RP Format

This is a quick summary to RP story format...just incase you don't know because some of my stories are in this arrangement.

Names will always appear in italics.

Names will always be followed by one colon.

Things inside two colons are the narrations, actions, and sometimes thoughts of that person.

Thoughts will always appear inside two colons and always inside quotes.

Things outside the two colons are what the person is saying.

Something that is in between stars/* is a title of a new setting or on look.

Things between stars/* anywhere besides the middle are usually sounds or specific things that are very self explanatory.
