Chapter 0 - Veterinary Monitoring Equipment Market Analysis ..... 2

0 - Veterinary Monitoring Equipment Market Analysis

The global veterinary monitoring equipment market size is expected to reach USD 1,083.5 Million in 2032 and register a steady revenue CAGR of 9.8% during the forecast period, according to latest analysis by Emergen Research. Rising number of veterinary practitioners and income levels in developed economies is a major factor driving market revenue growth. In the U.S., there are over 100,000 practicing veterinarians; while, in a country such as Kenya, the number can only be in hundreds. Focus on animals in developing markets, however, can preclude provision of adequate veterinary care. There has also been a significant rise in prosperity and decline in poverty. Income threshold for bottom 10% has climbed from 260 to 480 international dollars and median income has nearly doubled from 1,100 to 2,010.
