Chapter 1 - They...

2

1 - They...

They...

Every day they tell you lies
Every day you will despise
The people we call the government

They want to bring the world together
They want to make what is called the one world government
They say it's a great thing but its not
The people we call the government

Everyday he'll tell you little white lies and empty promises
You will wish he is dead
The person we call the president

He will sign things behind your back
He will tell you terrorists are coming to get you but they're not
The person we call the president

It wants to be inside you
The government wants us all to have one
They want to know what were doing at all times and always want to know where we are
The thing we call the VeriChip

They'll say God doesn't exist
They'll say that they have super powers
The people we call scientologists

They want to gas us in a train
They want to re-educate you on the government
The people we call FEMA

We can't trust anyone anymore
They want to deceive you, warp your mind, and one day kill you.
The VeriChip is bad
The government is bad
The president is bad
FEMA is bad
They are all BAD
Be careful for what THEY wish for
