Talents: Nin-Jutsu (Esp. Fire), photography, stealth

Weaknesses: Gen-Jutsu, Tai-Jutsu, working to the point of self-injury, self-consciousness, easily frustrated

Past: Keiko grew up with her father (who was blind) because her mother had left the Ookami clan with her older sister shortly after Keiko was born. Keiko grew up on stories about the brave ninja that lived in a mythical village far away. One day, her mother returned without her sister and shortly afterward the Ookami clan began dying through a disease similar to rabis.

Keiko, her father, a few adults not effected by the disease, and the rest of the children ran away and hid from the diseased factor of their clan. Because her uncle (who was leader) had died without children and her father was blind and her sister was presumably dead, Keiko became the leader of the Ookami Clan. She wanted to be able to help her clan and decided to go the village of ninja her father had told her about.

Eventually Keiko made it and after a bit of drama, she was allowed to live in Konoha and attend the Academy. She met her two best friend, Hinata and Kaori, there.

Present: Keiko is a self-conscious shinobi who keeps to herself. She passes the graduation test and, although she was supposed to be placed on Kumiko and Suzimaya's team, Keiko is not allowed to have a team for reasons unexplained. Frustrated, she blows up at her friends and they have a falling out.

Keiko then proceeds to train by herself. After a brief stint where she is required to go on a mission with Team 7, Keiko is told that she is to take part in the Chunin exams. Many people are wary about this, but Keiko gains some people's confidence when she saves a nearly burnt to death girl she finds during training. Later, she befriends this girl who turns out to be Reiko Uchiha, Sasuke's sister.

Keiko manages to pass through the semi-finals of the Chunin exams. During this time period, she befriends Selina, Ani, and Akara. During the month off, she runs into Shikamaru and she starts hanging out with him and his friends, Chouji and Kumiko.

During the Chunin finals, Keiko wins her match but her beloved wolf, Balki, dies during the Sound's attack on the village. Keiko retreats farther into herself and stops talking to the friends she made. When Tsunade returns, Keiko is promoted to Chunin and Kumi, Chouji, and Shikamaru make sure she hangs out with them so she doesn't get all depressed again. She is also given a team with Ayame Hyuga and Nara Namida. She dislikes both girls and it takes quite a bit to get her to work with her team.

She goes with Team Shikamaru with Sasuke and ends up nearly dying face one of the Sound ninja. When she wakes up, she tries her best to be a better ninja and starts training with her team. Keiko eventually warms up to her teammates and her sensei. She also starts developing a crush on Shikamaru, but they don't get anywhere.

Future: Keiko is called to a transfer program with the Village of Sand for two and a half years. During this time period, she grows very close to Temari, Kankurou, and Gaara. She considers them her family. At the end of the two and a half years, she leads the mission to save Gaara and then returns home.

At first, Shikamaru is very cold to her. This insults Keiko and she starts distancing herself from him. However, she has a plan to get what is left of her clan to move to the Leaf Village. Permission is granted, but only if Tsunade gets to pick who she goes with. So Keiko is stuck with Shikamaru, Kiba, and Nara. After another bout of drama, Keiko manages to lead her clan to the Leaf Village.

Multiple years later, Shikamaru and Keiko marry each other and have four kids: Takumi (boy), Aukera (girl), Makoto (girl), and Raito (boy).

The Black Cats were in possession of two devil fruits. Tay was given the Change-Change fruit and discovered she could change her appearance in many different ways. Under the influence of Django's hypnotism, Tay was forced to be a call girl and change her appearance in whatever way the particular man that night wanted. She was only 7. She was also taught how to use the nail-swords from Captain Kuro.

Present: 10 years later, the Black Cats grew tired of having to feed Tay and Karlianna and marooned them on an island. Luckily, they were found by the Straw Hats and taken in by them.

Tay, no longer hypnotized, couldn't remember how she had spent the last 10 years of her life. All she knew was that she liked sword play and distrusted most guys. Karlianna convinced her to try trusting the guys on the ship and after awhile became Zolo's apprentice.

She was just beginning to get a crush on Zolo when the Black Cats found Karlianna and Tay again and kidnapped them while the Straw Hats were gone. Kuro revealed to Tay what she had done when she was younger and she and Karlianna were forced to fight the Straw Hat Crew.

Zolo snapped Tay out of it, but she couldn't stop trying to hurt him. So she cut her arm open and used the pain to get out of the spell. Tay goes a little insane and ends up totally mutilating Kuro.

Future: Tay and Karlianna return with the Straw Hats as permanent members of their crew. Tay doesn't talk to anyone for a long while but eventually comes out to be with everyone again.

One day, Karlianna thought it would be fun to sneak on a pirate ship. Unfortunately, it was the Black Cat's ship and she and her adopted sister were discovered.

Karlianna was forced to eat the Pop-Pop devil fruit which gave her the power to shoot ammunition out of her body. She was forced to train as a fighter so she could kill anyone the Black Cats wanted to kill since they were pretending to be disbanded. When she disobeyed, she was forced to watch Tay having sex with the men on the ship.

Present: 10 years later, Karlianna and Tay are abadoned on a desert island and left to die. They are luckily rescued by the Straw Hat crew. Karlianna immediatly likes them and joins up with them.

Around this time, Karlianna finds out that Tay cannot remember their years with the Black Cat pirates. Karlianna struggles with the guild of having never done anything to help Tay and having them sneak on the ship in the first place. To help ease her guilt, she doesn't tell Tay what happened.

During her time with the Straw Hats, Karlianna develops a relationship with Luffy. He really likes and she finds this incredibly amusing but soon finds that she likes him a lot as well.

One day while the rest of the crew are away, the Black Cats kidnap Tay and Karlianna. Kuro tells Tay what she was and Tay gets upset with Karlianna for not telling her. The pair of them are hypnotized to fight their former crew. Karlianna fights nearly to the death and only snaps out of it because she goes unconscious due to blood loss.

Future: Karlianna and Tay rejoin the Straw Hat crew as permanent members. Karlianna makes a swift recovery and tries to convince Tay to do the same. Tay, however, is too upset over the fact she spent the last 10 years having sex with every man aboard the Black Cat's vessel. Eventually Karlianna moves out of her and Tay's room and in with Luffy. When Tay starts getting more comfortable, the pair make up and are as good of friends as ever.

Romantic Interest: Ken

Spouse: Ken (several years later)

Children: Kimmi (daughter; twin) and Sam (son; twin)

Neices/Nephews: Carrie and Oliver Ishida, Joey Takaishi, and Amy Izumi

Hobbies: Sleeping, hanging out with her digimon, saving the Digital World, and playing soccer

Talents: Saving the Digital World, playing soccer

Weaknesses: Sometimes too compassionate and will forgive and forget too readily, very sarcastic

Past: When Emi was really young, she watched the Parrotmon and Greymon fight with Matt, TK, and Miyu. Shortly after, her parents split up. Her mom took TK and her dad took Matt and Miyu. Emi was upset that she didn't get a decision in who she got to with and ended up with her father because Matt was the only one who could get her to calm down. Miyu was sent to boarding school and TK and Emi were so young they didn't even remember that they had another sister.

At the age of 10, Emi went to camp with her big brother. She felt really uncomfortable around them, especially TK even though he was her twin. Emi was also jealous that Matt was giving TK so much attention.

She became a Digi-Destined and met her partner, Sunmon. He digivolved into Coronamon later on, then into his ultimate and even Mega form. Emi ended up becoming good friends with Tara (who was the only other girl her age since Kari hadn't been found yet) and, like most of the girls her age, looked up to Azukia.

She gained the Crest of Compassion when [to be decided later].

When they went to the real world, Emi met up with her mother for the first time in years. Like Matt, she disliked it and didn't talk very much to either of her parents.

Back in the Digital World, Matt met up with Cherrymon and blew up with Tai. He also told Emi he was sick of her being so clingy and that he rather she would go live with TK since apparently neither of them needed her. This broke Emi's heart, but Tara and Azukia convinced her not leave the team and Coronamon helped her realized that she didn't need her big brother around all the time. She had friend within the group.

Emi got seperated from the group a little later on and struggled with her need to be around Matt or at least other people. She realized that she was still upset about her parents' split and that she had tried to cope by doing everything with her big brother. Emi realized that she needed to give everyone space and learn to be her own person. She found the team again in time for the final battle, but ended up being turned into a key-chain. She also forgot her friendship with Tara since Tara's digimon gave herself up completely to save them from the final boss and everyone (including Tara) forgot she was ever a Digi-Destined.

When she leaves, she is very distraught that she has to leave Coronomon behind. He reminds her that she promised to stop relying so much on others and Emi agrees. She gives him her sky blue arm band as symbol that the promise will continue even when they don't see each other anymore. Coronomon always has that arm band on, even in other evolutions from that point on.

In May 2000, Emi returned to the Digital World and gave up her Crest of Compassion, so Coronomon lost the ability to become Flaremon and Apollomon.

Present: Four years later, Emi decided to once and for all try to stop relying so much on Matt. So she announced she was moving in with TK and her mom. She moved just in time to start a new school with TK. On the way there she meets Yolei, Ashi, and Cody (who live in her building). She also re-meets Tara, although neither of them recognize her.

Emi is even more sarcastic then she was originally and openly antagonistic towards those she doesn't like (mainly Yolei, although sometimes Iwoku). She refers to the new Digi-Destined as "Newbies" and frequently berates Yolei for being whiney. She and Tara are best friends again and when Ashlee joins the group, she becomes friends with her as well.

When Miyu shows up, Emi doesn't recognize her or even remember that she has a sister. She thinks Miyu is crazy and is a bit resentful that Miyu has to stay in her room, but soon the two become friends.

Emi, being the Digi-Destined of Compassion, immediatly wants to forgive Ken for being evil and accept him into the group. This is the first time she and Davis agree on something which freaks both of them out, but also begins Emi's respect for Davis as a leader.

Emi becomes Ken's best friend and when his grades start slipping, the news media blame her for distracting him. She starts developing feelings for him as she sees him interact with the rest of the group.

On Christmas Day, Emi goes with Ken, Matt, and Tara to Mexico City. Matt and Tara end up kissing and Emi tells them to get a room. They find this amusing and Emi gets frustrated and tries to ignore them. Ken comes over and thanks for being his friend through everything and admits that he likes her. They end up holding hands.

On December 30th when they go to the alternate deminsion, Emi has the vision of [to be decided. It was going to be that she wanted her family back BUT FREAKING TK ALREADY HAS THAT VISION]. She breaks free and helps in the final battle.

Future: In the epiloge, Emi is married to Ken and they have twins: Kimi (a girl with a Leafmon) and Sam (a boy with a Sunmon).

Emi went to college on a soccor scholarship and is now one of the lead players on the Japanese womens team. Coronamon helps the team practice.

Emi is very close to all her old friends, espically all her nieces and nephews.

England didn't have many Mews at the time, so Tsumi banded with Lucia and they became a crime fighting duo and the best of friends. Until, that is, Tsumi had to move back to Japan. She had Lucia had an enormous fight over her leaving and didn't speak to each other after the move. Her mother died shortly after.

Present: Tsumi still lives in Japan, but since her mother died, her father got really into drinking. He's lost his job and doesn't do anything but drink. Because of this, they have no money. Her father never talks to her, except to complain about how they could sell her violin for money since she isn't good at it anyway. goes. There she meets Kaili who explains she is a Mew as well and needs help.

Tsumi becomes Mew Licorice and uses her violin (the same one she practices on) as her weapon. She carries her violin with her everywhere, mostly to prevent her dad from stealing it.

She gets into fight a lot at school and one day one of the more popular boys notices and laughs. Tsumi instantly hates him and fights with him, too. But this just seems to amuse him more. Soon he starts showing up at the Cafe Tsumi works at along with a boy who has a crush on Lucia- Matt.

Then one day, she accidentally leaves her violin at home, and her worse fears come true: her dad steals it and sells it (it's pretty rare type of violin). Tsumi quits being a Mew because she realizes she's still sad about Lucia and her hating each other and doesn't think she can be without her violin.

It is Lucia that brings her back to the team. Lucia and Tsumi have a heart to heart and start crying and hugging and stuff. Tsumi agrees to come back to the team and finds that, although she no longer has her beloved violin in real live, she has it still as Mew.
