The 12 Days of Christmas - InuYasha Style

By MelMuff

Disclaimer & Author's Notes: I don't own InuYasha whatsoever. It respectively belongs to Rumiko Takahashi. This is a song filk that I created using the song "The 12 Days of Christmas". I did a ReBoot one 2 years ago and I thought about doing this one 1 year ago. I just never got around to doing it until now. I started working on this Oct. 22 and it's finally completed. I hope everyone enjoys it. ^_^

Reference:

If you happen to be confused about any of the verses, I've created this reference guide to help you out. Miroku is typically groping Sango's butt and asking every woman he meets to bear his child so the first verse is perfect for his lecherous habits. Sango typically uses a gas mask when in a miasma or poisonous fog is around. Myoga is a flea and likes to suck blood so he is a flea that bites. Shippo's usually has toys that can also become weapons like the spinning top. In the video game "InuYasha: The Secrets of the Cursed Mask", he can be seen in a certain random event giving Ishimaru a firecracker. I find Sesshomaru to be very stoic so of course he wouldn't give anything anything. InuYasha is always rude to Kagome and he'd never share his ramen. LOL Sacred arrows could be referred to both Kagome and Kikyo so I left that verse at normal arrows. Saimyosho are Naraku's poisonous insects. Koga's demon tribe hunt animals to eat and would typically have the bones left over after they finish their meal. Kikyo and Kaede are priestesses. Their purpose is to heal the sick and injured so a priestess would typically have healing herbs with her. Kagura takes a feather out of her hair and transforms it into a larger feather that she always flies off on when traveling. Rin loves picking flowers. I find she also loves to make them into head wreathes.
