Chapter 1 - Untitled	2
Chapter 2 - the beginning	3

1 - Untitled

Start

A

Second

Life.

2 - the beginning

The beginning:

The same feeling that I haven't had for a long time, I still feel sorrow about it.

I'm afraid, I feel the same fear as the child that took my place in the second life.

If he'll complete the task, fight until the bitter end.

that he would sacrifice himself, for my constantly older getting body.

It all started in a war no one predicted.

there were 1000's of reasons to stop this war immediately.

but no one dared.

some said it was predicted.

but what?

the death of thousands of villagers?

'everyone shall soon see the neverending hunting fields'

some yelled, before this terrible war started.

I was only 10 years by that time, a young but strong child.

I had my mom and my older brother to protect me, but that wouldn't be enough.

If I had to die I could have killed myself at the very beginning but then there wouldn't be a story.

I didn't know what was coming at me!

It was easy to see my mom was afraid even though she tried to hide it, her eyes said enough.

I was pretty sure of myself but I wouldn't dare to think about a second life..

Die young... then grow older and older and then live on as a child.

A little child, into the crewl world all alone.

to complete a task and then die again, that would be your second life or would it be your first? i Don't know what i do know:

it's A nightmare..
