0 - The Shippings

Ok, I want to make one thing clear.

THE ONLY OC IS CAT!!! Everyone else is really ME and my friends from school. Alright? This story is purely for enjoyment so don't go flaming me because you think this is dumb.

Now, here are the Shippings.

FushichouShipping/PheonixShipping - Kay/Kay-Chan x Seto

JunsuiShipping/PureShipping - Yugi x Kristen

MokushiShipping/ApocalypseShipping - Tori x Yami Bakura

EienShipping/EternityShipping - Cat x Yami

And those are the four pairings in the story. So...yeah.

If anyone needs to look up Kanji, i found them on this site. So feel free to use it to come up with shipping names or whatever.

1 - Oh dear LORD above...

Seto was working on a new invention which none of us honestly know or care about in particular. He was almost finished.

Seto was wearing his (smexy) trench coat and normal Battle city outfit. Then, all of a sudden...

"KAIBA!" He almost banged his head against the metal of the device he was tightening the bolts on.

"Jounouchi?! What the hell are you doing here?!" he barked. (and to think he called Jounouchi the dog)

"I'm here to bug ya!"

"...you have GOT to be kidding."

"NOPE!" Jounouchi said, with that ditsy smile on his face. Yugi and Ryou walked into the room.

"Actually, Kaiba, Mokuba invited us." silence.

"MOKUBA!!!!!"

The adorable little Kaiba peeked his head into the room, smiling calmly.

"Yes, nii-sama?"

"Why...did...you...invite...THEM?" Seto yelled, swinging his arm around to point at Jounouchi, Yugi, and Ryou, who waved with silly grins on their faces.

"Because I'm bored. You're always too busy to play with me."

"Mokuba, you can go out to any place in town, catch a movie, walk in the park, rob a bank! ANYTHING but inviting THEM to my house. That's torture!" he yelled.

"C'mon, Seto. We won't bother you."

"Then why are they within a fifty foot radius of me?" he mumbled dryly.

"I went to go get us a snack and they started to explore."

"...I want them away from me. I have work to do." And with that, Seto went back to work. In ten minutes, Jounouchi walked up to Seto.

"Yo Kaiba, what're you working on?"

"...an anti-idiot device in hopes that it will get rid of you once and for all, mutt."

"Geez, touchy. ...got any food?" Seto twitched and got up.

"Go to the kitchen and look!" he snapped.

"I don't know where it is."

"Ask Mokuba."

"I don't know where he went."

"Over there..." Seto said, his patience running thin.

"I don't want to walk over there." This did it. Seto banged his fist. Unfortunately, it hit a button his machine and activated it. With loud noises, cheap light effects, and mini explosions clearly made with silly putty and play-dough (ask Tori about that) the machine let off a HUGE white light and somehow, everyone in the room passed out.

"You are living ALONE now?" Tori asked, her jaw dropped. Kay sighed and nodded.

"Yes. My Oma and Opa moved back to Germany and since mom lives close-by and so does Caroline, they decided to let me stay here until graduation."

(Note: My @$$ if this will EVER happen to any kid at age 15, but work with me here)

"LUCKY!" Tori yelled. Kay, Tori, Kristen, and Maria were hanging out in the library after school. The Japanese Club had been canceled and the librarians let them in to play on the computers while they waited for Kristen's parents to get off work and take them home.

"Yeah, I'll be luckier when I can drive in May."

"Pfft, hell yeah. Then we're going to be on the road to adulthood."

"And I'll be one step closer to getting out of America and back to Germany."

"Why are you so keen on moving?" Maria asked.

"I'd say so, but I'm afraid of being called a Nazi or whatever."

"Right." Kristen looked at Kay's computer monitor.

"Whatcha writing?" she asked.

"A fanfic for Fanart."

"Ooh, what is it about?" Tori asked, leaning forward with interest.

"It's a new Naruto fanfic. Oh, I got a new comment on my pro."

"From who?"

"Cat." Kay typed and sent her reply to Moon_Princess then returned to her fanfic. "I'm almost done with the first chapter."

"Hey, what are we doing for Halloween this year?" Tori asked.

"I wish I could cosplay, but the anime outfits online are WAY too expensive. So I'm just throwing some stuff together and I'm going with a costume that has no name."

"Wow Kay...just wow..."

"I know." suddenly, they heard screaming and a light crash from outside. Everyone blinked. It was past five. Nobody should be at school anymore.

"Did you guys hear that?" Kristen asked.

"come on, let's go outside and look." The four girls got up and ran outside out of the court yard, past the offices, and to the parking lot and blinked. There were a few figures stuck up in the giant tree outside the school. Arms, legs, and faces stuck out of the leaves.

"Hey, are you guys alright?" Maria yelled.

"C-can a help us?" Jounouchi yelled.

"How do we get them down?" Kay asked. Tori ran forward and started climbing the tree. Through some odd way, they managed to get Yugi, Jounouchi, Ryou, and Seto out of the tree.

"Thanks."

"don't mention i-WAIT! You all look familiar." Tori ran back to Kay and the others. "Do we know t hem?"

Kay and Kristen both were staring. And staring. And staring.

"IT'S THE GUYS FROM YUGIOH!!!" they screamed at the same time. And then, more yelled were head and two figures landed on the other Yugioh guys. When the girls got a closer look, thye realized it was Yami Bakura and Yami Yugi.

"wow..." Tori stepped closer and poked Bakura's hair. "HAHA! Victory is mine!"

The rest of the group sweatdropped.

"Is anyone else gonna fall from the sky?" Maria asked. And right on cue, a final scream was heard. It was only one scream and it was a female voice and the last figure hit the Yugioh guys.

They stared and saw it was girl with blue eyes and long brown hair in a ponytail.

"..call me crazy, but doesn't she look like Cat?"

"OMFG, she DOES!" Tori said. Cat stood up and blinked.

"Um...where am I?" she asked.

"At our school here in Texas. You're Cat, right?" Kay asked.

"Yeah, how did you-" She blinked and squinted. 'Hold on, do I know oyu?"

"Yup. I'm KionaKina. The real Kay, at your service. And Tori here is PandaChan21. Kristen is SnowKitty. And Maria is Pandinator."

"Oh...my..God!!!" Cat exclaimed, both happy and completely confused at the same time. The Yugioh guys all mangaed to stay up.

"wait, we're in Texas?" Yugi asked.

"How did that happen?" Ryou asked.

"Ask rich boy! His invention did this."

"Hey! Don't blame Seto!" Mokuba yelled.

"It was you idiots that made me mess up the invention in the first place, you underdog."

"Why you-"

"TIME OUT!" Kay snapped, standing in between the two. She looked at Seto. "...I hate you for being so tall..." she muttered.

"Whoa, what's your name?" Jounouchi asked, grinning at me.

"don't even try anything, I have a boyfriend." jounouchi sighed.

"Ain't that the story of my life."

"...the story of you life is having a boyfriend?" Kay asked dryly.

"NO!"

"Moving on. Look, you guys...this is not possible. You all aren't REAL!" Maria said.

"what does that mean?" Yami asked.

"You all are naive characters. A cartoon we watch." Kay nodded.

"Sadly enough, it's true. In real life, guys are nowhere NEAR as sexy as you are." A few of the guys blushed.

"Then how can we be standing here before you?" Jounouchi asked.

"Maybe that invention of Kaiba's you mentioned earlier transported you through the dimensions!" Kristen said.

"Then how do we get home?" Yugi asked.

"Frankly, we don't know."

"Kaiba?"

"I'm not even sure how we GOT here, let alone how we get back."

"YA MEAN WE'RE STUCK HERE?!" Jounouchi yelled. Then he started to sulk. "Aw man..."

"Well...if you're stuck...maybe you can stay with us and attend the school here."

"Good idea, Kristen."

"Who stays with whom?" Maria asked.

"Um...I have room for...up to five people."

"How about Cat, Yami, Kaiba, Mokuba, and Jounouchi?" Tori asked.

"Jounouchi and Kaiba are NOT living under the same roof as me."

"Ok, Kay take Ryou, I can take Jounouchi."

"Ok, Maria."

"I get Yami Bakura!" Tori said.

"and I guess that leaves Yugi to bunk with me! Good thing my brother is an exchange student or else we wouldn't have much room." Kay smiled a bit.

"It's all settled."

"Wait! I don't remember you asking us anything!" Seto snapped.

"Your choice, Kaiba. Either it's stay with us or go out on the street." Seto sighed.

"Fine." Mokuba smiled at Kay.

"Don't mind him. Thanks for offering a place to stay."

"No problem...now if I could just explain to my mom about having four boys staying at my house..." Kay muttered. "Hey guys, since my house is a short walk away, I guess I'll leave."

"Alright, see you tomorrow, Kay-Chan." Kay nodded and walked away. Cat, Yami, Ryou, Mokuba, and Seto followed her.

And so ends chapter one. I hope you liked it.

2 - Shopping...evil

"NO!" Kay yelled. "No, no, no, by the lord above NO!" she screamed, waving her arms. "I will NOT!"

"Kaleigh, it's just shopping."

"I DON'T CARE! You know I hate shopping, mom!"

"But your little friends need clothes. And why didn't you tell me a group of exchange students were coming to live with you?"

"I thought my teacher was joking."

"Oh."

"I WON'T GO! You take them, mom! I'm in the middle of writing in my fanfic."

"Kaleigh Elizabeth Simms (no, that is not my real full name...I wish it was) you are coming and that is final!"

"But mom!!!" Kay whined.

"No buts. These kids are your responsibility. You're lucky Mario is paying for their clothes. But keep up your attitude and it's coming out of your bank account."

"you and I both know that nobody touches that money until I'm ready to go into college, so ha!"

"Don't be a smart mouth."

"FINE! But if my fans grow murderous because I don't update, it's on your head, mom."

"Your fans can wait a few hours."

"More like a few days..." Kay mumbled.

"What was that?"

"Nothing!"

"Now go and make yourself look decent."

"..." Kay smiled a bit and walked away.

About twenty minutes passed Cat was standing outside wearing one of Kay's striped dresses with leggings and black sandals. Seto, Jounouchi, Yami, and Ryou were all wearing whatever they had been wearing when they had popped into the dimension.

Kay's mom was standing there, in some stylish and incredibly colorful outfit.

"KALEIGH!" she yelled. Kay walked down the stairs, a smirk on her features.

"Ready." Everyone stares. She was in a long, black trench coat with a red turtle neck, black jeans, one inch heel boots, a black choker, eyeliner, her hair in a bun, and dog tags.

It was so weird to see her dressed like this.

"Ugh...FINE! I give up, let's just leave already." Kay smiled.

"Alright. Too bad Alex isn't coming. She would comment on how hardcore I love." Kay snickered and followed her mother. Everyone else followed.

They were taking two cars. Kay drove her red Kia with her mom in the passenger seat and Cat, Yami, and Ryou in the back. (Yup, my car is a red Kia and I can drive it, I just need an adult with me. I love it! ^_^)

Mario drove his silver BMW and had the misfortune of Jounouchi and Seto sitting next to each other and the pleasure of Mokuba sitting shotgun.

They got to the mall. It was an outdoor mall and Kay was not happy. She hated...shopping...for...clothes!!!

Her mom actually dragged her into one store, and Mario picked her up and carried her into another.

"YOU ALL SUCK!" she yelled.

"Kay, calm down."

"I still hate this..."

"Kay-chan, why do you hate shopping so much?" Mokuba asked, giving her his cute look.

"Ah, Mokie. Get treated like a Barbie doll for your childhood and trust me, you come to resent it."

"Really?" Kay nodded.

"Oh yeah." So, with every store, the mountains of bags increased. Kay stopped at Starbucks for some relief and got herself a Strawberry frap and bought Mokuba a cookie and Cat a Strawberry frap too.

They sat at a table and enjoyed their treat.

"Kay, do you have issues with your mom?" Cat asked. Kay sighed.

"I love her, but she can be a little crazy. And mom always wanted me to be, like, this perfect prep who dates every hot jock she sees. But I just want to be me." Kay stirred her straw in her drink. "It's like, I have to be perfect for my family. Like a doll or something. This girl who is always in style without a curl or lash out of place. But I don't want that! I want to be with my friends, and write, and do art, and become a CEO someday."

"You want to be a CEO?" Mokuba asked, eyes a bit wide with interest. Kay smiled and nodded.

"It's a little dorky, but when I watched Yugioh, your brother inspired me...and he made me love trench coats." ^_^

"wow...how cool."

"Don't tell him that."

"Alright, I won't."

"Come on you guys!" Kay's mom yelled. "It's been five minutes." Kay sighed and got up and threw out her almost empty cup. Mokuba and Cat followed her and they continued the shopping spree.

Five hours later, they arrived back at Kay's house. She collapsed on her couch, twitching.

"I...hate...shopping..."

3 - Dinner Time

Kay was in the kitchen, cooking spaghetti for her sudden house guests. Mokuba was helping her clean the salad and Cat was cutting up carrots, tomatoes, and celery for the salad.

The spaghetti was almost ready. Kay made the plates of salad and put it on the table and then put three different salad dressings on the table. Mokuba took the seat next to the head of the table, which is where Kay would be sitting. Seto took the other head of the table.

Jounouchi and Ryou were sitting at the Island with high chairs in the kitchen. Cat sat next to Kay and Yami next to Cat and Seto.

So...table is like this

-----Seto
Yami-----Mokuba
Cat-----
-----Kay

Kay piled spaghetti on the red plates and put them on the table. Then took the large pot filled with red spaghetti sauce and put it near the salad dressings. She put forms and napkins on the table, followed by sals plates, and gave herself a spoon.

Everyone sat down.

"Kay, why do you have a spoon?" Cat asked.

"I hate spaghetti this way." Shye took her spoon and fork, twirled the spaghetti on the spoon, and ate some.

"Why do you do that?" Yami asked, tilting his head.

"Probably because I'm European."

"Ohhhhhhhhhh."

And so, they ate their spaghetti. The phone rang when Kay was about halfway through. She sighed and went to pick it up.

"Hello? ...Alex!! Wassup? I haven't seen you since summer. ...oh, the orchestra is in town? Rock on! ...leh duh I'm goin. We've been waiting for this for months. ...yeah, ok. ...don't worry, I've got black...chya. Alright, call me this weekend with the details, ok? ...yes, I love you too, my one and only." Seto, Yami, Mokuba, Cat, and Ryou all automatically looked up. Jounouchi was too busy eating his third helping of pasta.

Kay hung up the phone and saw everyone staring at her.

"what?"

"Is Alex your boyfriend?" Mokuba asked.

"Huh? No! She's my best friend."

"SHE?" Seto asked, staring at her. Kay nodded.

"yes. Oh, you mean the one and only thing? Ha, we're kidding around. I have a boyfriend and I assure you that he is a boy." Everyone was a bit weirded out, but they shrugged it off and went back to eating.

When they were done, Kay cleaned up and collapsed on the black couch and turned on the big screen in the living room.

iCarly was on. She was bored so she decided to just lay there and watch it. Cat and Yami sat down next to each other and Mokuba sat next to Kay.

"what's this show, Kay?"

"iCarly. It's a pretty funny show."

"It looks stupid."

"You look stupid, Kaiba."

"I beg your pardon?" he asked icily, narrowing his eyes at Kay. She poked him.

"Poke!" ^.^

"...uhh..." The phone rang again and Kay picked up.

"Yeah? ...hey Alex...yeah, I finished the update...what do you mean you can't read it? ...oh yeah, I guess I never uploaded it. Ok, I'll wake up early and post it to fanfiction...tomorrow is Saturday...yes it is...YES IT IS!!!" >_< "...ok, I WILL steal your jacket on Monday, bye." She hung up.

"wha?" Mokuba asked.

"My other friend, Alex. I like stealing his jacket. It's fun."

"Really?"

"Mmm-hmm. I spray it with perfume so he smells like a girl."

"That's cruel, Kay."

"So?" she asked, with a shrug. "Alex is used to my brand of evil."

"Interesting..." Kay picked up the phone and dialed a number.

"what are you doing?"

"checking to see if Tori and Bakura are working to create the apocalypse and checking to see if I can get in on it."

"Are you sane at all?" Seto asked. Kay looked at him.

"...define sane." Seto frowned a bit. "Hey, Tori? How are things on your end? Bakura try to destruy the world yet? ...no?! ...you gave him...WHAT?! You know what happens to him in my fanfic!! See? Fandom does not lie. ...WELL TAKE THE PIE AWAY! ...But you...and he...fine. You know what, you're the one who suffers in the end. ...yeah, yeah. Good bye...see ya on Monday." She hung up and got up. "I'm going to play some video games."

"Can I come?" Mokuba asked excitedly.

"Sure. Have you ever played Sonic Riders before?" she asked.

"No."

"Then it's time oyu learned, young Grasshopper. C'mon." Mokuba and Kay raced up the stairs and into the master bedroom, which is where Kay slept.

It was past 10 pm.

Seto walked into the Master bedroom to see Mokuba and Kay asleep on the bed and Futurama was playing on the TV. Mokuba was hugged Kay and she was hugging him with one arm.

With a sigh, he turned off the TV and tucked the two in then went to his bed in the game room.

And soon, everyone was asleep for their first night.

4 - Day at School: Before the Bell Rings

Kay woke up to the loud beeping of her alarm.

She yawned and woke up, walked downstairs, ate a granola bar, drank a glass of orange juice, and went back upstairs groggily. She waked up and put on some jeans and a white T-shirt that said "I Can't Fly Away From You Fast Enough" in blue font on the front and it had glitter and some blue butterflies. (Yes, I have a real shirt like that and I friggin love it)

She twisted her hair up and clipped it with a clear clip and applied her cover up and powder then blue eyes shadow, mascara, lip gloss, and Japanese Cherry Blossom body spray.

Everyone else was still getting ready, so Kay plopped onto the couch and watched Nickelodeon in her boredom. Full House was on and it was rerun of the episode where Stephanie drove the car into the kitchen.

Seto was first to come downstairs in his trenchcoat. Kay stared.

"dude, it's still hot. You're crazy if you wear your trench coat."

"Please, do you think heat bothers me?"

"Clearly you've never been in Texas. Why don't you wear a T-shirt and some jeans like a normal teenager does? When it gets colder then you should wear that outfit...wait, I just thought of something."

"He raised an eyebrow. "What?"

"In that part of the show where oyu guys all go back into the past, you where that in the desert...DUDE! Are you bloody insane?! Do you just WANT heat stroke?" (I HAVE always wondered about that. It's in the desert, and everyone is running around with jackets and capes and whatnot. Irt's like "Dude, what the hell?")

"Uhh..."

"I man, all of oyu, except for Anzu, were running around wearing JACKETS! Something about that is just not right. Not normal!"

"Oh, and YOU'RE normal?" he sneered.

"Pfft, as if. But even I'm not stupid enough to put on a jacket and run around in the desert. I have a little something called common sense, believe it or not."

"Right, whatever." (I feel like such a hypocrite because Kay wears a trench coat during that season)

Mokuba came down next and hugged Kay.

"Good morning Kay."

"Good morning, Mokuba." she smiled. "did you sleep well?"

"Yup. Your old bed was comfortable."

"That's good. So, are you sure you'll be ok here alone? We still haven't been able to enroll you in school."

"I'll be fine."

"Ok. I'll call during lunch to check up on you, ok? and if you need anything, call me and I'll tell my mom or aunt to help you out, alright?"

"Got it!" She hugged him again. Seto stared. Great, he was losing his brother to some random girl. Lovely.

Cat walked downstairs, looking cute in her white button-up blouse and pale blue jeans.

"Morning!" she greeted cheerfully.

"Hi Cat."

"Did you all sleep alright?"

"I wanted to stay in bed..." Kay mumbled, yawning. "School needs to start at one in the afternoon or something."

"Aw, c'mon Kay, if that was the case, we'd have no time for fanart."

"...true..." Cat smiled. "Well, we need to hurry."

"Why? Doesn't school start at 8:45?" Seto asked.

"Yes, and it's 7:30."

"...I'm a genius, and even I do not understand your logic."

"Ok, let me explain. I go to school early so I can hang out with my friends in the library and we rot our brains on the computer." Seto sweatdropped.

"O-ksy."

"fanart beckons, and my RyuuzaShippers call for my RP replys, so let's get going!"

And off they went to school. How they got there, use your imagination because I can't decide whether or not they walk or whether or not Seto can drive them to school in the fanfic. You decide and imagine it.

Either way, it's 8 by the time they get there.

Seto, Cat, Yami, and Ryou get their lockers in G building, the same building where Kay's locker is. (Not that it would seriously work in my school, but whatever)

Kay opened her locker and pulled out some spiral notebooks and a white binder.

"What classes do you have, Kay?" Cat asked.

"First I have gym. Second I have History. Third I have German. Fourth I have Algebra 2. Fifth I have lunch. Sixth I have Oral Interpretation. Seventh I have Chemistry. Eighth I have English 2."

"Cool, I have lunch, English, Algebra, and Chemistry with you."

"Ryou?"

"I have lunch and gym with you."

"Yami?"

"same classes Cat has with you."

"Kaiba?"

"..."

"Hello?"

"...I have the same schedule except for English..." he muttered.

"This is not gonna end well..." Kay sighed. (Don't ask me how Kaiba can have the same schedule as me, he just does)

"Kay-Chan!" She looked and Kristen ran over with Yugi.

"Hi Kristen."

"Guess what! Yugi has a locker next to me. And we have almost the same schedules."

"Really? Kaiba has the same schedule as mine except for one class."

"...oh dear."

"Yah. Well, let's go meet Tori and Maria...I wonder if Maria killed Jounouchi."

"God I hope so."

"Shut up Kaiba."

"Shut up, shrimp!"

"HEY! NOBODY calls my little cutiepie short!" Yugi blushed.

"Um...cutiepie?" they asked. Kay sighed, the only one who understood this. Kristen crossed her arms and nodded.

"Yes, cutiepie!"

"Um...ok..." Kristen tried to tackle Seto and Kay grabbed her arms and dug her heels into the floor.

"KIKI!! Don't friggin start a fight! do you WANT to get suspended?!"

"HE..CALLED...YUGI...A...SHRIMP!!!"

"GET OVER IT!" Kay pulled Kristen away from Kristen. "Jesus Christ, what is the matter with you?!"

"...I don't like it when Yugi is called short."

"He called him a shrimp and shrimps are cute!"

"...that's true..."

"Besides, it's better than calling him a midget."

"Also true." Seto was just completely speechless.

"..."

"Wow..." Yami said. Yugi was still blushing. "Yugi thank God that Jounouchi isn't here. He'd get a kick out of this one."

"Yeah..."

"And thank God Tori isn't here...she's find some way to turn this against me..." Kay muttered. "But, I'd do the same for her so whatever. Let's just go to the library."

"Right!" Kristen said.

"Why are we going there?" Cat asked.

"They have computers there."

"Ohhhh."

Kay handed her ID to the librarian.

"Hello Miss Strong."

"Hello Kaleigh, how are you?"

"I'm ok. I'll go on computer 17."

"Alright." Kay walked a way and sat next to Tori.

"So, have fun with Bakura last night?" she asked. Tori smirked.

"Do you really want to know?"

"No, not really."

"I didn't think so."

Kay typed in a familiar link into the URL.

www.fanart-central.net

She logged in and went to her profile. Kouni46892742 had commented a new line from their Naruto RP and alerted her of an update to her fic "Akatsuki Tales." (Very good story by Kouni, here's the link for interested readers. <http://www.fanart-central.net/story-45032.html>)

Cat took the computer next to her and logged into her fanart account.

She sent her aline for their RP and Kay snickered and typed a response.

"demon typer!" Kay sighed.

"I am not, Tori."

"Yes you are."

"Fine, whatever." She continued typing. Then Kay decided to reread soem of her old fics. She chose Vientos Cambados and started reading. She felt someone ocme up behind them and felt them breathing. It made her uncomfortable.

"You're in my bubble!!" she finally cried.

"What on Earth are you reading? and why the hell am I in it?" Crap crap crap crap crap! She knew that voice.

"A fanfic...a corny romance..." She quickly went to another link. Damn, the gallery was a bad place.

"Oh really? Mind explaining the usage of the word 'love' and my name in the same sentence?"

"Shut up, Kaiba..." Kay mumbled.

"I'd like an explanation."

"And I'd like a pony, we all can't get what we want." She decided to update Mizu Kizuna so she clicked on the link and went through the process then started typing in her update.

Seto smirked.

"I knew you were another fangirl."

"I beg your pardon?!" Kay snapped, standing up and looking up at him, her intimidation very small due to her height.

"you heard me."

"Keep dreaming! I would never be a fangirl to someone like YOU. I am an AzureShipping fan."

"A what?"

"I support the pairing with oyu and Anzu." His eyes twitched.

"The...hell?!"

"Hmph." she crossed her arms. "It's true, now shut up and let me write in peace." she plopped back into her chair and went back to her typing. Seto stood there, eye twitching. Kristen giggled a bit.

"It's true, Ksy wrote a fanfic that was 30 chapters about you and anzu."

"and it's my most popular fanfic EVER! And I'm working on another one that's more dark and seductive and...ooh! I get goosebumps thinking about it!" Kay grinned. "and speaking of it, Tori, you need to read for the love of sweet God!"

"I will."

"You said that last week."

"...and I'll keep saying it until I do." Kay shook her head and sighed.

"So, Kristen, what was with that whol cutiepie thing earlier?" Yugi managed to ask.

"Huh?"

"when Kaiba called me a shrimp."

"Oh, that! Well..."

"Kristen thinks you are adorable!" Kay said.

"KAY-CHAN!" Kristen yelled, blushing.

"Kristen, you're in a library, shh." Kristen immediately started muttering under her breath. Kay snickered to herself. "I love being me."

5 - Day at School: Gym Class and History

Kay sighed as she trudged toward the gym, Seto next to her. "I hate gym..." she muttered.

"I heard you the first eight times."

"I still hate it."

"I know."

"...still hate it."

"ENOUGH!" They walked into the gym and Kay walked toward a set of double doors.

"Boys locker room is on the other side." and she was gone. Seto blinked and went off on a little montage to find the locker room and wound up asked out by about ten girls on the basketball team and headlocked by random guys and one gay guy even flirted with, scarring him for life.

Finally, he was able to get in the locker room, get a locker, and change into the white T-shirt and gray sweats he brought. He walked into the weight room and sat at one of the benches. The girls came in and Kay was the only one not in shorts.

She also wore a white shirt and lighter gray pants.

She sat next to a guy and started to talk with him about some work they were doing in English about a book (or as Kay calls it, the "evil book") called The Hot Zone.

(EVIL! VIRUS! BOOK! Twitches Which I did not even read and I got a frigid B on my exam. WAHAHAHAHA! How I do it I shall never know.)

Seto kept his distance from everyone. He already loathed this class.

"So when's the exam?" Kay asked. The boy, whose name I will say is Ray, shrugged.

"I want to say next week."

"Crap, I stil haven't finished my study guide."

"Yeah, I haven't read the book in forever so i don't know any of the people."

"Pfft, I haven't even read it so what do you think I know?" she asked. He shrugged.

"I dunno."

"Yeah. Do you think we'll do a plate and core work out or benches and squats and core?"

"I hope it's benches and squats."

"Me too." Kay looked at Seto who was just sitting there in his own little world. She put a finger to her lip in thought and decided to test out a theory. She snuck behind him.

"...POKE!" and she janned him in the ribs. Seto's back arched and he yelped and then jumped and up and spun around to see Kay laughing hysterically at him.

"WHAT THE HELL WAS THAT?!" he yelled. She was laughing way too hard to speak.

At that moment, their coach walked into the weight room. Ray tapped Kay's shoulder and told her to get into role call. She stopped laughing and rushed to a spot and sat down on the floor, looking innocent. Seto blinked and stared. Then he walked to the coach and was given a random spot in role call.

"alright, today we're doing five sets of five and then we'll do core work-out at 9:20."

"Yay, core..." Ray sighed sarcastically. Kay shrugged.

"I prefer core over lifting."

"Not me."

"Can we start with squats?"

"Sure." They went to a rack of weights and lifted the 45 IBs bar onto the safety catchers and raised the holds for the bar up below the second line of white tape then raised the bar back up.

"Kaiba."

"What?"

"Find a team to lift weights with. No more than three to a team."

"Whatever." He just stood there.

"Now!"

"I don't know anyone here."

"What about Simms?" he asked, pointing at Kay who was putting some 25 IBs weights on the bar while Ray waited.

"...no..."

"It's either that or you fail, and this class is required to graduate."

"Urgh, FINE!" The coach smiled and walked away. Seto frowned. "Shake it off, Kaiba. You ran a multi-billion dollar company when I was fourteen."

(If I'm right, he was about 14 when he took over Kaiba Corp.)

Seto walked over to Kay, who was spotting while Ray did his squats.

"Three...four..."

"Coach is forcing me to be on your team."

"WHAT?!" Ray almost dropped the bar. She immediately turned and helped put the bar on the holds.

"You CANNOT be on the same team as us, Kaiba. Just no!"

"Well, too bad. Coach said I have to."

"Why do I have to suffer?!" she cried.

"Trust me, the feeling is mutual."

"I feel the need to smach weights into my head."

"If you get a concussion, at least we'll get some peace."

"WHAT?!"

"Kay, calm down!" Ray said.

"You stupid jerk! Take that back!!"

"Make me." She would have pounced on him, but Ray help her back.

"Kay! Cut it out!" A boy named Alex and two other guys came over.

"What's going on?"

"She's gona homicidal!" Ray yelled. Alex also grabbed hold of her and prevented her from pouncing on Seto. He actually took a step back at the sight of her fiery eyes.

And instead of lifting weights, they were trying to prevent Kay from killing Seto and getting herself expelled and/or arrested.

Finally, the coach came in and it was time for core. Glaring daggers at Seto, Kay took her spot and prepared for the ab work outs.

They did numerous painful work-outs until their guts were on fire. Kay was actually ok and Seto, being Seto, was OK. So they were the only ones not moaning in pain.

"Alright, go get dressed." Kay jumpe dup.

"Thank you!" she practically ran out of the weight room. Seto sweatdropped and walked slowly to the boy's locker room.

"so dude, where are oyu from?" a guy asked Seto.

"Japan..."

"Really? You don't like Japanese."

"Yeah, I get that a lot."

"Mmm-hmm."

"Dude, where'd you get that trench coat?" another guy asked. "It's totally hot." Seto gave him a disgusted look.

"THAT'S none of oyu buisness." He slammed his locker shut and left.

Kay was waiting for him near a door that led to the back of the school.

"Took you long enough."

"Hey, it's not my fault some random guy iinterrogated me."

"Whatever, let's just go."

"Aren't girls supposed to take longer than boys?"

"I'm not a girly-girl, I assumed that was obvious."

"Right, right." she rolled her eyes and opened the heavy blue door and walked outside.

A pleasent breeze was blowing, but it was still warm. Kay sighed, hating the weather.

She walked down the gently sloping hill with Seto close behind her. The bell rang and she stopped.

"Why are you stopping?" Seto asked.

"I'm waiting for my friend."

A girl with short, brown hair wearing black and white with a tanned bag walked out of K building.

"Hey Tori."

"Hi."

"You know another Tori?" seto aksed, raising an eyebrow.

"Dude, I know at least four Toris, it's ridiculous."

"I'll say."

"Who's he?" Tori asked, pointing.

"It's Seto Kaiba."

"Isn't that the dude from Yugioh who you're o-" Kay smacked a hand over her mouth.

"Do not even think of finishing that sentence." Kay pulled her hand away and sighed. "Let's just get to History before the tardy bell rings."

"Alright." They walked down the street and came up to a large cluster of portables. They walked to the first one and into a classroom.

A woman was typing at her computer. She had short, silvery hair and wore a nice top and caprice.

"Good morning Miss Bew." She turned around.

"Good morning Kaleigh, Tori." They both smiled politely and Kay took a set in the front and Tori sat in next to her. "and who are oyu?" Miss Bew asked, giving Seto a curious look.

"I'm Seto Kaiba, ma'am. I am a new student here."

"Ah, that's right. Welcome. Um, why don't you take the seat behind Miss Simms." Kay's eyes twitched.

"No...way..." Seto took the seat and Kay slapped her forehead.

"Why me?" she asked. He rolled his eyes and opened a testbook. Tori leaned over and pat Kay on the head.

"It's going to be ok."

"no it is not..." she mumbled, her face still to the desk. Tori smiled a bit.

"Sure it will!"

"...stop being optimistic, it's creepy."

"Yeah, ok." She sat up in her desk and Kay took out her notes and took a sip from the Sierra Mist she had bought before meeting Seto after gym. There were six vending machines near the gym for when people came to watch basketball games.

Sometimes Kay would get one after gym was over and drink it either for lunch or during the day or both.

"Kay, can I have some?" Tori asked. Kay nodded and handed her the bottle. (Yeah, my pals and I share drinks...which is weird because I'm a pretty big germ-o-phob)

"That's disgusting!" Seto said.

"Why?"

"Have you ever heard of backwash?"

"Yeah, big deal. People swap spit when they make out all the time."

"Ok, that's was even more gross."

"What's the big deal? Besides, it's only backwash is you spit back into the bottle."

"...enough..."

"Hey, you started this." Kay took back her Sierra Mist and, just to annoy/gross out Seto, she offered it to him. "Want some?"

"...no..."

"Aw c'mon, it's delicious."

"No."

"And sugary."

"NO!"

"...and it's soda."

"NNNNNNNNNNNNNOOOOOOOOOOOO!!!"

"Seto, would oyu please settle down?" Ms. Bew asked.

"S-sorry, ma'am." He hung his head in shame and Kay was struggling not to laugh at him.

"Heh, what a sap." The final bell rang and everyone took their seats. Ms. Bew took attendance and Kay passed notes with Tori as she did so.

Today was just finishing nots out of the text book. Kay had already started and was almost done, so she just sat back and doodled. Suddenly, a piece of paper landed in her lap.

She unfolded it.

You are a very cruel person...

She smirked and wrote something back.

Why thank you. And you have very nice handwriting. How I hate you for that.

She already could imagine Seto's exact reaction.

He'd stare at the paper, blink, look confused, and then write something back after a minute or two.

Sure enough, she was almost exactly right.

I'm not sure whether to be insulted or flattered.

Both.

"Miss Simms and Mr. Kaiba, please stop passing notes." They both jumped.

"Oh, sorry ma'am." Ms. Bew smirked a bit.

"You two can flirt after class."

"NO WAY IN BLOODY HELL!!!" Kay and Seto yelled. And I mean they SERIOUSLY yelled. Kay stood up.

"I HATE THAT JERK!" she screamed, pointing at him. "HE'S RUDE, SELF-CONCEITED, AND A KNOW-IT-ALL!" Seto stood up and pointed an accusing finger at Kay.

"SHE'S A WEIRD, RANDOM, LOUD-MOUTH WHO NEEDS TO GET HER HEAD OUT OF SPACE!" he shouted. The door to the classroom right next to theirs open and the teacher peeked there head in.

"What is going on?! I can't teach my class because of your yelling." Seto and Kay stood there, blushing. Ms. Bew cleared her throat awkwardly.

"Um...Mr. Kaiba, Miss Simms, would you please go outside?" It wasn't a request, it was an order.

They walke doutside silently and stood there. Seto glared at Kay and was shocked to see a terrified look on her face.

"I'm so dead...I'm so dead..."

"Um...are you-" She looked at him.

"I'M GONNA GET DETENTION! I JUST KNOW IT!!!" She gasped. "Or worse...suspension..." she grabbed him by the shoulders and shook him- hard. "I CAN'T GET DETENTION OR SUSPENDED!!! I'VE NEVER GOTTEN IN THAT KIND OF TROUBLE IN MY LIFE!!!! IF THAT HAPPENS I'LL NEVER GET TO GO TO COLLEGE AND FOLLOW YOUR EXAMPLE AND BE A SUCCESSFUL CEO!!!!!" she cried.

Seto grabbed her shoulders to get her to STOP.

"OK, even I'M not spazzing this much about it, and I'm ashamed at something like this happening. First off, take a deep breath and stop yelling, that might only make it worse." Kay nodded and took a deep breath. "Now...let the breath out!" She breathed out.

Seto sighed.

"Alright, now stop freaking out. If oyu've never been in much trouble before, maybe you'll get some slack."

"I can't ruin my record!! It's spotless!!" she cried. (I'm not sure if that's true, but knowing me and how innocent I appear to most adults, it should not have a mark.)

"Wow, the fact that I'm trying to calm you down shocks me." She bit her lip. The door opened and Miss Bew walked outside. She had a cold look on her face.

"Never, in all my years of teaching, have I dealt with such an outburst...and from one of my good students, none-the-less. And you, young man, I know you're new here, but surely your old school had dicipline and you would not behave in this way."

"Ma'am, forgive us...it was just what you said that set us off."

"That's hardly an excuse."

"I know. But let's just say, when it comes to me, Kay has a very...hot temper."

"I can tell."

"And, as you can see, she's pretty much wiggling out, thinking she'll get detention or suspension."

"Well...I guess I'll let oyu two off this one time only! But it was embarrassing to explain what the yelling was about."

"Sorry." Seto put a hand on Kay's head and ruffled her hair. "We'll be good."

"Hey!" She tried to smack his hand away. "Cute it out! I'm not five!"

"you might as well be." Kay glared up at Seto and mumbled under her breath. Ms. Bew sighed a bit, worried about how this school year would progress.

They walked back into the room and the bell rang in ten minutes. Kay packed her stuff and a girl with shoulder length, dark hair with a provocative smile in a short red dress and black shoes walked up to Seto.

"Hey." He gave her an emotionless look.

"...hi..."

"well, since oyu clearly don't have taste in trash," she tossed her head in Kay's direction, "maybe you and I should go out sometime."

"No."

"Aw, c'mon. No need to be shy."

"I'm not."

"I'm Emily."

"I don't care. Let's go, Kay." He walked out the door. Kay laughed at Emily's shocked face.

"Better luck next time, dog." She snickered and ran after Seto. "That was awesome!"

"Pfft, why would I go out with some slut I don't know?"

"Man, did oyu see her face? I swear, I hate that girl! Ooh, and next is German." Kay got a dreamy expression on her face. "And that means I'll get to see Kody."

"Who?"

"A guy I like." Seot shrugged.

"Whatever."

O_O The chappie...it's done! *Shocked*b]

6 - Day at School: German and Algebra II

Kay walked into the portable and the teacher was at her desk, typing on the computer.

"Good morning, Frau Johnson." she turned and smiled at her.

"Hello Kaleigh. 'Who's this?'"

"Seto Kaiba. He's the new exchange kid."

"Oh, right. Nice to meet you. I'm Mrs. Johnson."

"Hello, Mrs. Johnson." She smiled again. Frau Johnson was a nice lady with bushy dark blonde hair, glasses, and dark eyes. She looked like she was in her 30's. Kay dropped her bag and purse at a desk and sat down on the floor near the door and started writing in a random spiral. Seto stared at her.

"What are you doing?"

"Writing."

"Yeah, didn't see that coming. What I meant was, why are you on the floor writing instead of sitting at your desk?" he asked. Kay shrugged.

"I like the floor."

"Why? It's filthy."

"I always lay on the floor at home so it's kind of a habit."

"You are just weird, Kay."

"What's wrong with that? Who wants to be normal like everyone else? Weird is different, different is a good thing to me." She went back to writing. Seto blinked.

"Um...alright."

"Seto."

"Yes, Mrs. Johnson?"

"Why don't you take the seat behind Kaleigh?" Kayu looked up.

"B-but, doesn't K- somebody sit there?"

"I wanted to move Kody anyway." Kay groaned in frustration and Seto smirked. A girl with glasses, thick black hair cut short, and tanned skin sat next to Kay.

"Be strong, Kay, be strong."

"Waah..." Kay said sadly.

"C'mon, Imouto-san." Seto blinked.

"did you just call her 'little sister'?"

"Yeah, what of it?"

"You look nothing alike."

"Are you being racist?!"

"Judith, calm down."

"No, I will not! Who is this guy?"

"Seto Kaiba."

"You mean from-"

"Yup."

"oh." Judith stood up and looked at Seto. "I don't like you."

"Good for you." Kay yawned.

"OK, shut up you two."

"What's up with you, Kay?"

"I'm tired, and I just remembered I have a test next period so now I'm sad."

"Ooh, that sucks."

"Tell me about it. And Mr. Sunshine right there is in all but one of my classes."

"Are you serious?"

"Yup."

"Woooooow...." Seto rolled his eyes.

"You two are just weirdos."

"Like you're one to talk, Kaiba. You have a fetish for dragons, heights, and gravity defying trench coats."

"What?"

"EXACTLY!" He sweatdropped.

"Wow...just wow..." he said, at a loss for any other words. Kay shrugged and went back to writing, trying to indulge herself in one of the few things that provide her true joy in this world. Now if only she had a computer...typing felt more...poetic sometimes.

And right now, typing would feel far better.

In a quiet place, like the library, she would watch her fingers dance on the keys and hear the familiar clicking and it would lull her into a state where she knew that she was doing as she should and it was a place of peace and serenity.

At times like this, she was silent, taking in all the joys of writing had to offer. Writing offered a little more than drawing did. It brought more peace to her, it let her dream more.

The bell cut off her thoughts and she growled. Any loud form of interruption sent her spiraling down to reality...how she loathed reality.

"What's wrong?" Judith asked her. Kay sighed and shook her head.

"Nothing...I was just forcibly dragged back to reality." She stood up and went to sit at her desk. Now her moment was gone and she could not remember what she was going to write next...and she was right in the middle of a bloody sentence. "God!" she snapped, glaring at the spiral.

A hand snaked by and snatched it.

"Hey!" She turned to see Seto, opening it. She tried to get it back, but he held her back at arm's length. "Give that back!"

"What is it?"

"Mine! Now give it back!!" she snapped. His cobalt eyes scanned the notebook pages with interest. She finally gave up, knowing she could not get the spiral back in this way. "Fine, it's a book I've been writing for the past year. I'm on the second draft. Now may I please have it back?" she asked, struggling to sound polite instead of hostile.

Seto smirked at her.

"I'll give it back later." She pouted.

"C'mon!" she whined, sounding very childish. He chuckled a little, unable to help it.

"Keep that up and I'll mistake you for a 5-year-old instead of a 15-year-old." Kay sighed and turned around, not willing to deal with it anymore. She pulled out a small novel from her bag and turned to a page in the middle and began to read.

Today they were simply working on their workbooks, but Kay was done with hers and they did not have a copy for Seto yet, so he was allowed to skip the chapter anyway, which was not a big issue to him.

He spent his class period reading her draft. It was only 20 something pages so far, but it was interesting.

The opening was written in a more...intruiging way. It was more enticing and made him want to read what goes on. It was opened up in a short but mysterious prologue that really captured you. Short, sweet, and to the point, he was determined to discover who the mysterious spawn of the darkness was and who Carlinya was.

And then it moved on to the main character and described parts of who she was and her friend. It was persona, the way it was worded, voiced with fondness like a mother describing her child. She was pretty good.

(I'm not trying to be egotiscal, honest! But so many people have complimented my story, I'm trying to imagine Seto is one of them so please don't say I'm conceited or whatever because I honestly am not trying to be)

He handed her the spiral. "It's good." She blushed.

"What?"

"I said it's good."

"...uh...thanks?" she said, not sure what to make of this rather unexpected compliment. Seto shrugged and sat there, not sure what to do next. Kay packed her spiral back into her backpack slowly, still kind of lost in her mind.

Then she sat back up and continued to read her book.

"Kaleigh!" She looked up.

"Yes, Mrs. Johnson?"

"Can you take these papers to the front office for me since you're finished with your work?"

"Sure thing." Kay took the packet and left the portable. Seto's eyes darted to her bag.

"I wonder..." He took it and opened the front pocket. Inside was a clipboard, some spiral notebooks, a ruler, a pack of markers, and a one small book titled "Her Spanish Boss." He had already read the blue spiral, but there was another one and it was also blue.

He took it out and started to read.

There was a page with some stuff on it.

"Couples in this story: FushichouShipping, NekoShipping, EternalShipping." He blinked, not sure what that meant. He started reading it. So far, nothing interesting. Just Kay hanging out with her friends.

Apparently, he and the Yugioh cast were there and he was hosting a virtual tournament. A hand snatched the spiral out of her hands and he looked up at a ticked off Kay.

"What are you doing with this??" she demanded.

"It was on the floor and I was reading it to see what it was, I didn't know it was yours."

"Uh-huh, so why is my backpack open when I KNOW I closed it??"

"Anyone can open your backpack." She glared, her eye twitching.

"Hey Kaiba!" Yami called, running over with Cat.

"Where's Kay?"

"Still in classroom."

"What's up with your face?" Cat asked.

"She slapped me."

"She WHAT?!" Cat and Yami asked in unison. At this moment, Kay pushed past them, a scowl on her face.

"Um, Kay?" Cat asked. She didn't answer. She didn't even look at them. Only kept stomping through the grass, her eyes focused on J-Building in the far off distance.

"Stupid Kaiba! If he hadn't of stolen my spiral I would not have slapped him and almost got sent to the office." Kay's scowl only deepened and she kept on walking, her hands clenching into tight fists and her shoulders stiffening rigidly.

"Hi Kay!" one girl called from the crowd of people, but Kay said nothing. She just kept going.

By the time she got to her classroom, she looked downright pissed off and had a glare that read "talk to me and I will kill you".

Seto, Yami, and Cat all arrived in the classroom and Kay looked for one moment, narrowed her eyes at Seto, then looked straight ahead.

"Why is she so mad at you?" Cat asked, confused.

"I took one of her stories and read it."

"You did? Dude, no wonder she's pissed."

"Care to clarify?" he asked. Cat shook her head.

"She'll get mad. You have to be in our little fandom group."

"Your what?" Seto asked dryly.

"Our fandom group."

"Right..." The bell rang. And Seto, Cat, and Yami were all conveniently seated around Kay like so.

Desk Seto Desk Desk Desk
Desk Kay Desk Desk Desk
Yami Cat Desk Desk Desk
Desk Desk Desk Desk Desk
Desk Desk Desk Desk Desk

Sooooo...for the entire period, Seto kept feeling something hitting him from behind. Gee, I wonder...

The lesson was on exponents today. They had time to do their homework. Kay finished quickly and turned it into their teacher for five extra points and then kicked Seto again as she sat down. He nearly broke his pencil in frustration...and pain.

The bell rang again.

"Kay, please stop being mad!" Cat said. "You already inflicted pain upon Kaiba, isn't that enough?" she asked.

"Let me think." She pretended to think. "No!"

"Kay, why don't we just go to lunch and eat-"

"I didn't bother to pack a lunch. I'm just going to hang out in the library."

"You're allowed to do that?" Cat asked in amazement. Kay nodded.

"Yup."

"Cool!" Kay smiled and Cat pointed at her. "Now THERE'S the Kay we all know and love." She laughed.

"OK, OK, you made me laugh. But I'm still mad at Kaiba."

"Yeah, I figured as much. So, are you updating any stories on FAC?" Cat asked.

"I can't update Sunshine and Moonshine without the DVDs so I can watch the episodes...I might update Wanting to Heal the Pain or Mizu Kizuna."

"AWESOME!" Kay grinned and shrugged.

"I guess. Now let's go before lunch is over."

"Ya!" They raced out of the classroom. Yami chuckled as he watched them go and Seto shook his head.

"Dorks..."

"I think it's kind of cute." Seto raised an eyebrow at him.

"Why would you think that?"

"They're kinda like kids. It's rather endearing, really."

"Wow, five dollar word. You get a hold star..." seto said sarcastically. Yami glared at him.

"Don't make me kick your butt in duel monsters."

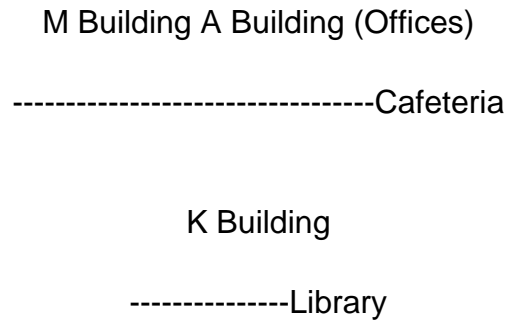

"You might be able to beat me in a duel, but if we seriously fought foot and fist, I'd kick your butt."

"Want a bet?"

I'M DONE! Will Yami and Seto fight? Heh...what do you think? Wait until next chappie to find out.

7 - Day at School: Lunch

Yami and Seto stood in front of each other in the courtyard. It was a large area outside surrounded by buildings of the school. Like so.

There were blue benches and tables scattered aimlessly around the area where students sat and talked while eating their lunch. A few little trees also dotted the vicinity.

They were pretty much being ignored, seeing as most people were rushing for the character to beat the lunch frenzy in the lines. Fifth lunch happened to have the most people, which flat out sucks.

Seto cracked his knuckles.

"You might be the king of Duel Monsters, but you couldn't beat your way out of a paper bag."

"Oh yeah, rich boy? Like you're so tough."

"I'm ready to prove you wrong."

"Bring it!" Seto lunged and socked Yami in the gut. He got the wind knocked out of him and fell backwards.

"Care to take back what you said?" Yami sat up and glared.

"Over my dead body."

"Fine." He growled and got Seto's left cheek. (EEP! Not the face! lol, jk!) Seto kneed him VERY close to a bad area to be kneed and Yami doubled over.

"THAT was a dirty trick." Seto rubbed the side of his face.

"Yeah?" Yami kicks him in the shin.

"YEAH!" They rolled around, beating up each other and yet, somehow, not REALLY getting bruised or anything. But they did get a few injuries on their arms and legs from the ground.

By now, a few people had gathered and were cheering for either Yami or Yugi.

Kay and Cat arrived in the courtyard with Maria and noticed the crowd.

"Hey, what's going on?" Cat asked. Maria blinked.

"I'm not sure. Let's check it out!" The three girls ran over and pushed their way through the crowd. They gasped when they saw Seto and Yami.

"What are they doing?!" Maria cried.

"They're going to be in SO much trouble!!" Cat cried. Kay pushed past more people and into the small circle left open for the two boys.

"Hey, HEY!" She grabbed them by the collar of their shirts. "BREAK IT UP!" And right on cue, a teacher walked in.

"WHAT IS GOING ON?" she shrieked. Everyone froze. "All of you students, GET GOING!" The crowd dispersed almost instantly, leaving Seto and Yami on the ground, fists frozen in the air and Kay, Cat, and Maria standing next to them. "Could someone please explain to me what's going on?"

"Um, well...we came here and saw these two rolling around fighting so I tried to yank them apart..." Kay said.

"you two!" She pointed an accusing, manicured nail at Seto and Yami. "You are suspended for three-

"Wait! They're exchange students and were...homeschooled before!" Maria and Cat nodded.

"They didn't know any better. PLEASE, can't you go easy on them?" Maria asked. The teacher frowned firmly but saw the three puppy dog pouts and finally gave in.

"Fine, they won't be suspended, BUT they will get a week of detention." And with that, she walked away. Kay sighed with relief and turned to Yami and Seto with her hands on her hips.

"Are you two sane?!" she snapped. "I assume even you idiots know fighting in school is NOT allowed." Yami and Seto glared at each other and stood up, dusting themselves off.

"He started it." Kay glared.

"you two are acting like Kindergardeners. Now say you're sorry or else detention is going to be the least of your worries." They could tell she was serious. Yami and Seto frowned at each other.

"Sorry..." they mumbled. Kay rolled her eyes.

"Close enough..." She looked at Seto and noticed something. "Kaiba! You're bleeding!" She pointed to his arm and there was a bad scrape on his elbow. (seto's wearing a black T-shirt under his trench coat. Why? ...I dunno)

"Huh? Oh, look at that. I'll just walk it off."

'no way, you're going to the nurse." He rolled his eyes.

"I'll be fine, mom." She glared.

"No excuses now MARCH! Yami, are oyu bleeding too?" she asked. He examined his arms and legs.

"Not as far as I know. I'm just a little scraped, but not too badly."

"OK, come on!" Kay grabbed Seto's arm and pulled him to the nurse's office, followed by the others.

"this is dumb, Kay." Seto winced as the nurse sprayed some medicine on his cut and bandaged it.

"Shut up!"

"Wow, she's very forceful." Maria and Cat nodd.

"She's got strong maternal instincts, like me." Maria smiled. "And a bad temper." Soon, Seto's scrape was all patched up and they were free to go. Kay walked into the attendance office, got a library pass, and jotted down their names.

"Let's go! We only have fifteen minutes to use the computers, thanks to you two."

"Don't blame us."

"I AM blaming you, Kaiba."

Cat sighed. "Great, they're at each other's throats again."

"Stop it, both of you!" Maria frowned. "Let's just go." They walked to the library. Kay handed her ID card to the librarian and took a computer. Cat sat next to her.

"Kay? Still mad?"

"Nah, I guess not." She shrugged. "I'm annoyed your future boyfriend and Kaiba got detention." Cat IMMEDIATELY turned bright red.

"What?! But he- and I- and the...but...Kay!!" She nsickered and logged onto Fanart.

"Your blushed reveals all."

"Yeah? Well Kaiba and you are totally into each other." Kay's face turned a shade of pink.

"I highly doubt that..." she mumbled. Kay worked on some stuff and checked reviews on fanfiction. "Oh, look. Forced Along the Path of Discontent has gotten ten reviews for the last chapter. I can update now, awesome."

At this moment, the bell rang. Kay sighed.

"Typical." She restarted the computer and collected her ID. A boy with tick, dark hair and glasses wearing a dark green jacket came up to her.

"Ready for Oral Interpretation?"

"Unfortunately. I don't feel like working on our Duet today."

"Sorry, Kay."

"Yeah, yeah."

"Hey, have you seen Ryou?" Cat asked. "i remember he said he had our lunch."

"Um..." Ryou came up behind them.

"Hello!"

"Oh, hey Ryou. I didn't see you in gym."

"I think I have a different coach."

"well isn't that just peachy?" Kay sighed. "OK, I'll see you all later. Kaiba, Alex, let's go. Oral Interp. beckons us." She walked out the door and they followed her.

8 - Day at School: Oral Interp

Kay walked into the small room of the portable behind the school.

"Hi Kristen, Yugi." Kay smiled and waved at them. They waved back.

"Hey Kay." She walked over to the teacher, a medium sized Asian woman in glasses with her dark hair in a ponytail sitting at her computer. Seto and Alex walked into the room right as Kay finished talking to the teacher.

She went to take her spot in front of Kristen and pulled out some paper form her bag and turned around to talk to her. Alex took his seat in front of Kay and pulled out a marvel comic book and started to read.

Seto sighed and walked over to the teacher.

"Excuse me ma'am, I'm Seto Kaiba. I'm your new student."

"Yes, Kaleigh just told me about you. I'm Ms. Smith."

"She did?" Seto asked, looking a little surprised.

"Yes. Just take a seat anywhere you want. Oral Interp is pretty self explanatory. Right now, the class is working on Duos.

"...what?"

"You'll see the performances starting next week. Right now, just watch them and see what they do."

"Right." Seto walked over to the desk next to Kay and sat down. Yugi was behind him and Alex and Kristen were diagonal from him. He noticed that Emily girl was in this class as well. He groaned inwardly.

A boy with an orange sweatshirt and long blonde hair walked into the room and stood in front of Seto.

"dude, you're in my desk."

"I don't see your name on it."

"alex, tell this guy to ge tout of my desk."

"Sorry, I'm too busy loving the Silver Surfer in all of his silver glory..." Alex said dreamily, stroking a comic. Kay turned to stare.

"Alex, there is a little thing called therapy I think you should consider."

"Hey!"

"Obsession is not healthy."

"It's not obsession, it's love!"

"no, the line is 'It's not obsession, it's fandom.'"

"Same difference."

"Not really."

"KAY!"

"What is it, Nick?"

"Tell this pretty-boy to get out of my desk." Seto stood up.

"Pretty-boy?!" Kay grabbed his hand and pulled him down into the desk.

"Ixnay on the ightingfay!" she snapped. Then she looked at Nick. "Look, he's new, and Ms. Smith says he might need someone to help him in this class. Just take another desk."

Nick frowned but did as he was told. Seto blinked and looked at Kay who turned back to talk to Kristen as if nothing happened. Seto sat in silence, not sure what else to do.

Finally, the final bell rang and Ms. Smith walked to the front of the room and said some stuff to the class. Seto pulled out a book and began to read.

"Seto." He looked up.

"Yes ma'am?" he asked.

"Why don't you critique Alex and Nick's duo along with Kay and Kristen? They can explain it to you."

"Um...ok?"

"Good." She handed him a sheet of paper with the word "Peer Critique" on the top and some other stuff.

Kay took it out of his hand and wrote something on it.

"OK, come on losers, let's get this show on the road. I can't wait to hear you sing, Alex." she smirked and he frowned.

"Kay, be quiet. You will never hear me sing!"

"Yes I will, you have no choice."

"Well, I think we may cut it out and-"

"Aww, c;mon." She pulled a puppy dog face. "Pwetty pwease?" she asked, blinking her eyes innocently. Seto had to resist laughing hysterically when Alex caved.

Wow, he never wanted to laugh. But seeing a guy cave so easilly to a puppy dog face was hilarious!

But who was he to talk? Mokuba had convinced him to let him stay up later or take a day off from work with that dreaded face on more than one occasion.

"Hello? Earth to Kaiba." He snapped out of his thoughts to see Kay waving her hand in front of his face. "It's time to go critique."

"Right." He stood up and followed the group. Yugi was also joining them to see what they were supposed to do.

They went into the G building and into the stairwells. Kay and Kristen sat down and Seto and Yugi did the same, Yugi sitting next to Kristen. Kay "accidently" pushed them closer.

They blushed and then turned to look at her.

"Whoops, that was an accident." She blinked innocently. Seto smirked a little bit.

"OK, so what od we do?" Yugi asked.

"It's simple." Kristen held up the paper. "We watch Alex and Nick perform and we right down things they can improve on. You have to do 3 general critiques and three specific."

"What are they performing?" Yugi asked.

"A duo. It's a partner event. Two people perform a piece but there's a catch. You cannot look directly at your partner or make any physical contact."

"Wow, really?" Kay and Kristen nodded.

"It looks really cool if they do a good job."

"Our job is to help them improve their duo to its best." Yugi nodded and Seto did nothing.

"OK, time to begin. Go for it, guys."

Alex and Nick performed a comedical duo of the movie The Grinch. Yugi and Kristen did not give much critique because they really liked it. Kay and Seto, however, were a tag team of critics.

Kay was firm but not, you know, mean. Seto, on the other hand, was punched in the arm by Kay twice for his harshness.

"God, I think you might have caused permanent damage." Seto rubbed his arm.

"You deserved that, Kaiba. I mean GEEZ, have you heard of being polite?"

"Define polite." She glared. "Fine, yes. But-"

"No buts. Next time you critique, if you make someone cry, I'm gonna kill you!"

"I'd like to see you try."

"Don't encourage me." They glared at each other. Kristina and Yugi laughed a little.

"Those two act like brother and sister." Kristen nodded.

"Yup, maybe worse." They walked back into the portable and had fifteen minutes to spare. Kristen and Kay worked in a blue spiral.

Seto read his book, and Yugi talked with Kristen.

Kay looked at him.

"Wow, you are so boring, Kaiba."

"I beg your pardon?"

"Why don't you socialize?"

"Why should I?" he asked. She rolled her eyes.

"So you don't look like a total freak."

"Hmph, you're one to talk." She poked him in the side.

"What was that?" Seto gave a small yelp. He couldn't help it. Kay stared and laughed at him.

"Man! That right there is hilarious."

"WHY must you do that?"

"It's really funny to see your reaction. Besides, I do it to everyone. Watch." she leaned forward on her desk, reached around, and poked alex's sides.

He practically shrieked and turned to see Kay laughing hysterically at him.

"Kay, why do you like torturing people so much?"

"I have no clue, Ki-Ki. It's just that much fun." Kristen smiled and shook her head a bit. Yugi laughed a bit.

"Kaiba, you should have seen your face."

"Shut up, Yugi."

The bell rang. Kay gathered up her stuff and handed Kristen the blue spiral Seto had stolen earlier.

"Try to get something written, Ki-Ki."

"OK, OK, don't pressure me."

"I'm not, I swear." They walked out of the portable and then Kay suddenly got an idea. "Oh Seto." He looked at her and failed to notice Emily staring at them. She took his arm and smiled up at him. "Ready for Chemistry, sweetie?"

"...what?" he asked, staring.

"Chemistry." She grinned. "You know, our next class."

"Um...sure?" he said. Kay smirked and saw Emily's face grown to pure jealousy and anger. She stood on tiptoe and kissed him on the cheek.

"well let's get going." She led him out of the room. Seto was just too shocked to do anything. Kristen and Yugi were shocked too.

"Kay...what did you-" Kristen began when they left the room but Kay immediately snickered.

"MAN! That was so great."

"Kay?" Alex asked.

"Did you SEE Emily's face?!" she asked.

"What are you talking about?" Kristen and Alex asked.

"I did that to piss off Emily. She was flirting with Seto earlier and called me trash so I thought I'd get a little pay back by making her think Seto and I were dating."

"...you are so devious sometimes, you know that?" Alex asked.

"What do you think?" she asked, smirking and putting her hands on her hips.

"I have to go, later you two." Alex left. Seto was still in shock, even though he heard her explain.

"Kaiba? You OK?" Yugi asked.

"...I'm weirded out..."

"Oh please, I could have made out with you instead. Would that have made you more comfortable?" Kay asked. Seto turned red and shook his head.

"NO!"

"Alright." Kristen and Yugi looked at each other and then shrugged.

"So, Christmas Break is right around the corner." (I'm just changing the time if I mentioned it before. I feel like making it close to Christmas)

"I can't wait!" Kay smiled. "It'll be my first Christmas with the house to myself."

"Yup. Are you having your Christmas party again?"

"Of course! I just need to go out and buy some stuff to make."

"Awesome. Well, Yugi and I should get to class."

"OK." Kay hugged them. "Later lovebirds." She walked away and they blushed.

"KAY!" She laughed and winked at them.

"Bye." Seto followed her to J building for Chemistry class.

I updated, MIRACLE! A little Fushichou moment. I'm almost done with the school day, honest!

9 - Day at School: Chemistry and English

Seto and Kay entered the chemistry classroom. A bunch of the students were standing and chit chatting. She walked to a seat in the back and sat next to a tall, skinny girl with long, reddish brown hair, dark eyes, reading a manga called "Ceres".

"Hey Amanda."

"Hi Kay." She smiled at her. Seto stood there, feeling like an idiot for about the zillionth time that day. The teacher walked in. She was fairly short with short, light brown hair, and brown eyes. She looked really nice and had a pleasant air around her.

"Excuse me-"

"Miss Nihill." Kay was standing there. "We have a new student."

"Oh?' she looked at Seto. "Well, hello. Welcome."

"Um...thank you."

"I'll be happy to help him get settled."

"That's very sweet of you, Kaleigh." she smiled and Seto stared. What is with this girl? Is she bipolar or something??

Kay took her seat and Seto, in a daze, sat in front of her. The class began in a few minutes and today was a quiz day. Seto looked over his shoulder at Kay, who was writing answers rather quickly. She finished first and walked to the front of the classroom.

It was then he noticed some form of paper taped to the wall.

Silver Test Tube Award

100 Club

He saw her name on a few of these papers. One on the silver test tube award, one on a 100 club paper. He blinked. What the heck?

Kay took her seat and handed Seto some paper.

"Here."

"What is it?"

"My notes over what the quiz is over. I'll explain it if you can't figure it out." Seto read the notes. They were very easy to understand. Science was one of his strong suits.

"It's not that complicated." Kay raised an eyebrow at him.

"Well, good." The quizzes were all turned in and class ended after doing a worksheet.

Kay walked out of the room quickly, Seto following close behind.

"So, you're a chem nerd." Kay frowned.

"am not!"

"Oh, please. Since when are you so sweet to me?"

"Well, you dealt with me flirting with you so I could piss off Emily. I guess I owed you one."

"You just like being number one in that class."

"So what if I do?" she asked.

"Well, too bad it won't last." Kay froze and looked at him.

"Excuse me?"

"I'm determined to beat you out in that class."

"I get 100 in that class. I'd love to see you beat that."

"I can and I will." (Yes, I do get a 100 in Chemistry. Call me a nerd if you want, it just means I'll be rich and successful and those who frown upon education will scrub the floor at MacDonald's)

"Prove it."

"fine."

"Well you two have gotten close. Kay and Seto looked to see Tori and Bakura standing there, smirking. Then they looked at each other and jumped away.

"Shut up, Tori!" Kay snapped. She laughed.

"you know i'm just kidding you."

"No you aren't."

"...good point." Kay sighed.

And since everyone has a different English class and I'm damn tired, we're just gonna FF to the end of the day. Sorry English class, YOU ALWAYS WILL BE MY FAVORITE!!!

Readers: Uhh... Sweatdrop

...koff koff. Moving on!

The final bell rang (At long friggin LAST) and students poured out of the buildings. Kay walked with her friend Tori from History class, blabbing about anything of interest.

"So, only six people bought tickets for the winter dance?"

"Yup. They cancelled the whole thing."

"did the school already pay to hire the DJ?"

"I don't think so. If they did, sucks to be them."

"Pfft, yeah." They continued til they got to the end of the cafeteria where a mob of students moved to get to the bus loop. "alright Tori, I'll see you tomorrow."

"Bye." They walked away. Kay strode out through the parking lot. This weekend, Maria, Kristen, Yugi, and Jounouchi were coming over for a sleepover. Tori could not come because she had, apparently, been grounded for something that made no sense.

Kay wondered faintly why she had been grounded. something about pudding and a monkey...

"HEY!" She stopped and turned around. Cat, Yami, Seto, and Ryou were all running towards her.

"Oh yeah, there are people who reside in my abode." Seto glared.

"Thanks for waiting for us!"

"Sorry, I was spacing out."

"There's a shock."

"Need I remind you that I can throw you out to the street any day or send you to live with my mother?" Kay snapped. Suddenyl, she realized something.

"Oh my GOD! I forgot about-AGH!" She took off running. Everyone blinked.

"Hey! Get back here!" Seto yelled, chasing after her. They ran up the back road, past the four way intersection, into the gated subdivision, down the streets, and to the familiar house. Kay opened the front door and bolted in.

"Mokuba!" He peeked his head out of the kitchen.

"Yes?" She sighed with relief.

"I was afraid I'd forgotten to give you a key to the house."

"you remembered, Kay onee-san." Seto stared.

"Kay onee-san?" he repeated. Kay smiled and pat his head.

"Yeah. I wanna adopt him as my new little brother."

"No."

"Then I'll just marry oyu."

"No."

"Which one is it?"

"Neither."

"C'mon!"

"No."

"Pwease?"

"No."

"Pretty please?"

"No."

"Kaaaaaaaaaibaaaaaaaaa..." Kay whined, putting on her own famous puppy dog pout. Seto groaned. That face could even melt him.

"N-" She grabbed his arm and pouted. "...grr...." was all he said. Kay laughed and hugged Mokuba. Seto sighed as Cat, Ryou, and Yami walked through the door.

"What was that about?" Cat asked.

"I wanted to make sure Mokuba was here and safe."

"Oooooohhhh!" everyone said. Kay nodded then ran up the stairs.

"I call the shower first!"

"WHAT?!"

...no...more...full...school...days...sorry this chappie was rushed. I'm tired and I gotta go to bed in 6 minutes.

10 - Saturday

Kay woke up and stretched. She beamed. Today was one of her favorite days of the week: Saturday! She jumped up, ran to her closet, and put on jeans and a comfortable black T-shirt with "Rock my World" written in fancy gold letters.

After brushing her hair, brushing her teeth, washing her face, and applying a little make up, Kay raced down the stairs. Everyone was lounging around down there, munching on some form of breakfast.

"Good morning!" she greeted cheerfully. Everyone looked at her. Cat smiled.

"Morning, Kay. You seem to be in a good mood today."

"It's Saturday! How can you not be in a good mood?"

"Trust me, it's possible." Kay looked at Seto.

"C'mon, sourpuss, lighten up! No school today or tomorrow! That's something to be happy about."

"Whatever." Kay sighed.

"Honestly, are you EVER in a good mood?" she asked. Mokuba walked downstairs.

"Morning, Nii-sama, onee-san, everyone else." Kay hugged him.

"Morning, otouto-san."

"Why are oyu already dressed, Kay?" he asked.

"Because, today we're going out!"

"What?" Everyone asked.

"To Barnes and Nobles, Gamestop, and Target!"

"I thought you hated shopping." Kay wagged her finger at Yami.

"Only for clothes, shoes, and just about anything remotely girly...unless it's for trench coats and boots, but those things are hardcore."

"Ok..."

"I got a bunch of money for my report card and now I wanna go and spend all of that money on books, video games, and DVDs!"

"What do we do?" Ryou asked. "We don't have any money."

"Speak for yourself."

"Kaiba, how can you have any money? As far as the world is concerned, you're not real."

"Look, Kay. I have my ways of getting money."

"Di you do something illegal?" Kay asked, giving him an uneasy look.

"Define 'illegal.'"

"Kaiba!" she shrieked. He held up his hands defensively.

"I'm joking, would you relax?" Kay sighed.

"I'm serious, if you have cash, where'd it come from?"

"Bank accounts. It turns out, my account exists."

"How is that possible?"

"I think my invention merged our dimensions and we're technically real."

"But this is not a world obsessed with a children's card game that is only awesome because there are duel disks that create 3-D holographic imagery."

"I do not mean completely merged, just slightly."

"Ah, ok."

"So...how do we get to the stores? You can't drive legally, Kay."

"and since when has that stopped me?" she asked.

"Kay!"

"Relax, people. Kaiba."

"Hm?"

"You can drive legally, right?"

"I'm not driving us." Kay rolled her eyes.

"That's not what I meant. Do you have a license?"

"Then sit in the car and shut up. I'll drive, you just sit there and look pretty until a cop pulls us over."

"I'm not old enough t-"

"You look like you're twenty!"

"...thank you?"

"Whatever. I doubt we'll be pulled over. It's just for back up." Seto sighed.

"We're going to get arrested, I just know it."

"Shut up. Now, who wants to come?" I can fit four other people in the car. All of you if someone is willing to sit on someone else's lap." Everyone raised their hands. "Ok, Cat can sit on Yami's lap." Kay smirked.

The two turned red. "W-what?!"

"Just get dressed. All of you. You have one hour." Kay plopped on the couch and turned on the TV while she waited. iCarly was on and then an episode of Zoey 101. "Man, I hope they finally hook Zoey and Chase in that season finale and end the show already."

Seto and Mokuba walked into the room. Seto wore a black T-shirt with "Daughtry" written on it and some dark jeans. Kay stared at him.

"I want to rip that shirt off of you, Kaiba."

"What?!" he cried, turning red.

"Daughtry is GOD!" Mokuba laughed at Seto's expression and sat next to Kay. He wore a blue T-shirt with a long sleeves white shirt under it and blue jeans. She hugged him.

Seto sighed and sat next to Mokuba. Cat was next to walk into the room wearing a white shirt with blue and pink flower and butterfly designs on it and a denim skirt.

Yami and Ryou walked in. Yami wore a gray shirt and black pants with some cool accessories. Ryou wore a white shirt with .hack on it and jeans.

"Ok, guys, let's go."

"Kay, you weren't serious about me sitting on Yami's lap...were you?" Cat whispered. She laughed.

"Nah. But feel free to do that if you want."

"No way! It's awkward and..."

"I gotcha, Cat. Mokuba is the smallest of us. He could probably sit in Kaiba's lap or something." They walked out into the garage and Kay put on some sneakers and opened the garage door while everyone else got some shoes on.

She hopped into her Kia and waited for everyone to get in.

Cat sat between Yami and Ryou in the back. Seto sat next to Kay and Mokuba sat on Seto's lap.

"Ok, let's go! We're meeting Kristen and Yugi at Barnes and Nobles."

"You called them?" Yami asked.

"Yup! And now I have something fun to do."

"What do you mean?" Cat asked. Kay backed out of the driveway and closed the garage then turned and drove up the street.

"C'mon, Catty, you've read my fanfics. You should know." She looked thoughtful.

"Matchmaking?"

"Exacta!" Kay turned off and exited the subdivision then drove down a road, past their school, and to a light. "Kristen has had a crush on Yugi for some time now."

"How is that possible?" Ryou asked.

"I thought I explained the fact that you all are actually an anime me and some of my friends watch."

"It just seems so bizarre." Kay turned at the green light and chuckled a little.

"you think that's bizarre? What do you call the millennium items?"

"Oh, not this again." Seto rolled his eyes.

"Point to you, Kay." She smiled.

"Kaiba, you should believe in the millennium items by now. I mean, you went back in time."

"Excuse me?" Seto asked.

"What season are you guys on?"

"Huh?" Yami, Ryou, Seto, and Mokuba asked. Kay paused and thought for a moment.

"What event was occurring before you were teleported to this dimension?"

"Well, nii-sama had just finished hosting the KC Grand Prix."

"Oh, well you all are going to love what happens to oyu next."

"What happens?" Yami asked.

"I'm not going to spoil it. In fact, I'm gonna hide those DVDs so you all don't know what the future holds."

"You've got to be kidding."

"No, Kaiba-sama, I'm not." she pulled into a parking space outside of Barnes and Nobles and killed the engine.

"Well, here we are." Kay grabbed her black purse with a white "K" on it and hoppe out of the car. Everyone else followed her and she locked the doors.

"Are we early?" Yami asked, looking at his watch.

"Yeah. Kristen and Yugi should be here in about ten, fifteen minutes."

"So what do we do in the meanwhile?" Mokuba asked.

"Starbucks?" Kay offered. They walked into the coffee shop attached to the Barnes and Nobles and looked over the menu.

Kay chose her usual Strawberry frap. Mokuba chose a brownie and lemonade. Cat chose a double chocolate frap. Seto picked a tall black coffee. Ryou chose green tea. Yami chose an iced mocha.

They sat down outside and sipped their drinks. Mokuba chomped on his brownie happily. They were about halfway through with their treat when Yugi and Kristen walked up to them, smiling.

"Hi guys!" Kristen wore her hair in a rare ponytail. She had a denim jacket, matching jeans, and a white tank top. Yugi wore a black muscle shirt with "Yugi" printed on it and jeans.

"Hey you two."

"Ready for B and N?" Kristen asked.

"After we're done with our drinks, we'll get going." They nodded and everyone finished up and threw their trash away.

"Now, onward!" Kay yelled. They marched into Barnes and Nobles (not literally) and spread out.

Kay, Kristen, and Cat went for the manga. Kristen checked for the latest Fruits Basket manga. Kay read Yugioh and Galaxy Angel and grabbed the last Chobits volume she needed for her collection. Cat read Yugioh, amazed at the awesomness of the manga compared to the 4Kids dubbed anime.

"There's actual blood and violence and no imaginary guns! That is so friggin awesome." Kay pat her shoulder.

"Welcome to the blessing that is manga."

Yugi and Yami read some books on Egyptology. Ryou read a few novels in the mystery section and Seto just went through shelves. Mokuba went into the kids section and started talking with a girl about his age about some of the series that were on display.

"Hey, Kay." Kristen tapped her shoulder. "Is that Maria and Jounouchi?" Kay looked up.

"Oh, it is. Hey guys!" she called, waving. Maria and Jounouchi looked at them, smiled, and walked over.

"Hi guys."

"What brings you two here?" Kay asked.

"Just browsing."

"Nice."

"Mmm-hmm."

"Well, do you want to hang with us? We're going to gamestop and target after we finish up here."

"Sure."

"Hey, how'd you get here anyway?"

"I drove."

"without an adult?"

"The cops won't pull us over." Kay laughed.

"Way to go, Marie-chan." The four girls read manga while Jounouchi went off somewhere else (more than likely to read anything close to porno).

"Hey Kay!" she looked up at Mokuba.

"Yeah Mokie?"

"Do you mind if I hang you guys?"

"Of course not." Mokuba sat next to them and Kay handed him a Fruits Basket volume. "I dunno if you'll like Fruits Basket, but I find it pretty good."

"Cool!" He started reading. After an hour or so, the group took their books to the cashier and bought them.

"Oh wow!" Kay ran off.

"Kay!" Cat yelled after her friend dumped her large pile of manga and romance novels into her arms. Kay came back with two large books: one was completely gold with a colorful bird on the front, three shiny red "gems" and "Egyptology" written on it.

The other was green with a lovely little pattern in the green and an elaborate sketch of a dragon on the front and "Dragons" on it.

"I've been meaning to buy these two books and today they're on sale!"

"Good, now take your mountain back." Cat dumped the books back into Kay's arms. Seto watched them and rolled his eyes.

"Geeks." After making their purchases and dumping the stuff into the car, they drove across the road to Gamestop.

"Yeah! Now THAT'S something worth spending money on!" Jounouchi yelled.

"Hey, you guys can try out a Yugioh game if oyu want." Yugi blinked.

"We're in video games too?" he asked.

"Yup!" Kristen smiled. "It's really cool."

"It sounds cool!"

"Oi! Lovebirds!" Kay yelled. "Ya coming or not?" Yugi and Kristen blushed but ran into the store with them.

Lucky for them, the store was pretty much empty. and because it was pretty small, this was a huge relief. Kay ran for the PS2 shelf and started searching for anything good that was priced reasonably. Kristen joined her search. Maria checked the XBox shelf. Cat blinked and just looked around at random games. Yugi and Jounouchi ran around, looking at everything, murmuring in interest.

Yami browsed, occasionally picking up a game and examining it. Ryou picked up a magazine from gamestop and read it. Mokuba looked at the Gameboy Advance and Nintendo DS games.

Seto just stood there, silent and taciturn. Kay walked up to him, carrying DDR: Supernova 2 in her arms.

"Something wrong, Kaiba-sama?" she asked.

"I'm not interested in these games."

"Why?" she asked.

"I run a game company."

"so? There's always fun in trying some new games." Kay took his hand and pulled him to a shelf. She grabbed a game and handed it to him. "Ever try Sonic Air Riders?" she asked. "It's mad fun!"

Seto stared at the game, not sure what to say.

"And Godzilla Melee is fun! Oh!" She took his hand and pulled him to the PS2 shelf. "Kingdom Hearts!" She pushed it into his hands. "GOD!"

"You think everything is God."

"No I don't! I don't think getting new clothes is Godly. I don't think broccoli is Godly."

"I was being sarcastic."

"I know." She smiled and went off. Seto watched her go and stared at the games in hand. He then looked at the shelf.

Kay started to hand the game to the man behind the cashier when Seto snatched it from her and set it down along with another PS2 game and a Gameboy Advanced game Mokuba had chosen.

"We'll take these." The man nodded and scanned the games. Kay looked at him.

"I could have p-"

"Here." Seto handed the man the money.

"Thanks, have a good day. Come back again." He nodded curtly and moved so Kristen and Yugi could buy a game next. Seto reached into the bag and handed Kay Supernova 2.

"Take the game and don't question me." she blinked and stared at it. Then she hugged it.

"Yay!" Kristen walked over to her.

"So, you replaced Supernova 2?"

"Uh-huh!" Mokuba looked confused.

"Replaced?" he asked. Kay laughed a little.

"Yeah. See, I was doing a DDR marathon with Supernova 2 and I was trying to beat a challenge but it was really hard and I kept failing. After a while, I got so pissed, I kicked my PS2 and scratched up the game and now it doesn't work." Mokuba's jaw dropped. (Yes, I really did do that... -_-;) "I have anger issues sometimes."

"We've noticed." Kay shrugged and smiled at Seto.

"Hey, what can you do?" she asked.

"you guys done?" Maria asked.

"You couldn't find anything?" Kay asked. She shook her head. "Thne I guess we're done. To Target we go!" They walked out of the store.

"Hey Kaiba?"

"Yeah?"

"What game did oyu buy?" Kay asked.

"Sonic Air Riders Zero Gravity." Kay's jaw dropped and she stared at him.

"No way! You lucky bastard!" Seto tried not to smirk.

"It looked interesting."

"I will steal that game from you and play it!"

"I bought you Supernova 2."

"That's not enough!" She made a grab for his gamestop bag and he held her back.

"No way."

"C'mon!" she whined. "I wanna play that game!" Everoyne watched them and laughed.

"Those two are funny to watch." Jounouchi smirked.

"Hey Kaiba, looks like you got yerself a girlfriend!" Seto glared at Jounouchi.

"Shut up, mutt!"

"YEAH!" Kay yelled, taking off her shoe and throwing it at his head.

"Ow!" He fell over and she retireved her shoe.

"These things make great weapons."

"Leave it to Kay to make a shoe a weapon." So, the gang went to Target and then back to Kay's house. Yugi, Kristen, Maria, and Jounouchi decided to spend the night.

"Hey Kay?"

"Yeah?"

"why didn't you invite Tori to join us?" Maria asked.

"I tried calling her but the line's always busy."

"That's weird."

Meanwhile...

"Bakura! Are you STILL on the phone?"

"Yeah, why?" he asked.

"Who are you talking to for five hours?" Tori snapped.

"My lover." He went back to the phone. "sorry sweetie. What time am I picking you up?"

"...do that pie have my cell phone?" Tori asked, pointing.

11 - Yugioh Marathon!

Sunday came rolling around and the gang awoke.

"What do you guys want to do now?" Kay asked after eating breakfast with Cat, Kristen, and Maria. They all shrugged.

"Why not have an anime marathon?" Kristen asked. Kay smirked.

"We could watch Yugioh DVDs and show the guys how annoying they really are in the 4Kids dub." The girls all laughed.

"Kay, that's genius!"

"Heh, I know."

"Let's go and wake them up!"

"OK, Kristen you wake up Yugi. Maria, you wake up Jounouchi and Ryou. Cat, you wake up Yami. I got Mokuba and Kaiba." The four girls split up.

Cat crept into Yami's room and crept close to him. She inhaled.

"GOOD MORNING, YAMI!" she yelled into his ear. He yelped and fell to the floor. Cat giggled and Yami looked at her groggily.

"Was that necessary?" he mumbled. She nodded.

"Uh-huh!" He sighed.

Kristen went to where Yugi was sleeping. She started shaking him.

"Yugi?" He continued to sleep. She shook him again. "Yugi." He still would not wake. She took him by the shoulders and held him so it was like he was sitting up. Then, she started shaking him violently so his hand bounced back and forth like a bobblehead. "YUGI!" she yelled. He awoke with a start.

"Wha? Huh? Whozzat?" he asked in a sleepy daze. Kristen smiled and let go of him.

"Time to wake up."

"Ok, mommy..." he said sleepily.

Now, Maria crept up on Ryou and Jounouchi. She smirked and cracked her knuckles, and evil glimmer in her eyes. This was going to be fun. She took a pot and cooking spoon from the kitchen and held the pot close to the boys' heads.

"One...two...three...WAKEY WAKEY!" she yelled, banging on the pot with her cook spoon.

KONG! KONG! KONG!

Jounouchi and Ryou woke up, screaming and hugging each other. They looked at each other than screamed again and released each other. Maria giggled.

"Wow, that was fun!"

Finally, Kay crept into Seto and Mokuba's room. She lightly shook Mokuba.

"Mokie, wake up!" she whispered. He rolled over and looked at her with sleepy eyes.

"Onee-san?" he asked. She smiled.

"C'mon, kiddo. Time to wake up." He yawned and sat up.

"Why? What's going on?" he asked.

"I gotta wake up your brother."

"Oh, I'll do it."

"No, no. I'm going to have a little fun with this." She snickered and Mokuba looked at her worriedly.

"Kay...what are you going to do?"

"Just have a little fun." Mokuba stood up and took a few steps back. "Ok, ready, set..." she jumped on sleeping Seto's back and pulled a little at his hair. "KAIBA-SAMA!" She began poking him rigorously in the sides.

He woke up, nearly screaming in shock. When he looked to see Kay on his back, he seemed both surprised and like he was totally expecting this of her.

"...what are you doing?" he finally asked.

"Waking you up."

"Why?"

"Cause! We're having a Yugioh marathon today!" He stared.

"What?"

"C'mon!" She, literally, pulled him out of bed and dragged him out of the room. Mokuba followed them to the living room. Kay pushed Seto on the couch and ran back upstairs to grab her DVDs.

Everyone else was already sitting on the couch or on the floor. Kay returned with a stack of DVDs in her arms.

"Ok, which one should we start with?" Kay asked, mostly referring to Maria and Kristen and Cat. But Jounouchi chose to make his comment.

"I WANNA SEE A BUNCH OF EPISODES STARRING ME!!"

"You're an idiot..." Seto said.

"What was that, rich boy?!" Jounouchi asked.

"You're an idiot."

"Down, boys."

"Why not watch the beginning of Battle City?" Cat suggested.

"Good choice, Catty Cat." Kay popped in the DVD and sat down.

They watched Yugioh and the guys were in shock.

"I can't believe I'm portrayed as a less manly idiot!" Jounouchi cried. "Damned 4Kids!"

"There are no guns?" yugi asked. "But that makes the show less threatening." Kay nodded.

"Yeah..."

"Well, at least they still have guns in that episode starring me." Jounouchi glared.

"Lucky..."

"Megalomaniac." Seto narrowed his eyes.

"Well, the show is good for laughs. For example." Kay pointed at the screen. "INVISIBLE GUNS! And then there's Bakura and Pie-"

"YOU started that?!" Ryou cried. He grabbed Kay by her shoulders. "do you have ANY idea how much torment he puts me through with that pie?!"

"Um...no..."

"Torture..." Ryou said before sinking back to his seat. Everyone stared.

"O-kay."

"But where is Death-T?" Yami asked. "And the drugs and alcohol and gangs?"

"and why is Pegasus ALIVE?" Jounouchi yelled.

"Season Zero was the hardcore season that was never dubbed. Kristen crossed her arms and scowled.

"Stupid 4Kids..." she mumbled.

"And Pegasus is alive because gouging a man's eye out and having him sit there, bleeding to death, is considered inappropriate for the younger audiences."

"You've GOT to be kidding."

'nope! 4Kids sucks!"

"Tell me about it..."

"but it's still fun to watch the episodes and make fun of oyu guys. Like Kaiba, your speeches and the fact that you're always posing."

"I beg your pardon?" Kay stood up and cleared her throat. Then she struck random poses.

"I am going to beat Yugi blah blah blah win back my title blah blah blah forget my past blah blah blah duel disk blah blah blah card games blah blah blah!" Everyone, except Kaiba, laughed.

"Oh yes, funny..." Seto muttered. Kay giggled.

"lighten up! There's also the Yami/Hikari yaoi jokes." Everyone stared. Kristen smacked her forehead.

"Kay, no! you CAN'T show them that!"

"but how can I resist? My favorite one is the one of Bakura and Ryou."

"Huh?" Ryou asked. Kay did the weirdest/funniest/scariest thing where she imitated what it;d be like if Bakura and Ryou ACTUALLY wanted to hook up. It's kinda weird to write and imagine so I will spare oyu all and just let YOU tihnk on it.

Ryou was twitching and rocking himself.

"Happy thoughts...happy thoughts...happy thoughts..." he told himself.

"I think you traumatized him."

"So I did." Everyone laughed nervously.

And so, the marathon continued until four thirty that evening. By then, Kristen, Maria, Jounouchi, and Yugi had to return home.

Kay started to make tacos for dinner with Cat and Yami's help. Mokuba set the table for them, and Seto sat on the couch, watching TV. Ryou made himself some tea and that pretty much covers it. Kay put the food on the table and called everyone to eat.
