for the war. But before he left he said to the little girl holding his hand before he could leave "Anastasia. " "Yes?" Said the little girl looking up at him with tears in her eyes. "You know as well as any one that I have to fight in this war." Said her father. "I know father but, I don't want to lose you! I love you!" "But you will never lose me." said her father. "Just walk by faith and not by what you see. Just trust your heart and let your self believe!" "Believe? Believe in what? She asked. Believe in..." "Pardon me sir." Said a man all dressed in armor "But Omneydor just let out the Orcs to come and destroy thy home land. We must leave at once." I have to go Anastasia." said her father "I love you!" As he began to walk away Anastasia called to him "I love you too father!"

For 4 years she wrote to her father everyday, one day she got a letter saying that he was coming home. She was so excited that she cleaned the whole house and made sure that she herself looked nice. A week later the same man that told Anastasia's father that they had to leave came knocking on the door. Anastasia ran to the door hoping that it would be her father. But when she opened it her smile turned into a frown. The man said to her. "Mam, I am sorry to inform thee that thy father has died." "WHAT!" She cried. "I am sorry" he said. "But how?" she asked, as Tears filled up in her eyes. "I rather not say mam." "PLEASE!" she cried for she was too choked up to whisper. He then said "E was on his way home with a rest of a group men when E was attacked by 10 orcs, only one man survived long enough to tell of what had happened. Ye father died trying to protect the other men's lives. E was a hero e was.

Again I am sorry mam. Than he walked away from the house. Anastasia closed the door and, fell on the ground. She lay on the floor crying "Father you told me you would always be there! Father where are you? Anastasia stayed lying on the floor for one whole day. Then she had an Idea. But she had to go and find some weapons. She ran to her closest friend. The prince of Elwind. His name was Legolas. She ran to his yard where a fence had been. The fence had a hole in the side and she crawled throe it.

"Hello Anastasia" said little Legolas sitting on a tree branch eating an apple. "Why are you crying? "Never mind about that!" She barked. Legolas gave her a look like what's wrong with you? Then Anastasia looked down at the ground and said "Legolas I'm sorry it's just ..." She then burst into tears. Legolas jumped from the tree branch dropping his apple and landed right next to Anastasia and asked "What's wrong?" as he gave her a hug. "Legolas...." She hesitated. "My farther....he just ...died." She berst into more tears. "Do you mean because of the war?"Asked Legolas. "Yes." She replied. "I'm so sorry." He said. "Are you going to be ok? Do want any thing? Because you just say the word and ill..." "I need weapons!" She replied as she wiped her tears. "Why?" he asked as he gave her a little push away to see her face. "I am going to go and fight Omneydor myself!" "But Anastasia, you are only 67 years old!" [Elves can be older than 1,582,497!!The older they get the more wiser and beautifier they become. In human years she was only 12 years old! O....they can never die of old age. They can only die by being killed by someone or of sickness. Now back to our story.] "I know" Replied Anastasia. "But I have to. For my father." "Let me come with you please!?" begged Legolas. NO! Anastasia said to him. I will not have any harm come to you! Besides your future is here in Elwind! "But Anasta..." "NO" Anastasia interrupted. "Please for me stay?" "alright"said Legolas looking into her eyes. "But take this with you." He ran to the corner of his yard and picke dup his bow and about 17 arrows This is the beast bow I have." "Thank you."Said Anastasia.Than she looked in to his eyes and he looked in to hers, then he reached behind his neck and took his necklace and put it around her neck. It had a golden heart hanging from it. She then asked "Why are you giving this to me?" "It was my mothers but I want you to have it...so you will always remember me. And look! If u whisper my name into it, it shows the whole kingdom of Elwind!" he replied. She said I cant take this. You're mom gav...Then Legolas bent over to her gave her a quick kiss on the cheek. At first she wanted to kiss him back but she knew she had to go. "Thank you." She said. So she ran off throe the the hole on the fence. Then Legolas shouted "Remember to say the magic words at the river." "I will!" she shouted back. Then Legolas watched her disappear over the hill heading toured the river that lead her out of Elwind. And he whispered "Good luck!"

Anastasia came closer and closer to the river. But in her way were to guards each on a horses who were well...guarding the river. She ran behind a big bush and tried to think of a plan to get the guards to leave. You see in her home land she was known as the trouble maker. She and Legolas both [as I told you b4] would always get into trouble. So as the trouble maker she was, well known. So she knew the guard's horses were afraid of snakes. So she layd down her bow and arrows and went to a rock that she knew that snakes were always under. And there she found one big snake. So she vary carefully picked it up and walked slowly toured the bush. Then she laded it down , but still having a hold at the end of its tale. She then picked up a big stick that was ner her. Then she let go of the snaks tale and pushed it with the stick gently. And it slid right by the two horses. It startled them so much that both the horses ran kicking and jumping into the town. Anastasia laughed as she picke dup her bow and arrow and ran down towards the river and said "Sonbie callsouen allpoe kay sallantoo! [That made her able to go through the river and not drown. If she didn't say all those words the water would have been like quicksand and she would have sunk through.She went through the river, and over the hill. Then she looked back because it was the first time leaving her home and she whispered "Good-bye."

Anastasia was 12 in human years when she left. It took Anastasia 3 1/2 years on foot to get to the place where Omneydor lived! Until finally she came to the casel where Omneydor was. But all of the sudden she felt something so she took out her bow and arrow. But by the time she got her bow and arrow in position 5 Orcs came out of no where! She killed 2 but then the rest grabbed Anastasia and dragged her all the way to Omneydor's casel! She tried to fight them off as hard as she could but she couldn't! As soon as they got into Omneydor's casel she knew she was not going to see Legolas ever again. Then out of no where Omneydor came. Then he said to her "You are merely a child. What are you doing way out here?" "I... came here to...to stop you and your army!" She said frightenly. "HaHAHA" laughed Omneydor, and the rest that were in the room "No one can stop me my dear. "Then Anastasia looked at Omneydor straight in the eye and said "You are wrong! You and your army KILLED MY FATHER! I will stop you maybe not today maybe not tomorrow But, I will some day!" Then he said to her "I could kill you right now! Anastasia looked up at him and said with her green fire in her eyes, "I will fight back. Even if I die. Omneydor gasped as he saw her eyes and then got a hold of himself and then said "Let me have a look at you and see if I should." He got up out of his seat and walked around her once and said "No I won't kill you. But you shall wish you had never been born!" He took his hand and put it on top of her head his eyes and his hand glowed black and she fell on the ground unconscious. "TAKE HER TO THE DONGIN!" Omneydor shouted! She shall become great use to us in the future. One of Omneydor's most trusted guard asked him "Why my lord? Why are you keeping her alive?" "Because" Omneydor answered. "I looked at her and, in my book of power she has the description of the one power! The power I need to make nations fall on their knees!"

For 2,374 years Legolas never forgot Anastasia, fearing she was dead, he went on with his life but there was not one day that he would stop and pray to Gandalf that she would watch over Anastasia in the heaven realm of the dead elves. He would soon find out she was alive.

Chapter two the beginning of a mission

Omneydor had one power in Middle-earth. There were two powers total that he needed to control the nations. He had one but needed the other. 2,374 years later, he had a new warrior her name was Anastasia. Omneydor erased Anastasia's mind so he trained her to be what he wanted! He changed her name to Elektra. She never knew of her life before, and that once Omneydor had found the second power he would kill her and the second power holder and take their powers. So with his power Elektra's power and the other power holder he would be unstoppable.

Elektra was Strong, Powerful, Beautiful, and had black magic in her. Her beauty was one of her powers. She could make any man fall in love with her and once he did she'd slice through him and he would die immediately. She was dark and, killed whatever Omneydor told her to kill! Every day she would go and fight Orcs and men in their homes and anywhere. Omneydor told her to find them! And every day Omneydor would wait until he knew she was finally ready. Unknowing that Omneydor would someday betray her, she thought of him as her father. She obeyed him and she had a twisted way of loving him as her father.

Growing up and becoming a man, Legolas was loved by all. His father waited for him to be a prince. And soon to be married to a young woman named Kayareie, who was a princess herself. Their marriage would end a war between their home countries. Even though he had everything he ever wanted, he still wasn't happy. In fact, he was miserable. His stepfather hated him and his mother was very ill. Half of him wanted to marry Kayareie, but the other half wanted to see Anastasia. He sometimes dreamed of seeing Anastasia again. One day he told his mother and his stepfather of his dreams during dinner. His mother said to him, "If you always have these dreams of Anastasia, then follow them. Always trust your heart. Always." Legolas smiled and said to her, "I always will, Mother." She then said, "I am so dreadfully tired." She then took a white napkin to her hand and began to cough into it. As she took the napkin away, the napkin was bloody red. Legolas and his stepfather were used to this by now. She ALWAYS coughed up blood, but this time a lot of blood came up and she began to cough harder and harder. Until Legolas yelled, "Mother?" then his stepfather yelled, "Gards! Gard's! Bring her up stairs now! Legolas! Go into town and get a doctor! Now!" Yes, Father, he said as he ran to the door. But when Legolas came back to his house with the doctor, he ran up the stairs and up to his father who was standing outside the door and said, "Father, I have the doctor, I have..." "Smack!" his father hit Legolas across the face. "You were not quick enough!" He screamed at him. "She's dead and it is all your fault!" Legolas replied, holding his red cheek, "She's dead and it's my fault!" he screamed back. His stepfather hit him on his other cheek and said, "Don't you raise your voice at me! And yes, it is your fault for you had to go and tell your mother of your dreams that you have of a dead girl! You are the one who filled her head with death!!! They are now both dead! They are not coming back! And now Legolas, I ban you from this day forth for you have caused the death of your very own mother! Legolas always respected him. For he knew if he wouldn't, it would break his mother's heart. But now he said to him, "No, Father! You are the one who has killed my mother! You made promises to her and never fulfilled them! I am not the killer, you are!"

He then left the hallway and into his room, he then packed his backpack with all his weapons! Then he went to the stable and took his horse and headed for Rohan to stay with his best friend Aragorn. He was only 17 in human years when he left. He sent letters to his father, saying that he shall return to Elvendim when the time is right and from there he shall marry her. She understood, but until Legolas returned to her town, Elvendim would still be at war.

2,374 years later, The wizards, elves, humans, dwarves, fairies, and hobbits, had enough with Omneydor and his apprentice and armies. So the elves sent word to the toughest warriors they knew, to come to Merkwold, and make a group of men who will risk their lives to fight Omneydor. Themselves!

So one fine day, about 25 men and one woman came to the cancel of Elrond. They met in his garden. Then he began saying, "Omneydor has put us all through a lot of stress, sorrow, and anger. He will stop at nothing to get this one power of which everyone is talking about. He has all ready the one power holder they call Elektra. She has killed more than 5,000 men. We must go and destroy her and Omneydor. It shall not be easy. So I ask you now! Who will go and stop at every town you come upon and look for the second power, armies and, kill Elektra and Omneydor?" For a couple of moments, none dared to answer. Until finally one elf stood right out of his seat and said, "I shall go. And with me, bow and arrow, I shall shoot Elektra through the head and also Omneydor." This elf's name was Legolas! But of course legolas best friend was Aragorn, King of Rohan. So Aragorn stood right up and said "As well as I shall go too. And with my sword I shall spear Elektra in the heart and, as well as Omneydor." Then a wizard named Gandalf stood up out of his seat and said as well. "And with my magic." Then a dwarf named Gimli stood up and said "And with my ax." Then Eowyn the niece of king Aragorn stood and said "And with my sword." All the men began to laugh, except Legolas, Aragorn, and Gandalf. Gandalf did not laugh because he thought it is very rude, and Legolas and Aragorn did not laugh because they knew how skilled Eowyn is. Because they had no say who can stay and who can go on the mission and, she had heard of the battle she could go with the group of men. "So you shall be going and fighting Omneydor and his apprentice and his armies." said Elrond. Till this day forth let all middle-earth know who risked their lives for us. You shall be known as are great warriors. You must leave at dawn!"

That day Omneydor sent one of his orcs to wake Elektra. So the orc went into Elektra's room and said "Get up, you lazy girl." Elektra got up out of bed and said to him. "You should be fearful of how you talk to me!" The orc just snarled at her. She began to get dressed in her battle armor when she asked "Why do you wake me get up at this hour?" "Because" The orc replied "Omneydor told me to tell you that it is time!" Then he left the room. She then realized what he meant and got dressed as fast as she could. She wore a green topped belly shirt with a black pair of pants. She had a black belt with two daggers on the side, she had a small braid that dangled down the left side of her face while the rest of her hair dangled behind her, and a black cape with a hood that was connected to it. She always wore the hood over her face. She then left her dark room and walked down a long hallway. Then she saw two orcs that were guarding the door to Omneydor's throne. She then pushed them out of the way and went through the two doors. "I got the message my lord." She said to him as she bowed down before him. "You are ready?" He replied. "You know what you have been training for. Now go find the one who holds the second power!" "What shall he look like my lord?" She asked. "He is an elf like you." He replied. "He has long blond hair, light blue eyes, and he is traveling with a group of man, woman, wizard, and dwarf. His name is Legolas. O... Yes, do not kill him, for I want to take his power when he is still alive for I want him to see me before his death! Call upon the Smerits. So they may come and bring you and him to me. So you shall become my greatest apprentice and rule over the land with me. With your power and Legolas you shall be great. Now you must take your best hours and meet the Legolas by sunrise so when he goes and makes his morning collection of food you shall go and meet him. Go! The Smerits will take you. It shall take you 2 days to get there." "Yes my lord!" Then she left the throne room. And went to her big dark room and packed up all her food. Then she went into her meditating room where it was dark and meditated for an hour. When she was done meditating she went to where the Smerits lived in Omneydor's dark part of the castle and, Elektra called upon the Smerits to go and take her to Legolas. So Elektra and the Smerits climbed up on the dragons and began to lift up off of the ground. And Elektra looked back at Omneydor's castle fearing of not coming back. She feared of Legolas! This is the second time she feared of something in a long time. She had heard from Omneydor that Legolas' power was just as strong as hers. And as it seemed Omneydor's castle began to become smaller and smaller as she began to fly farther and farther away. She began to feel more scared. But she flew off into the sun set high above the sky.

Chapter Three Why?

Two days later, early in the morning, Legolas, Gandalf, Aragorn, Gimli, and Eowyn, were just settling down for that very night. They need a fire so Legolas volunteered to get wood. So he went deep in to the woods. All of the sudden Legolas felt something. He knew someone or something was watching him. He wasn't sure what it was. Good or evil, he pulled out his bow and arrow and walked around the woods to feel out what or who was there. Until finally out of nowhere this person jumped out coming after Legolas and almost kicking him with its foot. Legolas jumped back and pulled his arrows back and let go. He fired 3 at 1 time! The person dodged them easily! The person then took out her daggers! Then finally it clicked in Legolas' head who this person was! He exclaimed "Electra!" She looked up at him and as he looked only she saw was a mask on her face. She then said "So you're Legolas? Ha! I can kill you easy!" She threw her daggers at him. He jumped and did a flip and landed on his hands as he then flipped once more for her daggers came back like a boomerang. She caught them in her hands and he landed on his feet! "Too bad throw," She continued "I can't kill you" there was a pause in the moment he asked "Why? Have you only come to slow us down?" "Uh...NO!" She said as she ran and pinned him to the ground. "I've come to take you back to Omneydor!" "What interest do you have with me?" He asked "It's not his interest," She said "it's mine!" He looked up at her and said "Why can't you kill me?" She replied "Because, I need you alive to take your powers!" He looked at her in not knowing an idea what she was talking about. She then said "You look surprised Power holder!" He then thought back to himself "If she's telling the truth then that means I have the second power within me! But if she or Omneydor get hold of it then all earth will fade!" He then tried to push her off but she laid right on top of him holding with her two hands his arms and, with her feet his legs. She was now face to face with him. He then said "How can you now wound me with no arms or legs?" She then smiled a wicked smile and her eyes lit up green and one of her daggers lifted right out of her pocket and she said wickedly "Have you forgotten Legolas prince of Elwind? I am the one power holder!" She was about to wound him when all of a sudden she and Legolas heard someone coming with their elven ears! No wait...it was a group of people! Legolas feared it was more of Omneydor's army but instead it was his army. Gandalf, Gimli, Aragorn, and Eowyn came to Legolas. They all gasped when they saw Elektra on top of him with a dagger at his throat. As Elektra looked up at them with assurance of overthrowing them, Legolas threw her off of him so hard that she bounced off onto a tree and on the ground! As she got up with her head looking down she said "I mistjudged you Legolas." Then she charged towards them. Aragorn charged at her with his sword. He swung and she jumped up right underneath it and kicked Aragorn in the face then Gandalf took his magic staff and stuck it in the ground and started to say magic words while Eowyn came after her from behind. Elektra grabbed hold of the top of the staff, swung right over it and kicked Gandalf in the face. Bounced off his face with her foot and kicked Eowyn in the stomach. Once she landed on her feet Gimli came after her with his ax. She laughed as she punched him in the face. And said "This is it? This is all I had to do to get...AHHH!" she cried in pain. "Caught you off guard didn't I? Legolas cut Elektra with his bow and arrow. The arrow didn't go into Elektra but it cut the side of her arm to make her bleed. She then said "You will wish you have not done that!!" She then came after him with full power, she ran to punch him but he blocked it then he tried to kick her but she caught his foot and swung him till he hit the ground. she ran to punch him but he rolled over, the others tried to stop her but she kicked and punched them while fighting Legolas. She even made Legolas punch Aragorn when she dodged the both of them. Finally Legolas said to the others to stop. When Elektra missed a punch Legolas grabbed the mask off of her from the side with one hand and with another pinned her to a tree. He then saw her face... when he saw her his eyes widened and he said "I know you!"

She looked at him weirdly for a moment and then she started to call upon the Smerits. [Remember Omneydor only said to call upon the Smerits when she has Legolas the truth was from there the Smerits were to wound Elektra as well so when they got back to Omneydor he would say a evil spell to get there powers and then kill them both!!!] The others ran and hid but Legolas still looking at her in amazement that he felt like he knew her, did not move Aragorn called out to him but he was in his own world. Aragorn tried to go get him but Eowyn pulled him back and said [NO! it's too late! Look there they are! Get down!" Then Legolas then realized that he had to get out of there. He pulled to get away but Electra had a hold on him so she pulled him back and grabbed her dagger. Her eyes and her hand lit up green then the dagger grew into a sword. She then pushed him against a tree and stabbed him in the right shoulder! The sword went right through him and into the tree He Yelled in pain, when the three Smerits landed and began to get off there Draggdons Electra began to say "Good you here. Well here he is wounded and weeeeee AHH..." "Smack" Elektra was hit in the face by the leader of the Smerits. "And so are you" he said to her. The Smerits drew their swords and then they began to charge at her.
