The element gate

IT was half way open when they got there "every one get to the symbol of your own element" said kima then they all shouted "fire, water, metal, wind, earth". "Don't even think about it" "kishu" shouted foxy "every one use your power to stop the gate so it will never open again" said the 18 year old foxy

it was closing and the gate disappeared. "We did it we did it" said kira "it's harder then the desert war you should de doing that next it's the last war and the but nick is going down.

“so you are the trouble some five well you and the resistant will never stop the force of my army” said robot nick “oh really you and what army” said all of five of them and robot nick turned around to see only ten sweat bots “but but how” he said scared wail all five hedgehog made fun of him and the resistant surrounded him “hay were is kima” said kira “she when to her own time I now because that’s what I do” said foxy “what happen you helped use win the hall war with out braking a swat” said sonia “hay what happen to every one from are time” said crash “they had to go back to help you get back to your own time” she said “that is true time portal only last so long” said kida
