Chapter 1 - The War

1 - The War

The War that killed my mother
Also killed my friend
It killed my closest family
And put my life to an end

They took the guns and rifles
They put them at my head
They gave my life no chances
A "goodbye" I could have said

My life was ended quickly
About as fast as it began
I died when i was only five
I was in a untamed land

The soldiers yes, they did try
They tried with all there might
The tried to help and save my life
But my life fell into night

The war caused all these problems
And many more to come
If we don't stop this fighting
The war will not be won

The wars will never stop
If you can not help them solve
The problems we are having
With the world and all its flaws

So with each war you fight
Let my cry ring in your head
Because it is the wars fault
And innocent child is dead

The war on the face of this earth is just to much to take
