2 - Best Friends

We begin in the Tallest's throne room *
And suddenly the door burst open and a girl ran in holding a tray that had two fast food drinks parely balancing on it.
'I'm so sorry my Tallest. I need to get my alarm fixed." Said the girl and she held out the tray to hem.
'It's really about time!" said Red as he took one of the cups.
'I'm sorry" The girl said again and she lowered her head and bit her lip. Everything inside her vanted to lash out at the both of them, yet she just couldn't do it. She could hurt ANYTHING but he Tallest.
Purple took the other cup and slurped it. "Ya know, maybe this job just isn't SUITED for you." His mouth twisted into an evil smile.
'I promise I will do better, my Tallest." Ken said, her insides burning.

She bowed and walked out of the room, being careful not to slam the door behind her.

"Yes, well, that was it then." Red said and he motioned for Ken to leave.

"OOOOH THEY MAKE ME SO MAD!!!" Ken yelled once she was safely in her room. "WHY CAN'T THEY GET THEIR OWN SODAS FOR CRYING OUT LOUD?!?" she threw a book at the wall and sat down at her computer (which she really wasn't supposed to have, mind you) and took a couple deep breaths before clicking a file.

Ken always wanted to be an invader. Seeing as she couldn't, she read about other invaders. That was the purpose of the computer: to show her journals of the invaders she so adored.

Yet, today, there was a new file. Ken was a little surprised seeing as the only new things that usually appeared were recent journal entries. She clicked it.

At least ten or twenty documents popped up. Each only a couple pages long.

"Hmm." Ken thought. "These can't be journals...." She clicked the first one and a profile came up entitled ZIM.

"Zim...I've heard of him!" Ken said to herself as she read the very short file. It read,

ZIM

Status: False invader

Current Location: Earth

Reason for banishment: Annoying the Tallest and cause of failure for Operation Impending Doom.

"False invader? Banished? What?" she sat back in her seat, trying to figure out what this meant.

She clicked another file entitled TRaNk.

"Hmm."

TRaNk

Status: Former general

Current location: Heading towards Earth

Reason for banishment: Disabled PAK

"Disabled? Huh." She put her hand behind her back and ran it over her PAK. She didn't know it was possible to do anything other than repair your PAK.

She decided it must've been a complicated process and didn't want to look into it right then.

She spent most of the night reading these profiles over and over. Just about every one of them had ended up on this earth place.

"Reading up on more invaders I see." Ken jumped and turned to face Thorn, who was standing in his know-it-all snobby position against the wall.

"Do you ENJOY scaring me half to death?" Ken replied as she minimized the page with the profiles on it.

"As a matter of fact, I do!" Thorn said as he sat down on the bed next to the computer.

"Well, what do you want?" Ken said as she stood up and straitened her uniform.

"I wanted to see what you were doing! Is that so wrong?" Thorn said as he made a reach for the book Ken had thrown up against the wall earlier.

Ken snatched it up before Thorn could grab it. "Why must you feel you have to inspect EVERYTHING I own?"

"What's YOUR problem?" Thorn crossed his arms.

"Well excuse me for not being overjoyed that you come barging in whenever you feel like it!" Ken said, her cheeks bright purple.

"Well, never mind all that. I don't feel like fighting right now." Thorn lay back onto the incredibly soft pillow sitting at the head of Ken's bed. "Why can't I have a comfy room like this?"

There was a pause as they both stared into space.

"Thorn, what would you think about going to a NEW planet? Oh say, earth?" Ken wanted this to sound as casual as possible. She simply HAD to find out why all these irkens were on this one tiny planet and had not yet claimed it to be irken property.

"A what now?" this caught Thorn off guard. "What's wrong with THIS planet?"

"For one thing we're treated as slaves." She answered. "Not to mention the lack of simulated sunlight. "

"Oh please." Thorn said as he rolled his eyes.

"Don't you ever wonder why your skin is so pale?"

"It's because of all the different things that have been injected into my blood." Thorn said matter-of-factly. "That's also why my eyes are blood red and one of them is cat-like so don't even TRY to bring THAT up."

Ken pouted. "Fine. Can you get out of my room now? I have...work to do."

"Yeah, yeah. I've heard it." He got up and patted Ken's shoulder. "Night."

Ken went over to her bed and plugged a thick wire into her PAK. A light now flashed on the wall that read CHARGING.

She sighed and lay down as her system put her into down mode as she recharged.

Neat huh? Yup that's how we start. Ze appearance of Thorn, my character. (oh come on I had to have SOME character in here that was mine) also, I made up the recharge deal cuz I knew irkens don't really sleep on their own. She's not really sleeping either. She's in down mode. ~*~Ken

PS. Big thank you to wIL for letting me use TraNk in this!

More to come! If you want your fancharacter in this, feel free to ask. I'll squeeze anyone I can in here. ^_^

3 - Ken's Cruiser Go BOOM!

RRRRR77777	777777777777	77DDDDDDDD	DDDTTTTTTI

"IT'S NOT MY BRA I SWEAR!" Ken shouted as she was restarted. "Oh thank god. Just a bad memory. Really bad. She sat up and unplugged the wire from her PAK.
She walked over to her mirror and took a good groggy look at herself. "ARGGH! BED-HEAD!" She pulled her antennae straight and pulled her gloves on.
RRRRRRRRRING! An alarm went off as Ken was pulling on her right boot, making her jump and hit her head.
"OW DANGIT!" She growled under her breath as she quickly finished getting ready and hurried out the door.
She took a deep breath as she turned a corner, trying to get into a calm, content mood. She walked into someone and was knocked down.
"DANGIT! WATCH WHERE YOU'RE GO-" she broke off when she saw she had bumped into Red, who was now on the floor as well, rubbing his forehead.

Ken turned an unhealthy shade of purple and crab-walked backward until she felt the wall behind her. "My Tallest! I'm sorry, I didn't see you!"

defeat the urge to tear this boy's antennae off.
"Uhh. If it helps at all, I know a good mechanic that might be able to help." The boy said after a couple minutes of Ken sitting with her eyes closed.
"Okay, but first, what's your name?" Ken asked, getting to her feet.
"Why." He replied.
"I just want to know is all."
"No that's my name, Why."
"Oh." Ken said, feeling a little silly.
"What's your name?" Why asked, brushing off a bit of Ken's cruiser scrap.
"Ken."
"That's a boy name!" Why said as he looked over the piece of scrap he was holding.
Ken clenched her teeth. She hated when people made fun of her name. "It's also my name so I guess it's not."
"Mmkay whatever." Why threw the piece of scrap back in the pile and picked up a backpack from the floor Ken guessed was his. "Come on! I'll introduce you to Rox!"

~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~*

END OF CHAPPEH! Forgive me if it seems short. >.> When I said "my bleeding heart" I meant my signature thing I do. Not her real HEART. I'm not even sure Irkens HAVE hearts. o_O also, I've been wanting to write/draw something Nny related while typing this. The guilt just got to meh.

BIG THANKIES TO REA FOR LETTING ME USE WHY!!!! AND ALI FOR LETTING ME USE ROX!!!!!

FUN FACT: I'm coooooold. ~*~Ken

4 - Rox n' Ri

and pieces of metal and broken parts, the music so loud that Ken couldn't hear herself talk.
In the middle of it all was a girl, seeming to be trying to play her screwdriver as a guitar. Ken laughed, though no one could here her.
Why walked absentmindedly over to the girl and tapped her shoulder, making the girl jump (she almost hit Why with the screwdriver she was holding). The music stopped and Ken's ears were ringing.
Why dragged the girl over to Ken, who was still laughing about the screwdriver.
"Ken, this is Rox." Why held Rox up all Keefish. "She's gonna fix your cruiser thingy!"
"What? Why, what did you do?" Rox said as she kicked and got free of Why's grip.
"He blew up my cruiser." Ken replied for Why.
Rox sighed and shook her head. "Why, don't you know BETTER by now?"
Why, having slunk away from them, was trying to fit as much gunpowder as possible in his pockets.
"WHY! PUT THAT BACK!" Rox screamed at him, her voice painfully high-pitched.
"OW OKAY! FINE!" Why screamed back as he emptied his pockets.
"MY GOD WOULD YOU TOO JUST STOP SCREAMING?!?" Ken shouted, eye twitching.

Ken shot a quick glare in Rox's direction but decided that Rox probably knew more about these things then she did and didn't want to mess anything up.

"I appreciate your help Rox. I suppose I'll be leaving then." Ken said as she hurried out of the room, not quite sure where she was going. Most certainly not back to her room, that was for sure.

Strange strange people. She thought as she walked down the hall to nowhere.

OMG ANOTHER SHORT CHAPTER! Forgive me. I'm trying to make this better and move it along faster but it just doesn't seem to be going anywhere fast. Oh well. I'm still typing it. `~*~ Ken

THANKS FOR LETTING ME USE YOUR CHARACTERS GUYS!!!!!!!

5 - Earth or bust!

Ken eventually found her way to a darker room near the very bottom of the Massive. It was small, but had a window.
She settled herself between a couple boxes and stared out the window.
"I better be getting back to RoxMy cruiser MUST be done by now!" She said to herself. It had only been a couple hours, but Ken wasn't really one for waiting.
She jumped to her feet and walked out the door, humming a low, almost depressing tune.
Ken popped her head into Rox's room, not taking the time to knock. "Rox? I'm here for my cruiser! Is it done yet?" she yelled into the spacious room before her.
Huh. Without all the people, it's really quite roomy in here Ken thought to herself as she walked in.
"BE RIGHT WITH YA! ONE SECOND!" A voice yelled back at her.
A very greasy Rox appeared before Ken, wrench in hand. "You're cruiser's on the table there. I did the best I could. Put a new coat of pain on it and it'll look good as new! Now if you excuse me, I have to finish working onnevermind."
Rox disappeared behind a curtain before Ken could say another word

Ken shrugged and grabbed the tiny cruiser as she walked by the table towards the door.
"Now," she told herself, "getting back to bigger and better things" she walked down the hall towards the launch bay.
She strolled down the hall, humming as she went. She was mere feet away from the launching bay when Thorn stepped behind the corner, blocking her.
"OOF!" Ken slammed into him, causing Thorn to loose his balance temporarily. "WHAT THE HECK THORN?!"
"Why'd you want to get to the launching bay?" he asked, avoiding the question.
"It's really none of your business is it?" Ken said, shoving past him.
"If you were planning on leaving, would you please at least tell me good bye?" he called after her.
She paused for a minute, looked over her shoulder, and let out a quiet, almost silent "Good bye."
She walked faster, leaving Thorn alone with his shock.
Once Ken was near the point of opening in the wall (and was sure Thorn had left) she let her tiny cruiser fall to the ground and expand. The voice in her head seemed to be yelling at her as she jumped into the small, dark ship. You didn't have to be so inconsiderate. It said bitterly. He was only trying to look out for you.

She silently pressed a couple buttons, pulled some levers, and zoomed off into the cold void that was space.

After a while the voice quieted down and Ken was starting to forgive herself for how she acted. She had gotten pretty far into space and was slowly speeding up. She was so anxious to meet other Irkens like her. Other Irkens who were not complete slaves to the Tallest. She was going awfully fast at this point.

Suddenly, she felt something attach itself to the side of her cruiser. She pressed about every button on the control pad but nothing happened. An opening appeared on the same side of the cruiser and Ken could feel herself being sucked into it. She screamed and tried to hold onto something, but was unsuccessful. She felt herself give in and was pulled through what seemed to be a tube. She was traveling though it for a few seconds, saw a bright light, heard her PAK say "Temporary shut down initiated", and went blank.

WHOO! And you all thought I forgot about this huh? *Well, actually I did but my friend reminded me >.> You know who you are. ;) * Yup. Not a whole lot happened but Ken's finally in space! Whoo! Well...she's in a bright room thingy....you'll have to wait for the next chapter. O-o;; Buh-bye now... ~*~Ken

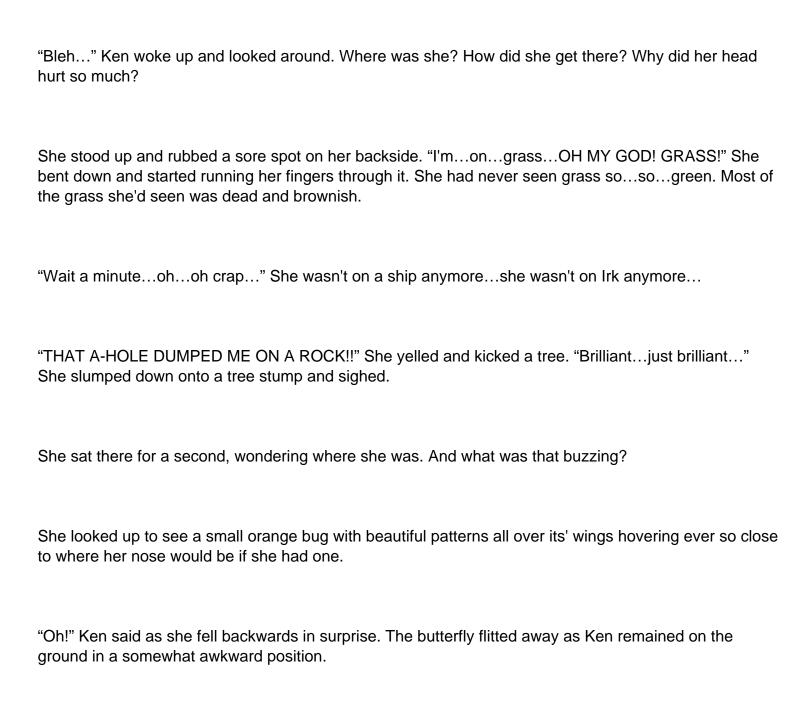

6 - Yelling, Light-headedness, And TRaNk

YES I FINALLY DECIDED TO WRITE MORE!! :D I know it's beenawhilePLEEZE DUN HIT MEH!!! >.O
~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~*
"Ugghwhat the?" Ken raised her head and opened her eyes. "ACK!! WHERE AM I?!?! CRAP!!!" she tried to move her arms, but found they were chained to the wall. "Oh come on! We're an ADVANCED race here!! Couldn't it have been flashier than freakin' CHAINS?!
She sighed and moved her hand to scratch her back. "WaitWHAT?!" Her PAK wasn't there!! Where was it?! Was she going to die?!
A door opened at the far end of the room she was in. Ken squinted to see the figure of what appeared to be a SIR unit.
Crap I AM gonna die!! She thought as the thing moved toward her.
"HEY! ARE YOU AWAKE YET?!" the SIR yelled as it jabbed Ken square in the stomach.
"OOF! YES I'M AWAKE YOU LITTLE" She cut off as the door opened again, revealing an Irkenboy? She wasn't sure.
"DEMENT, I asked you to check if she was awake, not possibly damage her insides!" the Irken yelled at the SIR.

"Nice choice of words there." Ken replied sarcastically.
"Whatever. I fixed this." The Irken said as he tossed what seemed to be Ken's PAK at her.
"HEY CAREFUL WITH THAT!!" Ken cried as she struggled to grab it. "And what do you mean by "fixed"?"
"Rewired some stuff, tweaked a few bolts, that's about it." He shrugged and pushed a button, releasing Ken from the chains.
"Do you know how close I am to beating the living snot outta you, punk?!" Ken yelled as she hugged her PAK protectively.
"Uhh. You're welcome?" he answered as Ken strained to insert her PAK back into the slots on her back.
"Just shut up and help me with this!" Ken yelled as she gave up on the PAK.
The other Irken sighed and placed Ken PAK into position, where it clicked into place.
"Now if you don't mind, I'd like to leave Mister"
"My name is TRaNk." He replied as he clicked some lights on.
"Okaaaay. I'd like to leave, TRaNk." Ken said, annoyed.
"Well, your ship is floating somewhere in spacewaaaay over that way." TRaNk said as he pointed out the front window of what Ken guessed was his ship.

7 - Butterflys n such

"Oh dear...this is...not good..." Ken pondered whether she should call for help or not.

gotten caught, somehow, in the bush she had fallen onto.

Ken blinked a few times and struggled to get to a sitting position, but found one of her antenna had Gaz just growled as she typed away at the buttons on her Game Slave Advance.

"Okay. Well, g'night!" Dib replied cheerfully as he dragged a rather large sack down the stairs leading to the laboratory that was their basement.
~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~*
"Honestly Red, I don't think we really needed that Ken servant girl anyway. Why should we make such a big deal out of her leaving?" Purple asked as he watched his coworker prepare a list of forms. "I mean, we can always hire a replacement."
"No, she's important. We have to find her and get her back here as soon as possible." Red replied as he scribbled away at the papers in front of him.
"But WHY is she so important?" Purple asked with a tone that could've been mistaken for that of a child's.
Red paused for a second, then continued scribbling over the papers.
"Well? I'm waiting." Purple said. Red could tell Purple had a smug look on his face just by listening to him.
"…" Red ignored him.
"Well, I think she's a little young for you…" Pur said, giggling a little to himself.

Red felt his face grow hot, gathered up what papers he could hold, then fast-walked out of the room, leaving Pur to his laughter.

~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~~*~

Well that was fun, neh? It's kinda short though...please keep in mind I've been reading a lot of Zarla's fic, "Vargas". If you haven't read it yet, you should. At least if you like slash and whatnot. Also, I suggest reading some of JTHM, if you haven't yet. Really, "Vargas" wouldn't make any sense whatsoever if you haven't read JTHM. Okay. I'm done ranting now. >>

SORRY FOR THE WAIT! * flees * ~ *~Ken
