Discription: This strange hedgehog holds many powers that deal with demons and other stuff. Tyler can cause much damage with these powers but not too much, Tyler is suppose to slay demons for her mother Lillian. During her childhood Tyler's devil hedgehog father left, he had to take care of the world below and stay on guard to PORTECT Lillian and the family. Tyler believes him but hates her life. She is part devil and demon but she doesn't know her mother is a goddess. Her younger brother Nick died by trying to save her from her shadow. Tyler must get revenge for what happened and stop everything. The only way to stop this maddness is to find the heart of another who suffers the same problem and join together. They will combine both hearts together and there will be a stronger hero who will stop at nothing to help Tyler anfdthe other. Each time Tyler is mad or really mad a demon will show up and take over. A devil demon of Tyler will take control after the demon has done it's last stage, which is Death. Tyler hates that so much. Tyler loves her friends and family very much and she will protect her mother from death just like her father. Tyler has many friends but her main friends help her out. She is gothic and does beat the crap out of her friends sometimes if they don't shut up. Tyler does live with her mom in a village, like Sonic, and does wonder around at times. She finds many homeless hedgehogs and tries making friends with a few who are teens and helps out the families that are homeless. Tyler usually let's them stay in her village. Tyler was given a neckalace to protect herself from demons and some find ways into her heart.
