Chapter 2 - The catch	3

1 - the story so far

On a cold winter night in Venice, France, sightings of the Cooper gang had been rare, since the gang was split up. Constable Cooper was sitting in his office, playing his PSP. Cooper had really nothing else to do (since he drank two energy drinks, he'll wait for the crash to kick in). It was 11 o'clock in the evening, Carmelita was in bed, fast asleep, Cooper wished he could go to bed right now. He looked outside his office window and saw the Eiffel Tower outside his window, he could also see the Happy Camper Orphanage, (The Orphanage Sly was in) it was still running. He remembered the first big heist, the Cookie Stealin plan, they would hide under the blankets with their flashlights, and Murray would always eat the crayons. He also remembered his Mom and Dad, all of a sudden, a tear glided down from his left eye. The phone rang, an emergency call, he quickly dashed to the phone and picked it up "Police Department, this is Constable Cooper speaking?" The caller said "I think someone broke into my house, please hurry!" Cooper said "stay calm, we're on our way," Then, Sly ran over to Carmelita's door and yelled, "Come on an emergency! Oh yeah, Bring some energy drinks too!"

2 - The catch

In the car, there was complete silence while driving over to the certain suspect. Carmelita looked like she was extremely tired and annoyed, "Look if this has to do with waking you up a 11o'clock, I'm sorry," Cooper said "No Constable," Carmelita said "Duty calls I guess, you look wide awake, Cooper, how can you stand being up this late?" Sly pointed over to his two empty cans of energy suppliments. "Cooper, that stuff is bad for you," Carmelita said "Well, Coffee is bad for you too," Cooper said, "But you drink it anyways" Carmelita muttered under her breath "Touche," Cooper quickly said "Turn off the sirens, we'll be unnoticed that way." "Smart thinking, Sly" Carmalita said as she flicked off the sirens of the Police Car and slowly pulled into the house. "What do you have for a weapon?" Sly whispered " The usual, a Shock pistol."Cooper went to the trunk and opened it, " Give up the sissy Shock Pistol ," he said smirking and pulled out a PGS-10 shotgun and pumped it once. Carmelita tried to open the door, "Its locked," she said "step aside," Cooper said and shot the hinges of the door and kicked the door open. They silently stormed the house, ther was no trace of the robber. "Would'nt a robber leave som evidence like a stolen article or something?" Sly said "Yeah, I'm getting a little suspicious abou- OH shoot, FLASH BANG!!" Right when Sly finished his sentence, it blinded their eyes. Sly opened his eyes and only saw a shadowy figure move across from them. Sly got up and started chasing after him, the criminal went up the stairs and blindly following him. Right when Sly got to the top, he heard a click noise, he steped over a Claymores laser(An Explosive C4 with laser trip wires), then Sly jumped in the air, the claymore exploded and wounded his leg, though he could still walk. The criminal went up a ladder leading to the rooftops, Sly followed "Freeze!!" He said walking closer to the suspect "give me the gun,"the suspect didn't respond "I said give me the gun, NOW!!" The suspect pointed the gun to his chin and fired "NOOOOOOOO!!!!!!" Sly said. The suspect fell off the roof and left a big dent in the car below him. "This guy has some issues,". Carmelita climed up the ladder and said "Constable, what happened?" "The criminal shot himself, and I hope the person who owns that car has insurance, lets just go home." Sly said "Alright, I'm bushed" Carmelita said. They hoped in the Police car and went bck to the interpol, "Goodnight Chief Inspector," Sly said "Goodnight, Constable" Carmelita said, then they fell asleep in theire beds. To be continued LOL!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!
