

Angel in trouble

By NekoDeidara

Submitted: October 5, 2007

Updated: July 17, 2008

One story that I love to tell is how any Angel can be helped by us normal people

Provided by Fanart Central.

<http://www.fanart-central.net/stories/user/NekoDeidara/48896/Angel-in-trouble>

Chapter 1 - Angel down	2
Chapter 2 - Helped but not quit safe	3
Chapter 3 - little trouble	5
Chapter 4 - Dreams that haunt	8
Chapter 5 - Living Night Mare	10
Chapter 6 - Surprise That Kills	12
Chapter 7 - Fight forever	14
Chapter 8 - War and Love	16

1 - Angel down

One Angel, I thought I was alone but I suppose I wasn't. Hi I'm Kino and this is how I became friends with a human named Lisa.

Up in the sky not able to see anything except other evil angels that won't leave my terrorie. I began to fight them off one by one but it wasn't easy. BAM! I got hit from the Back then in my stomach. Pretty soon I was falling and the Evil had won. The height of the fall was to much to even move my wings but I tried to move but still couldn't do anything then I finally hit the ground.

An hour later I found myself in a house and my wing was bandaged. A girl came out of no where and told me not to move so I didn't.

"How are you today sir? You've been asleep for days." She said with a smile on her face.

"I'm...fine." I said still looking around the room.

"Where am I? Who are you & how did you know I was...." I stopped but then said something else trialing off the subject. "And ...why?...Why did you help me most people are afraid of us Angels." I said looking at her confused.

"Hi I'm Lisa I was passing by when I saw you fall...I couldn't have just left you there. I'm the village nurse and I help anyone that is in need." Lisa said to him putting a new bandage on him.

" Pleasure to meet you I'm Kino.OW! careful please those wings are fragile....ok not really but it does hurt." I said wincing.

"Don't worry you'll be fine just stop squirming your worse than my lil brother was on bath day. And I want you to stay in bed for awhile ok?" Lisa told him as she finished bandaging his wing.

"But I have to get back to my..." I started to say when she cut me off.

"No buts I know you want to get back home but you must stay off this wing until it heals trust me you try to fly with your wing like this it'll give in and it won't ever work again. So listen to someone who knows what she's saying ok?"

"But.... Fine" I said finally giving in to her girl look.(you know that look that girls give you that makes your skin crawl)

She left the room and I when she wasn't anywhere in site I got out of bed and got my sword and left out the window.

"AHHHH!!!!!" I screamed and fell over.

" I thought you wouldn't have listened. Go back into the house until I say other wise got it?" She said to me as I got back up.

" Your good you know that?" I told her as I climbed back in the window and put my sword down and sat on the bed but then eventually fell asleep.

The next day I was woken up at least 9:00a.m in the morning by the smell of eggs, bacon and toast that were right next to my bed with a note that said

~Dear Kino

I have to go to the village and do some things around town don't try to leave and enjoy your breakfast.

Signed Lisa~

Put the note down and ate the food she made for me and then went out side to take a look around when all of the sudden...

To be continued...

2 - Helped but not quit safe

When suddenly an Evil Angel Came from the sky I ran behind a tree to keep safe. He landed right in front of Lisa's house. I didn't move until he flew off and I knew it was safe to come out. "What are they doing down here?" I thought to myself as went back inside to go lie down still feeling a little weak from a few days ago. When I awoke a few hours later Lisa was just coming into the room to check on me. "How are you feeling today Kino?" She asked him as she replaced the bandages. "Better thank you." I responded. "That's good...your wing its...healed." She said to me with a surprised look then back to a normal face remembering that I was an angel and the injuries don't last long. "Yah that's how it is with us Angels...I guess." "So would you like to come to town with me tomorrow and look around?" she asked me as she put the medical stuff away. "I suppose...if I can leave the room that is." I responded in a playful voice. "Oh quit, you know I'm right about letting your wing heal but tomorrow we'll have the whole day to spend together. By the way there were some men in the town looking for you they said they're names were Hirochi (Hiroshi) and Telikashi. I didn't know what to say so I didn't tell them anything...though I'm not sure if that was a good idea they looked worried about you." Lisa said fixing her hair. "Those names why do they sound familiar...wait not them!" I said and shot up. "I can't be here none the less stay here I have to go." I told her as I grabbed my sword and hooked it to my belt. "Why?" Lisa asked running in front of me to stop me from leaving. "Because those are the names of the guys who knocked me out of the sky. The ones who wounded me in the wing. I have to leave and get more help to stop them from destroying the sky kingdom." I said moving her out of the way. "But can't you at least ..." she stopped having nothing to say, nor respond too. "If it makes you happy I'll come to visit you when I'm done ok?" I reassured her. Then of course there was trouble the village. "Never fails." I said to myself and headed toward the village. And when I got there it was a big mess good and bad angels everywhere. "Perfect" I said to myself, then started to fight the evil away. But of course, always a problem that strikes. A little girl was trapped in a house that had caught on fire, But Hirochi got in my way I started to fight him and noticed the little girl had fainted from the heat so I pushed Hirochi away and went to the house that the little girl was in and started to look for her. Then I noticed a little figure on the floor and I went over to it. Lucky for me it was the little child. I picked her up and ran outside. As I stepped out of the door the house clasped and I pulled out my wings and flew the rest of the way to the safety of the meadow where all the villagers were and her parents ran up to me and I gave them their daughter and went back to help the others fight the enemy off. Finally the Enemy gave up and Retreated like cowards. I was happy that they had left. That's when I decided to stay in the village awhile at least until I knew they'd be safe from anyone like the Fiendish angels. After everyone was safely returned home I collapsed from exhaustion and some of the villagers came to my aid. They brought me water and made sure I was okay then the leader of the village came up to me and said, "I'm Ren Herono, You and your friends have saved our town from destruction how can we repay you?" "You already have by helping me just now." I said standing up. "If I may ask will you stay and protect our village from invaders? We could use some protection until our troops come back from war clean up?" He asked me. The little girl that I had saved earlier came up to me and said. "Please Mister Angel, you saved me and I want to thank you." I looked around at the villagers...(man was I put on the hot spot) and said I'll stay as long as I can but when I need to leave to help my own people..." I said then stopped. "You may leave when you must and help your own village in the sky." The leader said to me with a slight smile. "Thank you sir I will be here when needed until I must go," I said as I bowed to him. "I must be going." I said to all the people and then left back to Lisa's house. "Lisa? Are you here?" I asked the air as I made my way back in her house. “Kino! Your back and your safe...wait I thought you had to leave?” She asked me as she watched me put my sword in the room that I was staying in. “I had a change of heart...lets just say all it took was a little girl.” I told her as I sat on the bed and moved my hair out of my face. “ What do you mean? By the way how did the fight in town go? Is everyone in town okay?” She asked me with a worried look on her face. “ They’re all ok. Actually the only one that got even anywhere close to getting hurt was the little girl.” I said to her. “ Oh you mean little Jessie ...yah she’s been known to get herself into trouble a lot...actually she’s the only little girl in the village all the other girls are 10 years or older. But at least she can find ways to keep herself occupied and she’s very helpful when it comes to working on gardens and cleaning rooms. Let me know if you need anything I’ll be in the living room.” Lisa said leaving the room. “ I’ll just go on a walk.” I thought to myself as I climbed out the window and then I heard Lisa say,” You know there are such things as doors.” “ I know I just think it’s a waste of time to get to the door when a window is a lot closer.” I said playfully and started to walk off toward the forest when Telikashi jumped in front of me. “ What are you doing here?” I said angrily reaching for my sword when I realized I left it at Lisa’s house in my room. “ Now, now Kino Clam down I’m just here to tell you Hirochi is terribly injured but I wonder how that happened.” He said holding his sword at his side as if he were going to swing it at me. “ Well if you two would have just left the town alone that wouldn’t have happened now would it. I taunted being cautious of him. “ Well now you know we need the town jewel to take over your village. Oh Come on don’t be such a sour apple we’re just trying to help our village as well. Which is for some reason under the earth in the core.” He said to me with an angry look on his face.

3 - little trouble

“ Well you guys always did complain that it was too cold up here and you said you wanted it to be warmer. So Suzerain’s was just giving you what you wanted.” I said with a joking manner. “ Well you won’t be laughing when I’m finished with you.” Telikashi said holding his sword out then swung at me with his sword but missed and hit the tree behind me and getting it stuck. “ Oh well look at the time it was nice talking to you but I really must be going.” I said as I left and headed in the sky and hid behind a cloud. “ Oh come now Kino don’t do this you know this isn’t the way things were supposed to be. Why don’t you come and work for us again its been different without you.” He said flying up after me and started to look for me. “ Not a chance, being on the side that I’m on now has given me things I’ve never had before, your side had just always brought me pain and sorrow. And I regret joining your side.” I said making my voice echo in the clouds. “ Now, now you know that’s not true. It was just a few tests...but I would like to know what did you do to the Suzerain to get him to let you be on his side?” He said looking around. “ I did nothing but ask for forgiveness and he gave me a second chance that your side wouldn’t ever give me.” I responded. “Well that’s how it is with us Malicious Angels. Nothings ever fair on our side and you know it. So just show yourself and I’ll kill you fast and easy.” He said in an evil manner. “ No thanks I think I’ll pass on that. Not like I want to be killed after promising a village I’d help them out.” I said slowly leaving and finally made it safely back to Lisa’s house and went inside. “ What happened out there? You look tired. ” Lisa asked me as she handed me a glass of lemonade. “ Here this should cool you off.” She said to me as I took the glass and drank it. “ I ran into some trouble on the way...that’s all though I think Telikashi will be back here when he finds out I’m not in the clouds anymore.” I told her as I put the glass down, got up, and got my sword and put it away in my belt. “ I have to go and find Telikashi before he causes anymore trouble in town.” I said as I left. “Be careful.” Lisa said as I disappeared in the forest. “ Telikashi! Show yourself!” I yelled as I walk in an open meadow area. “ Finally. I thought you were cowarding on me Kino.” Telikashi said as he jumped down from the tree. “ I wasn’t. I had to get my sword.” I said pulling my sword out from my belt and put it in front of me. “ Finally you want to fight with a fair warning. I’m so glad we can have a civilized fight without any interruptions.” Telikashi said as he pulled his sword out from his sword holster. “ So what are we waiting for?” I said looking at him. “ Well I thought you were suppose to go first. Oh well.” Telikashi said as he lunged forward and swung his sword at me. I blocked it and the fight began. It seems to have gone on forever. Finally I got him down. His eyes widened as I put the sword closer to his neck. “So are you through playing hooky with me or do I have to kill you” I said to him as he panted. “ Fine you win. But me losing won’t stop the Dark side from getting what they want.” He said staring at me with anger in his eyes. “ No the good side always wins. If you ever read the stories.” I said to him removing my sword and picking him up by the collar. “This story will be different. I can promise you that seeing as the hero or main character will die before his comrades can even help him.” He responded back. “ What do you mean?” I asked him looking at him with a confused look on my face. “ Well for one this will let you to know to never mess with the dark side again.” Telikashi said as he grabbed his dagger and got me in the stomach. I dropped him and fell to the ground clutching my stomach tightly. “ Told you, Kino the good side will never win.” He told me as he went to hit me again and almost got me on the back when all of the sudden he got stopped by an arrow that got him in the arm. He turned around to see the villagers on the other side of the meadow standing ready and armed with bows and arrows faced toward him. Knowing he couldn’t do anything he flew off covering his arm and disappearing into the clouds. The villagers ran over to me and picked me up and brought me to the village nurse, which was Lisa. As soon as she saw what had happened she got her bandages and medicine and started to bandage me up. "What happened?" she asked me as she washed the wound off with warm water. "I got tricked that's what. *Sigh* I shouldn't have let my guard down like that." I said wincing. "There you go that should do it." She said as she finally got done bandaging me up. "I need to go and find Telikashi I have to stop him again he might get to people in the village." I said standing up but then fell. Lisa caught me and put me on the bed and told me I needed to get rest so I fell asleep. The next day I awoke once again to the smell of food but this time she brought it in my room and was waiting for me to get up so we could eat together. "Good morning sleepy head." Lisa said to me as she helped me sit up. I thought we could eat breakfast together today. "Okay...I guess. Hey Lisa..." I started and she looked at me. "Thanks for helping me and thank the villagers for they're help as well. That was really nice of them to help me out like that." I said as she gave me a plate of food. "I will but first lets get something in our stomachs. Careful it's still hot." Lisa said getting herself something to eat as well. "Thanks it's really good." I told her as we ate. Then we finally got done and she picked the dishes up and cleaned them. After she was gone I got up to stretch. Then I looked out the window to see my friend Kerooto waiting outside. I opened the window and went outside and went up to him. "Hey Kero! What are you doing here?" I asked him. "Well Suzerain was getting a little worried and wanted to know how you were doing." Kero said to me. "Well I'm fine...for now. But he'll be happy to know that we were able to save the people of this village." I told him rubbing my wound. "Well that's good...what happened to your stomach it looks like you got hit." He said with a worried look on his face. "Yah but I'm ok. Actually if it weren't for the villagers here I would have been killed." I told him smiling. "Oh. Well its nice to know your okay I'll report back to the Suzerain that your okay." He said as he flew off and disappeared into the clouds. The next few Days were boring. I got better fast and I was watching over the city. There was a crash sound that came from town I hurried to see what it was. But when I got there... there wasn't anything wrong. So I just went back to where I stood guard. So once again it was boring...again. But then a few days later I heard the sound again. I flew to where the sound came from...but still no one else saw or heard it...it was like there was a little demon or something in town causing trouble. So when I heard it again I flew around to see if there was a little annoying pest and of course. It was Chivo the little henchman...or he looked younger from the last time I saw him. I went over to where he was causing trouble between to kid. "Chivo" I said glaring at him. "Oh...uh...hee hee him Kino...what you doing here?" He said backing away as if he knew what was going to happen to him. "I was just...uh leaving bye" he said jumping off the child and of course he just had to drag the child up then drop him I flew up and caught the kid. But I hurried and put him down and went after Chivo. "Chivo!" I said angrily as I drew closer to him. He made a quit turn sending me to hit a wall but lucky for me I remembered a move the Suzerain showed me I turned one wing left and the other right then flapped really hard. It stopped me. But I lost Chivo. "I'll get you Chivo I promise you that." I said to myself as I made my way back to my look out spot. A few days later Chivo was back for another fight. But this time I snuck up on him and grabbed his little tail and pulled him away from the person he was trying to harm. "So you think your funny don't you?" I said giving him a death glare. "Oh...ummm...do...I think I am...so how have you been doing?" he said nervously. "Nice try Chivo trust me theses people will be safer after I throw you in the trash." I told him showing my sword. "Gulp...ummm... now now lets not be hasty." He said staring at the sword nervously. "Don't worry I'll put your tricky little mind at peace" I said raising the sword then all of the sudden I heard a cry for help and gave Chivo a glare then dropped him and left. "OW!!!" Chivo yelled then started to run off thinking to himself "~that was a close one thank goodness there are more than just one of us. ~" I found Lisa lying on the floor of her room I ran over to her to see what was wrong but when I reached her she...disappeared. "It's a Trap" I said to myself then turned to see if anyone was there. "Well well well look who finally decided to show up. " I heard a voice say then turned around and saw Hirochi standing behind me with his sword in his hand. "

Hirochi where is she?!" I said angrily. "Where's who...oh you mean the girl...well I was going to hold her as a hostage but she got annoying so I got rid of her." He said giving an evil smile. "What did you do with her?!" I yelled again this time getting my sword out ready to fight. "Don't lose your wings she'll be fine as long as you tell me what I want." He responded. "...Fine! What do you want?" I asked looking down at the ground. "Good! I knew you'd listen to me. Okay tell me where you took Chivo. We can't find him anywhere...you didn't kill him...did you cause if that's the case than I'll just kill your new girlfriends as well." He said giving a wondering look. "Don't you dare hurt her. And no I didn't do anything with your stupid rat." I responded. "Now you know better than to lie where did you put him?!" He yelled angrily. "I don...." I got cut off. "Hirochi!!!" Came a little voice it was Chivo and he headed over to Hirochi. "Chivo!" Hirochi said taking Chivo in his arms. "Where were you?" "I was in the forest looking for you guys. Where else." Chivo said to Hirochi and they disappeared. "Hirochi I think your forgetting something!" I yelled flailing my arms. "Oh you want her back?...fine take her we don't want anything to do with that girl." He said snapping his fingers and made Lisa appear then left with Chivo.

4 - Dreams that haunt

I ran over to her to see if she was okay and thank goodness she was. “ Lisa? What happened how’d they ....wha...are you okay?” I said in a panicky kind of voice. “ I told you I’m fine and what did those angels what with me?” she asked as I helped her up. “They were trying to use you to get to me or they thought we took their little rat.” I told her as I put my sword away. “ Oh...well...um...thx for saving me that was really nice of you.” She said blushing.” No problem I was just returning the favor. You helped me and I helped you now...we’re even.” I said leaving and heading toward the village. “Even? Hey Kino I have something to say to you.” Se said looking a little angry. “ What...what’d I do?” I asked as I was floating in the air by my wings. “ What do you mean even?” She said looking like a little girl ready to attack someone who stole her tea set.” What...oh oops that didn’t come out right I just meant thanks...you know...hee hee.” I said sheepishly then saw a pot coming straight at me. “ AHHH!!!! OW!!!!” I yelled as I fell and hit the ground @~@ “girls can be a.... pain.” I told myself as Lisa stormed inside and slammed the door shut behind her. “~Not the smartest thing I’ve ever said. ~” I said as I got up rubbing my head where the pot hit.

Later I went back to apologize to Lisa. Thank goodness she’s so forgiving (Kino is cleaning the bathroom.) And then she told me to go wash up cause I looked like a mutant pig.

The next few days it was just the same old typical days as usual in the village. “Jeez I wonder what the Demon Angels are planning. They haven’t caused any trouble at all in a few days.” I told myself as I watched over the town. “ I guess I should be thankful that I’m getting it easy for a while.” I telling myself as I flew over the village to double check. “ But it just isn’t right...something is going to happen.... but what.”

Later that day I just flew around minding my own business when I hear...a strange cry for help...but it wasn’t from the town. I flew to where it came from but when I got there it stopped. “What was that?” I thought to myself as I flew off again. But there it was again I started to look around but found no one in sight. Who ever or I left feeling bad that I couldn’t find what ever that was. A few days later I heard it again. But this time louder than before. And I followed and it disappeared...again. Then when I got far away again it started again but then I realized where it came from. I kept flying when finally I got to the sound. The real place where it came. “ OH NO!!! This is kinda bad.” I said as I watched a few people come from a part of town that no one ever went to because it’s really dangerous. “Great” I said to myself as I hid behind a cloud. But these people weren’t towns people they were Demons and Telikashi was leading them toward town again but this time it would be worse because these demons were stronger than before. I had no choice but to try and stop them I got my sword out and flew in front of them.

“Oh great its you!” Telikashi said as he got his sword out and we started to fight. “Why can’t you learn to stay out of my way boy! ” He yelled as he tried to hit me with his sword. “ Because you’re trying to hurt innocent people. And you’re trying to take over the sky village and dethrone Suzerain. And I’m not going to let that happen” I responded to him as we kept fighting. I didn’t know what to do except try to stall them as long as I could at least until someone from the sky village noticed the Demon Alarm. (I know lame name*no pun intended* But I had nothing else to call It. ^^) Finally I heard someone coming...or more like some ones more Angels were coming to help and that’s when the battle began. It lasted pretty long at least until the Suzerain came down to settle the matter. "That's Enough!" Suzerain yelled as he came closer. The demons got scared as he approached.

He finally came to help us. "All right that's enough. All of you." He said as he came closer to one of the demons. "I had it with you Demons always messing everything up and trying to cause trouble everywhere you go. So I'm going to vanish you to the melting rocks in the core of the sun where you will stay forever."

Before he could do anything one of the demons tried to get him from behind. I ran and flew over him to stop the demon. But when I did he cut one of my wings nearly cutting it off permanently, but at least I stopped him. I raised my sword and killed the demon. But what I didn't realize was that the demon I killed was Hirochi. He fell to the ground and disappeared. At the same time the other demons made a run for it and I fell to the ground and I didn't move the last thing I saw was Suzerain and then black.

~At the Sky Village~

"Suzerain will he be okay?" Kero asked as he stared into the room where Kino laid unconscious. "Yes he will be fine, won't be able to fly for awhile." Suzerain responded to Kero pulling his hand on his shoulder than left leaving Kero to just stand there and watch as his friend lay in bed not moving. "You were brave Kino. You're a real hero when we stood doing nothing you did something." Kero said silently as he left the room as well.

~Dreaming~

"Where am I?" I said in a daze. "Kino!!!" I heard Lisa's voice I stood up but when I did she wasn't there and I was in a black hall. I started to walk down the hallway and saw two doors. "Lisa?" I asked calmly. Then I went up to the door that was glowing white and I went inside. "LISA?" I yelled and there in chains was Lisa I ran up to her but when I got there she disappeared...again. "Not Again Lisa Where are you?!" I ran around looking for her. Than I came up to a tombstone that read Hirochi. "Why am I being shown this?" I asked then looked up it was Hirochi faced down I took out my sword but when he looked up it was monstrous. He came at me then. (Dream over he woke up)

"NO!" I said as I shot up from my sleeping position. I looked around and saw nothing but the room and sighed relief, "It was just a dream wait a minute where am I?" I said as I looked around the room. Then noticed the cloud birds in the sky. "Oh I'm back on the Sky village." I said to myself.

5 - Living Night Mare

Then that's when Lisa walked in the room. "Lisa? How'd you...I thought you were.... HUH?!" I said confused.

Then Kero walked in " Oh good you're awake. Hey guess what we found. Your girlfriend. ^^" Kero said with a sheepish smile on his face when he saw my expression. "I mean...never mind." He said leaving. "Hi Kino. I heard you got hurt again and came to see if you were okay. Your friend Kero is so nice." She said as she sat in a chair next to my bed.

"How'd you get up here?" I asked her confused as she handed me something to eat that she got out a bag she brought with her. "I saw the angel group flying over town and asked them what happened. When they told me that you got hurt I asked if I could come along. Though they had to think about it, but they aloud me to come up and see how you were when you woke up. And here I am." She said pushing the food even closer to me. " I'm fine rea..." I got stopped when she shoved it in my mouth. "I'm not going to take no for an answer it took me awhile to get this food together and the angel that was going to take me up had to wait. So I don't want any complaints." She told me as she put the bag down and watched me eat.

I hated staying in bed and even tried to escape from the nurse but she got me every time and that meant Shots! " OW!!!! OW OW OWWW!!!" I yelled just trying to get her to let go. " Hold still it won't hurt that bad. I swear it'll be okay." She told me then gave me the Shot.

" OW! Says you, you're not the one getting the sho...ZZzzZZ." I fell over and was fast asleep. "Good he'll finally shut it. Okay lets fix his wing now." She said as they carried Kino to the operation room to get his wing together.

An hour later I woke up and saw the same face I Saw before I passed out the first time. "Well how are you Kino?" It was Suzerain and he came to see if I was okay. " The nurse told me you try to escape from her several time," he said as he helped me sit up. " Well um...that's is I ..." I didn't know what to say. Though she just looked kind of mad but also looked like she wanted to laugh as if that were the funniest thing he's ever heard.

He finally left then I was alone again I was feeling very sleepy so I dozed off. And I had yet again another terrible dream.

~ I was walking in a long hallway, like the ones in the hospital. And there standing in front of me was Hirochi. He was back again. But instead of trying to kill me he came up to me and shook my hand as if we just made a deal or something. Then all I heard was "Thank you." And he turned and left. Then out of nowhere I saw yet again another demon...but this time it was Chivo. He walked up to me and handed a paper that to me read:

~ Demons loss to Angels. But not killed. The demons decided to help us prevent more trouble bye giving us their power...~ but I couldn't see the rest. It all went blank after that. I tried to stare at the paper squinting my eyes. But it didn't help. I put the paper down...or more likely it disappeared before it hit the ground. I continued seeing people I knew coming and going. By the time it got to Suzerain it had been hours he put his hand on my shoulder and shook me. Lightly though, as if trying to wake me. "Kino." I heard him say. "Wake up its time to get up. You've been asleep for hours." He said to me. Then shook me again, but this time softer. That's when I heard someone saying, " Oh great he's in a deep sleep now," someone said. Then I heard someone else say. "Oh come on let him sleep he must be exhausted from that big fight he had the other day." And that's when it got quit again.

The next thing I knew I was under a bridge and two fallen angels were there one on the ground and another standing up. "Come on _____." The boy angel standing up said to the one still on the ground. "Come on stop playing! You have to get up." This time the boy knelt down by his friend and started to cry. I walked over to the two boys and when I got there I saw them. One was me and the other Jeffery. I started to cry myself. Jeffery was an old friend of mine and died in the first angel war. I fell to the ground. I felt weak. And that's when the dream got worse. Things started to catch on fire and I heard screaming. I suppose I started to scream myself because I heard someone say, "He must be having a nightmare. WAKE UP! COME ON WAKE UP KINO!!!" the person said. I shot up. I was shaking and terrified the next thing I knew Suzerain was hugging me telling me that it was going to be okay. He knew when I had these dreams because after Jeffery died I use to scream all the time and he was the one who'd ask what happened and I'd tell him.

I couldn't help it I started to cry, which was weird for a grown guy to be sobbing. But Jeff was a great friend of mine and I wasn't able to let it go that easily. And I just finally caved in. And that hadn't ever happened before. I guess it was just a sudden realization that got me that he was gone and me pretending he was gone wouldn't help anymore. The dream taunted me for years after he was gone and I couldn't take this anymore. The thought of him actually being gone, that he wasn't a fake little imaginary friend and he was real. I know it's random to just now talk about this but. It hurt me so bad inside that I had to let it out at that moment in time. Suzerain stayed there until I had stopped crying and I strangely fell asleep. He didn't leave but sat in the room until I awoke again.

~Next Day~

I awoke the next morning. I barely opened my eyes, I wanted to see if anyone had come or was still in the room. There sitting on the guest chair was Suzerain sleeping in it. "~Great~ I thought to myself. ~Now how do I make a run for it...if I try to get up and leave he'll see me and wake up~." I kept thinking. But thank goodness my thoughts had to do nothing. Because Suzerain had to leave the room. And when he was out of site I made my way to the window. I looked back at the room. "~ I have to get some air...fresh air~ "I said to myself as I carefully flew away ignoring the pain in my wing. Flying out to a near by cloud I started to think what the demon Angels had done when they found out that Hirochi was dead. "Oh well it's not my fault...he's the one who put it on himself." I reassured myself. I sat on the cloud and hid behind the big puff of fluff. I just road the cloud to where ever it brought me.

6 - Surprise That Kills

~Where the demon Angels had be vanished~“ I can’t believe it we lost...and lost Hirochi!” Telikashi yelled out to no one in particular while smashing a bolder. “Telikashi...is Hirochi really ...gone?” Chivo asked him as he walked over to him. “ I’m afraid so...but I won’t allow his killer to live to see another day...but...who am I kidding...we’ll never get out of here.” Telikashi said as he walked off to think his and every other Demons defeat over. “ You mean...your giving up? ...” Chivo asked. “Well there’s not much we can do.” Telikashi told Chivo as he paste back and forth. “There’s got to be a way to win back our freedom...I mean we don’t just give up like that...do we?” Chivo asked Telikashi who was in deep thought. “Telikashi? ...Hellooooo...~hmm...he’s probably got an idea. ~” Chivo thought to himself. ~Kino is up in the clouds and wondering what he could do now that the demons were gone~ “~So is this real...we actually won after a long time in the past fighting to win our freedom and live to be peaceful...? ~” Kino thought to himself as just sat on the cloud that was drifting in the sky. Then there was a loud Crash noise that broke Kino’s concentration. “ Great what now?” Kino asked himself as he made his way down to where the sound was. ~The spot the noise was~ “We actually got out of that stuffy place. See I told you we don’t give up that easily.” The voice said to someone. Kino finally got down to where the sound came from then hid when he saw Telikashi and Chivo come from the gap where there use to be earth. Then Kino got his sword out ready to fight. And showed himself. “ HEY!!!” Kino said really angry. Telikashi and Chivo looked at Kino then Telikashi got his sword out and he looked angry at the sight of Kino. “ Kino you are so DEAD!!!” Telikashi said as he flew over to Kino Fast then they’re swords collided. “Telikashi just give up you know you can’t win.” Kino said as he Fought Telikashi off. “ NEVER. You know you can’t win.” Telikashi provoked. “Plus you killed Hirochi, so I’m just returning the favor.” He said as he swung his sword at Kino again. Kino kept dodging hoping someone would notice the fight. “~Come on where are you guys at? ~” Kino thought to himself as he kept his guard up. ~Sky village hospital~ “SUZERAIN!!! HURRY COME QUICK!!!” Kero said going up to Suzerain panting. “What is it Kero?” Suzerain asked with a worried look on his face. “It’s Kino! He’s not in his room. I went to go check on him and now he’s gone!” Kero said really fast flailing his arms. “WHAT!?...But he was in the patient’s room a sec ago. How could he get away so fast...not to mention his wing. It’s...” Suzerain stopped in mid sentence and went to Kino’s room then looked at the window. “Call all the angels right now!” Suzerain demanded. ~Where the fight was ~ Kino and Telikashi had each other worn. “Just...give up Telikashi. You’ll never win.” Kino said to him panting, still feeling really winded and weak. “Never plus I think your actually out of luck this time I don’t see anyone in sight to come and save you. And you’re as weak as a feather.” Telikashi told Kino panting himself. " You don't know that for sure." Kino replied. "Oh really. Well look around you do you see anyone from your side coming to help you?...didn't think so." Telikashi told kino who had his head faced down knowing that maybe Telikashi was right. maybe no one was going to help him. I mean seeing as Kino had his wings broken. There's not much he could do. "Oh well. I'll defeat you by myself." Kino said as he lifted his sword ready to fight Telikashi. " Your determine aren't you?" Telikashi said as he got his sword ready to fight as well. The Fight lasted for a very long time. Kino was still getting weaker by the second. And Telikashi was feeling a bit faint himself but he stood up to the fact and kept going. Kino couldn't take it any longer he felt weak. And his wings weren't helping. His body ached all over. "~ I can't give up I have to keep fighting. for me, Lisa,the sky village, and...Jeffery. I wouldn't let him down. Not again. This is for all the angels that gave their life's over the years fighting for the safety of our Sky village. I won't let them down. I won't. I won't.~ I won't." Kino said to himself. " You won't what? Win?You might have killed Hirochi. But you aren't going to kill me that easily." Telikashi said Singing his sword at Kino in powerful blows. " NO! I'm not going to lose. Not to you. Or any of your demon friends. I'm fighting for the name of Suzerain. And for Angels that have died.Telikashi. Your going down." Kino said as he felt the sudden flow of energy coming back to him. Then stood up straight and started to fight with everything he had. Telikashi gave a surprised look. But then just shrugged it off. "Well you sure do have spirit don't you?" Telikashi asked in a sarcastic voice. "You know what Telikashi your right I do. And its all thanks to Jeffery." Kino said to him with a smirk on his face.The fight seem to have lasted hours. Then I felt my wings doing something and Telikashi looked at them with astonishment. But then he gave an evil smile as if he was planning for this to happen. I stopped in mid fight. I looked at my wings. They were turning into Demon wings. I was confused but then thought about it for a second. Then I remembered what Suzerain had told me. "If you ever get angry and start to think of revenge then you'll change back into a Demon and then I and no one else will be able to help you." Words of Suzerain. I stopped and sat on the ground with my sword on my lap. "If I am suppose to be taken to stop myself from becoming a Demon. Then I'm glad to die." I said staying still and calming myself down. My wings began to change back to normal. But Telikashi didn't wait he had his sword in his hand. "So your telling me That I can kill you?...Well then. Dragon will be pleased. Very please.(Dragon: The demons commander the Head demon.)" Telikashi said as he lifted his sword to kill Kino. "~I'm sorry Lisa. I'm sorry Suzerain,Kero and all my other friends. But I have to do what's right or I'll be evil again and I'd be going against you.~" Kino thought to himself as the sword hit him and he fell to the ground. Frozen and dead.

7 - Fight forever

Suzerain and the others got there just after that happened. They all froze when they saw Kino's body lying there. Suzerain looked at Kino and then at the other angels as well. He knew what had happened and so did everyone else. If Kino had continued to fight then all of them would have been killed. For at last you must know that Kino was the chosen one. And what ever side he was on that side would have victory. "Well. Well. Well. If it isn't the all powerful Suzerain. I'm so sorry about your little boy but he just had an accident." Telikashi said in a evil voice. Suzerain didn't stand there anymore. He putted out his sword and Telikashi bowed excepting his challenge. Then he had his sword in front of him. And the fight began. But just as that started more Demons appeared. And the Battle began. "You know I imagined you older." Telikashi said evilly Taunting. But Suzerain paid attention to this comment. Suzerain might seem like an old man but he's not. He's a young man just like Kino was but he's just a a bit older. The fight continued non stop. And things were looking up for the Angels. But not for the Demons. Telikashi was fighting harder than anyone else. Even though he had a lot of power he was weakened from the earlier battle. But as usual the battle proceeded. But then the Sky got Dark and everything around the Battle field got hot. Then Fire came out of the Ground. Every Angel and Demon stopped what they were doing and Out of the Flames Came Dragon. Telikashi left fighting Suzerain and went by another Demon. Dragon went over to Suzerain. "Hello Suzerain. I hear we had a bit of a problem up here." Dragon said with an Evil smirk. He pulled his sword out and then looked over at Kino. "Well finally. He's not a problem to us anymore. Well done Telikashi." Dragon said going up to Suzerain. And he whispered in his ear. "Your boy is Gullible. He wasn't going to go to the Demon side. But I had to get rid of him some how." He said backing away after telling Suzerain that. Suzerain's eyes widened. Then he swiped his sword at Dragon and Dragon moved. " HAH! You missed." Dragon Taunted. ANd the Big Battle Started. But as everyone was distracted with fighting, a girl went up to Kino's body. She was wearing a white/blueish silk hood,Lined with white lace and a white pearl with a ruby in the middle of it as a button to keep the hood closed. She went over to Kino and sat next to him."The stars are your guardians. The planets are your army, and the spirit of your friend is with you. Come back to us Kino. Don't leave us yet." The girl said as a Demon went up to her and was about to hit her when she turned around. "Cosmos Blast!" she said and the Demon went flying away. She turned back to Kino. "Your friends need you Kino and ... The universe needs you as well." She said as she bent down and kissed him on the lips and there was a light. Then the wind picked up and the light grew all the Angels and Demons including Dragon and Suzerain stopped and covered their eyes. "Get up and help your friends." The girl said as she stood up and held out her hand and grabbed Kino's hands. He stood up. Full of energy. He looked at her. She was a Guardian but a Element Angel to be more accurate(other names for them the Ark angels). "Now Kino before you go. I need to do something." She said to him as she took out a clear crystal that was shaped like a star. She held it up to him and it entered him clear then came out black. "You'll be free of your demon side forever. And Your fully healed. Now go and win the fight for your guy's freedom." She said to Kino letting go of his hand. "Wait can't you destroy them?" Kino asked her. "I'm afraid not I'm just the Universe Guardian and the only thing I can do is protect the galaxies everywhere. But fighting enemies, I'm sorry but the higher up then me told me I could give you back your soul. Now go and win." She told him as she disappeared. Then Kino turned to Telikashi and picked his sword up. "What are we waiting for Telikashi. Bring it." Kino said with his sword in front of him and ready. Telikashi got his sword out and they fought. "You just got lucky Kino." Telikashi said out of breathe. "Thats what you think.But I'm not going to brag. Now Telikashi are you going to make this easy or hard?" Kino asked as they continued to fight. "Not a chance." Telikashi replied and as they fought the rest of the Angels continued to fight and Suzerain and Dragon kept fighting. "Your boy's going to die." Dragon said to Suzerain as he lifted his sword and collided swords with Suzerain. "No. Not this time." Suzerain told Dragon hitting his arm and making dragon lose his sword." If anyone's going to die. It's the only one how's sitting on the ground like an idiot. And that's you." Suzerain said holding his sword up to Dragon's neck. "What are you waiting for aren't you going to kill me?" dragon asked with a stressed face expression. "No. I won't if you combined and come on the side of Good." Suzerain asked Dragon waiting for a reply." I'd much rather die than work with..." dragon began to say when he got cut off by a yell of pain. Then he looked over and saw Telikashi fall to the ground. "You. May have won this time But we won't allow this to go un..." Telikashi began to say but then stopped and Chivo got in the way. "I won't let you kill him. Kino stopped and looked at Chivo he looked different. But not by much. He had a mark on his head that looked like a vampire mouth and wings on the side of that. "You think that we give up so easily? Well think again." Chivo said transforming into one of the fully developed Demons he was as tall as Telikashi and had a Big sword in his hand it was bigger than all of the other Demons swords. "I'm older and more mature. And Now I will kill you." Chivo said as he lunged toward Kino. Kino then put his sword in front of him and blocked Chivo's hit. "You'll regret killing Hirochi, Kino." Chivo said putting his hands in front of him and a ball of fire formed. Kino, the Demons and Angels were all surprised by this. And then Chivo threw the fire ball at Kino. Kino moved out of the way and the fire ball hit one of the Demons. Kino felt powers of his own forming in himself. Then his sword started to glow. It became bigger and then Chivo and him started to fight. The Angels and Demons couldn't move Suzerain and Dragon as well they all stared stupidly. Dumbfounded by what they saw. "Chivo. I'm not giving up. I'll fight to the death." Kino said as Chivo swung his sword at him. Suzerain snapped out of it and he took his sword and got Dragon who fell to the ground. Then Dragon just made a evil laugh and disappeared.(not dead) And the Demons, Angels and Suzerain watched as Kino and Chivo continued to fight and disappeared. Kino and Chivo were now fighting in the Sky and soon they came to where they were fighting up in outer space. Chivo and Kino didn't notice they were both fighting too hard to notice. Kino and Chivo were too busy to notice anything including the light that was around them.

8 - War and Love

~The fight lasted for Days.

Chivo and Kino weren't even tired. but as they proceeded Chivo got exhausted and Kino felt a little faint himself.

Suzerain and the other angels had to go back to the sky village to make sure everything was okay. And thank goodness it was. Suzerain was now in his office in the Sky village castle, looking out the window. Him and others around him watched the as Kino and Chivo fought but the only thing anyone saw of those two was the big aura or light around them. "~Please be okay Kino. ~" Suzerain thought to himself.

~Lisa's village.

"Kino." Lisa said simply watching outside in her yard and was scared that Kino wouldn't get out okay. She heard about the Demon transformation.

~Kino and Chivo continued to fight.

Kino couldn't help it he summoned all of his energy and his sword lit up then Chivo did the same. But as soon as their swords collide there was a big explosion and everyone who had been watching gasped. And then Chivo and Kino both got blasted away from each other.

~Kino was knocked out just like Chivo. But at the same time the Universe Guardian came up to Kino. Then picked him up and brought him to the Sky village. But when all of the Angels saw her they all bowed. Suzerain ran out of his office. And went outside then saw the Guardian and bowed as well.

"Suzerain. Come Kino needs your help and care. He'll need some rest and make sure he doesn't fight for a month." She said to Suzerain and hand Kino to him. Then as Suzerain took Kino in his arms the Ark Angel disappeared. "Suzerain looked at Kino, who had a new look to him, like he had transformed. But a few seconds later Kino's cloths and sword had transformed into his normal clothes and that's when Suzerain saw for the first time the mark on Kino's neck. And it was glowing but then stopped. "~He made it into full Angel Transformation Guardian. ~" Suzerain said to himself. But then he hugged Kino and Kino woke up from the warmth of suzerains hug. "Sir?" Kino said faintly. Suzerain stopped and looked at Kino. Surprised that he was up at all." Kino. I'm so glad your okay. Lets make sure you get some rest." Suzerain said bringing Kino into the Castle.

~Outer space. ~

Chivo was floating there. He hadn't moved until and black light went up to him and scanned him. "He's okay sir. Should I bring him back now?" The voice came from the black light. "Yes bring him back. He needs to get rest for the next battle." The voice said as the light went around Chivo and then they both disappeared.

~Down on Earth~

Kino was asleep in the Sky village Castle. And Suzerain was waiting for him to wake up. Him like the other angels were anxious to see if Chivo would be okay. Kino was just too tired to get up. He stayed asleep. And then out of nowhere there was an explosion. Suzerain went over to the window and saw that the village on earth was being attacked. Suzerain ordered the High rank angels to go see what was wrong. So they went to see what was going on, and to help if necessary. Kino had been woken up by the explosion and was shot up alert. He then realized where he was. He got up from the bed he was sleeping in and went over to the window. He saw that the village was under attack. He left the room he was staying in after he put his shoes on and got his sword then he snuck out by a window that was opened and he carefully flew to the ground. He made his wings vanish so it'd be easier for him to walk and fight if needed. He started out as a walk then the screams in the village got louder and everything got worse by the second. Kino got to a run and had his hand on his sword ready to pull it out when necessary. Kino slid behind a tree and had his back to it. “~ Okay lets see...~” Kino thought then he heard a scream from the direction of Lisa’s house he took off running in that direction and got there. When he did he found out it wasn’t the Demon’s fault this time. It was just normal human invaders. “HEY!” Kino said pulling out his sword. “Leave her alone!” Kino said in an angered tone. One of the invader soldiers laughed and pulled out his sword as well. “Don’t worry I got him. He’ll be easy just like the other pathetic people on this town.” The invader soldier said to his comrade. His comrade laughed and held Lisa down and watched thinking it’d be an easy battle. But he was about to find out he was wrong. Kino held his sword ready the soldier did the same and then the soldier started to fight after a respectful bow to his opponent. They began the fight. Kino had no trouble beating the soldier so far. But he was being careful not to hurt himself worse. The soldier was getting worn out and was panting. Lisa watched in the background tears going down her cheeks from being hurt from the soldiers. Kino got hit to the ground and the soldier laughed. “Heh. Some hero you turned out to be. You’re pathetic and you’re just as weak as the rest of the people in the town.” The villain said tauntingly.

“KINO!!!” Lisa said in a worried tone.

“SHUT UP!!!!” The person holding her said as he covered her mouth. Kino had a devious smile and then swung his legs around so that he tripped the soldier that was near him and made him fall over onto his back. “AHHH!!!!” The soldier cried as Kino hit him with his sword cutting the soldier’s arm. “Now If I were you I’d leave her alone and leave this town. And NEVER and I mean NEVER return here again.” Kino said holding his sword up to the soldier threateningly. The other soldier who was holding Lisa down let her go and ran for it when Kino jerked his sword in his direction. The other soldier left as well running. Kino went over to Lisa and put his sword away. Then he knelt by Lisa and carefully helped her up.

“Kino. You’re okay. I thought you were suppose to be...” Lisa started to say, when Kino picked her up. “Maybe. Maybe not. I’m taking care of you before I answer you.” Kino said smiling at her. Lisa blushed. “Uh... I’m fine though. I don’t want you to hurt yourself anymore then you already have.” She said looking at Kino with a worried face expression. “I’ll be fine. And you’re important right now.” He said bring her inside.

Inside of Lisa’s house Kino had carefully bandaged up Lisa and told her to get rest. Then he checked the perimeter of the house to make sure that there weren’t any more invaders or any other people around. Then he went back inside and went to Lisa’s room to see how she was doing. (Well I suppose you think that’s the end huh? Well you’d be wrong. That’s just the beginning of the story. I want you to know that things got more difficult as life went on or would.)

~ Difficultly loved~

The next morning I go up to see that the sky was cloudy. “~ Aw man. Suzerain is mad. ~” Kino thought to himself as he stood up and went to check on Lisa. She had already gotten up and made her bed. She was in her kitchen cooking.

“Oh good morning Kino. Did you sleep well?” She asked making breakfast. “Yeah... I did... why are you up? You’re supposed to be in bed.” Kino said leaning on the wall on his back against it. “Well I decided not to listen to you.” Lisa said winking at him and laughed and put two plates of food on the table. Now stop worrying about me and come eat.” She said sitting down and her head resting on her wrists and her elbows on the table. Kino sat down not liking she hadn’t listened to him but then smiled and laughed a little to himself. “~Just like me... stubborn. ~” He thought as he took a bit of his toast. Kino and Lisa just ate their breakfast in silence the rest of the time. Then when they got done Lisa took their plates and went to go wash them. Kino took the dishes from her and started to wash them for her. Lisa was confused. “Um... Kino it’s alright I can wash them.” She told him trying to take the washing rag from him. "No. I've got it. You need to go sit down so you can get better." He told her smiling and continued to wash them. "Well...if you insist. But I'm not going to sit. If I do anything I'm going to go sweep the floor." Lisa said grabbing the broom from the closet and started to sweep. Kino dried his hands and went over to Lisa, taking the broom from her and started to sweep for her. "Kino. Come on let me do that." She said trying to take it from him. Kino laughed and didn't let her have it. "Fine I'll just go do something else." Lisa said in a calm tone leaving the room. Kino grabbed her arm and gently pulled her back. "No I'll do it for you. I want you to rest." Kino said pulling Lisa closer to him. "Kino... it's fine I can do it." She said blushing. "No I want you to rest... please?" Kino asked Lisa looking at her with a calm soft look on his face. Lisa's face turned completely red. "Eh... o-okay." She said as Kino pulled a chair up for her to sit in. She sat down and Kino finished the dishes then he started on sweeping the floor. About an hour later there was a knock on the door. Lisa got up and answered it. "Oh. Good after noon Kero. What are you..." She started to say to Kero when he answered before she could finish asking. "I'm here to see Kino... is he here? Everyone at the Sky village is worried about him." Kero said in a worried tone. "Of course he's here... he didn't get permission to come here. He didn't even leave a note?" Lisa asked letting Kero in. "No." Kero answered. Kino got done sweeping and went over to Kero. "Hey bud. What's up?" Kino asked in a calm kind voice. "KINO!!!" Kero said hugging him. "You are worrying everyone at the sky Village. We couldn't find you anywhere so we thought that..." Kero didn't finish his sentence. "Well you guys should have known I'd be here." Kino said smiling at his shaken friend, who was still hugging him. "He's the youngest of the group." Kino whispered to Lisa who was watching. "And he's a little emotional at times." Kino finished saying still in a whispering tone. Lisa nodded in understanding. Kero looked at Kino. "Why didn't you tell us where you were off to?" Kero asked. "Well I was in a hurry and... I... I just knew you guys wouldn't have aloud me to go and help with the invaders here on earth at Lisa's village. So I ... just sort of... came without telling anyone. I knew you guys would try and stop me. Anyway, why is everyone so worried about me? I'm not like a prince or anything. Plus I can take care of myself. And I felt better." Kino said smiling at Kero. "Well Suzerain wanted to make sure you were fine before you tried to get on your feet again. And when he saw you were gone he got worried. He didn't know you felt better. The least you could have done was left a note." Kero said in an upset tone and a few tears going down his face. "Chill out little guy. I'm okay aren't I? Now go back and tell everyone that I'm fine and where I am if they ask for that." Kino said fuzzing Kero's hair. Kero laughed a bit and smiled then he nodded and left. Kino and Lisa watched as Kero left and when he was out of site Kino looked at Lisa. "Cute kid isn't he?" He asked Lisa going over to the sink to empty the dishes he did for Lisa. Lisa smiled and nodded. "Yes he is... Kino now what are you guys going to do... I mean now that the Demons are defeated?" Lisa asked Kino as she watched him put the dishes away. Kino stopped and sighed. "No. Your wrong the Demons aren't defeated. There is still so much that you don't know about the War between us Angels and Demons." Kino said putting the dish away and finished putting the rest of them away. Lisa looked surprised. "What are you saying?" She asked walking over to him. "What I'm saying is. The War has only begun." He said, his face down cast. Lisa put her hand on his shoulder. "Kino, I'm sure the war will be over before you know it. Anyway you guys have won almost all the battles. So you're a shoe in for winning." She said smiling. "Well that's one way to look at it. But... no one said we've won all the battles. Demons have won just as many as we have. We need more help something to get us to win.... The only reason earth has gotten involved is because of the Energy Crystal it has hidden here." He said jerking away from Lisa. She remained quiet. Kino left her house to think things over.

"~So what are we going to do if the demons get their hands on the Energy Crystal? ~" Kino thought to himself as he sat on the top of the highest branch in a tree in the forest over looking the village and the rest of the forest and life around it. Kino was so deep into thought that he didn't even notice it was raining out. He just stayed quiet and kept thinking.

"KINO!!!!" Lisa called out to try and find him. "Oh man... where'd he go?" She asked herself looking around the forest and had her umbrella with her. "KINO!!!! Come on you have to come inside." She said trying to find him. "~Where did that boy run off to... huh? ~ Kino?" Lisa said looking up the tree that she was about to pass by. She saw his wings from the ground through the branches of the tree. "KINO!" She said happily. Kino snapped out of his trance and looked down. Lisa waved at him happy to see she found him. Kino came down from the top of the tree and went by her. "What are you doing out here in the rain?" He asked. "I was just about to ask you the same thing." She said holding the umbrella over both of them. "I just needed time to think that's all." He responded looking at the sky. "Anyway the rain doesn't bother me." He said looking back at Lisa. "Well I don't like the fact your out here so lets just get back to my place." She said pulling his arm to get him to follow her. He followed her to her house and then they went inside. Lisa got a towel and an extra pare of clothes out for him. Since she was the village nurse she had pretty much everything needed fro emergence such as this. Not to mention her brother came to visit sometimes. He was older now so the clothes would fit Kino. "Okay here you go. Now go and change please. When your done give me your clothes so I can hang them in the Rest room to dry." Lisa said pushing Kino into his room that he's been staying in and shut the door right behind him.

About 15 minutes later Kino came out with his wet clothes and was wearing the pare of clothes she gave him to wear. Lisa took his clothes and hung them in the rest room. After that she handed him a cup of hot chocolate and then she sat on her couch. Kino just stayed standing.