1 - out of the woods

rain pattered down in the forest a man with a low black pony tail sitting on a tree branch staring at the sky his hand gripping a white feather on a chain of black hair his little siblings leaned against each other sleeping against the tree he jumped landing in front of them "kanna hakudoshi" he whispered shaking them they had been here in this forest for three years since his twin sister left them sacrificed everything she wanted to give it to them "is everything alright byakuya" hakudoshi asked purple eyes opening "were leaving the forest" byakuya said helping the twins up "where are we going" kanna asked her voice flat she had showed no emotion since kagura left them "somewhere but we cant stay here forever" byakuya said picking up kanna putting her on his back hakuodshi walking next to him the wind blew lightly as if urging them on in there choice "she would want us to move on" kanna whispered byakuya ran his finger over the feather on his neck "move on but as long as she remembers us we shall never forget her" he whispered the twins nodding he started to walk hakuodshi right behind him there outfits where slightly torn from there years in the woods the air was cold but the wind blowing made them feel warm with the feathers on there necks "look" kanna said pointing with one pale finger towards a light in the distance byakuya nodded setting there course towards it soon they were at the edge of the forest near a building "do you think who ever is here is friendly" hakudoshi asked looking up at his elder brother a girl with black hair came out of one of the doors her eyes widened when she spotted them she dropped what ever she was carrying and darted over "are you three ok" she asked her eyes were chocolate brown gentle she was wearing a green and white uniform "its a long story we've been in the woods for about three years now" hakudoshi said turning his head away her eyes widened "why dont you come i and explain" she said urging them foward byakuya nodded taking hakudoshi's hand the girl entered the room first "inuyasha call everyone together" she said he nodded walking out "sit please whats your name i'm kagome" she said byakuya leaned against the wall letting kanna down "i'm byakuya my little brother is hakudoshi and my little sister is kanna and my" he cut himself off there was no use mentioning kagura she wasnt with them "huh" kagome said why had he cut himself off she looked at them seeing one thing they all had a black hair around there necks with a feather dangling from it she tried not to stare but couldnt help herself "its a reminder promise of sorts there wasnt always three of us it used to be four two sets of twins" he whispered looking at it they all looked away she got the hint they didnt want to talk about it "people didnt want to come out in the storm but i got yura to agree to let the eldest to stay with her conned my brother with rin into letting the girl stay with him and kohaku is willing to room with the younger boy" inuyasha said kagome nodded "will you show them where" she asked he nodded motioning to fallow

byakuya sat at the window of yura's room staring out with his eyes dull yura who was a hair demoness was laying on her stomach facing the tv of the room she looked over "you ok byakuya" she asked sitting on the edge of her bed he looked over at her sighing "just memories i still keep thinking she'll just fly across the moon land in front of us and we'll all be happy" he whispered looking back towards the window yura climbed off her bed and sat on her knee's next to him "what do you mean" she asked kicking her feet slightly she noticed his hair was smooth and started messing with the low pony tail "as i told kagome it used to be two sets of twins" he whispered she looked blank expression on her face "do you ever wear your hair any other way" she asked he laughed at how easily she got distracted and how at ease she was making him feel then he looked away he had felt this way when he and kagura were younger "no its been like this for my whole life me and my sister wore it in ties hers was always in a bun or a high pony tail when we were young she wore it flat she looked like a goddess back then no joke we had to keep telling people she was a being of earth doesnt help her element was the wind" he said tilting his head down slightly she put her arms crossed on the window sill tilting her head trying to maybe see what he was "are you all related" yura asked byakuya nodded "my younger siblings are void so they dont look like father or like mother did but me i look kind of like father with out the red eyes i have mothers eyes but kagura she was a mirror image of mother with fathers eyes but they were always gentle like mothers until" he cut himself off he was confiding in someone he just met trusting her how could he trust anyone but kanna and hakudoshi "kagura was your sisters name i guess that didnt help with the goddess thing since all three meanings of the name have god in them so which one was she" yura asked smiling at him her smile it was shattering his resolve "dance of the gods she could dance better than a pro the fact that she has mothers talent with the wind didnt help with looks during it she did everything to her fullest with a smile until" he cut himself off again closing his eyes tightly the feather pushed comforting him yura had a hand on his back "you were close weren't you" yura said he nodded "the bond of a twin is stronger than anything else almost i can still feel her every emotion not that theres much now its like she trashed them all that night" he whispered a tear sliding down the side of his face yura flicked it away from his face like his sister used to "then she can feel everything you feel i'm sure she doesnt want to feel your sorrow you should rest" yura said he nodded standing walking over to the second bed in the room lying down drifting into sleep

3 - evil amidst

i kneel in front of naraku i can feel my brothers emotions swaying left right up down where is he what is he doing "kagura" naraku says sternly i lift my head my red eyes meeting his he smirks at me "i know you can track down your siblings make sure my other children are safe i dont need you to do anything else right now dear" naraku says lifting his hand for me to stand i do so hands at my sides "should i use the insects" i ask he nods handing me a orange and red hive is smirk sliding it into my sleeve "i was getting curious about my brother anyway it has been three years since they have even seen me but i plan to stay hidden" i say turning around he throws something at me i catch it looking at it my palm "whats this for" i ask fake curiosity on my face he smirks "lets say if you want to play a few games that will keep you hidden like your mother you posses pure magic you can hide yourself using that" he says i smirk evilly "let me guess send who ever they're with in circles mind if i take a minion maybe destroy something" i say he smirked patting my shoulder "your getting it dear daughter no minion this time your strong enough on your own consider this the start to a larger mission" he says i smirk sliding the object into my sleeve "leave it to me i'll report in with the bugs i do have permission to kill anyone who gets on my nerves right" i say he nods turning his head towards the hole in his roof i did that cause i didnt want to use a door he doesnt mind as long as i keep on the track i'm on ever since i crossed the line three years ago even before that i've been his number one agent i draw a feather from my bun tossing it down the wind blows strongly lifting me up some part of me feels happy to get to see them again but my mission is overriding it what else would you expect from naraku lord of the under worlds right hand worker and daughter the wind flies across my face for a second i smile truly but then it goes back to an evil smirk i find myself in shikon "find them and report back to me" i say opening my hand the hive in the center of my palm several of the insects fly out going all over the city i fly up slightly out of sight the insects are naraku's calling card of sorts if you see them it means he or someone high ranking in his underworld ring is near by they are poisons i did kill someone by force feeding them once it was funny i feel the pleasure of the mission coursing through my viens i wouldnt be shocked if byakuya thought i was nuts if the pleasure goes through i'm sure he knows my calling card first person i kill i might leave on i expect i'll go on a spree just for the fun of it i might look like my mother but i'm my fathers daughter a insect comes back i'm sitting one leg out stretched i put my second finger out its legs land it buzzes "oh really" i say it buzzes again i smirk "go tell father" i say lifting my hand the insect flies off i fly to where it was a school dorm "dont be seen but see who all is here" i say letting more insects out of the hive i can feel byakuya asleep i cover the lower half of my face with my fan

i cast occasional glances at the boy i'm rooming with i know i've seen him before but i'm trying to remember where his eyes dart to the side "sh come on" he says pulling my hand i see a sickle in his belt that's it he used to work for father my partner for the short time i worked under father he points to my spear then his sickle then to a shoot it's a hell bug naraku's little spying poison insects i nod eyes filled with anger he's spying on us when he promised kagura he's leave us alone i swing my spear cutting a few bugs kohaku throws his sickle cutting a few more "you know what's going on what does your dad want hakudoshi" kohaku growls back to back with me the bugs are trying to sting us there smarter than normal more organized "i don't know i haven't seen him in years since you got away actually" i say spewing poison from the palm of my hand cancelling out the bugs the feather on my neck pulses making me stop a bug gets away "where's kagura" kohaku asks slicing a few more bugs as we go through town this damn place is infested how long has who ever the minion is been here "she left three years ago haven't heard from or about her since" i say my breath heavy a few bugs swirl in one spot on a branch a woman appears her eyes are red her hair is red and orange as is her kimono she has a hive in her left hand two stingers behind her ear her hair is in a high pony tail she has a chain with three stingers on it around her neck in her right hand hidden in her sleeve is a orange and red double blade i haven't seen her before "so you're the ones killing my bugs i have reports to fill you know" she said angrily moving the blade quickly sending a red ball firing at them inuyasha jumped in front sword drawn "who are you" he shouted everyone was surrounding the clearing the tree she was standing in "not the best place to be standing" she said snickering at the end the ground around the tree exploded sending anyone near it flying back "where did you get the bugs" kagome said aiming a arrow "oh you mean these guys i got my own hives i'm guessing you already know who i work for but i'm not here for him at least not completely he's got me on surveillance something about not wanting his second in commands twin turning her or her younger twins i think he's got her up in england wiping out a bloodline for the sake of their sick humor" the girl said a bug landing on her finger everyone glared at her before kohaku threw his sickle but it was blocked by a purple barrier "as i said he has me on surveillance but i need you guys to do something you work cold cases right" she said kagome lowered her arrow slightly "yes why" she said the girl smirked "lily moonsong my sister rose went missing the case went cold but i need to know what happened" she said throwing a file she vanished the bugs flying off "i don't like this" kohaku said as they walked back to the dorms

blood splatters red against the walls of perfect white like a flaw on the skin forever a tarnish i kick the body smirking father did say i could kill as i pleased and this morning i felt he urge to take out some random anger so here i am for i dont what number of time standing over a dead body i feel the pleasure coursing through me and briefly wonder again if byakuya thinks i'm nuts but he doesnt know just how good this can be if you let it people begging for mercy at your hands blood splatter against walls pooling at your feet watching people squirm before falling silent the body moving for a few seconds even after beheading i'm sick like my father and i know it i tap my fan against my chin then smirk again i change the body some using the bugs to move it before anyone wakes to where my siblings are staying what a nice sister i am the first time i see them in three years and i'm leaving a dead body at there front door. kagome yelled everyone shot up down the stairs there was a hung body from the balcony over her dorm lifeless eyes staring at them a note attached -dont even try solving that case- was all it said inuyasha smirked "someone's touchy on the topic means kidnappers still alive or killer let say we bust them i'll tell sesshomaru" he said jumping up i look at the body stunned a hell bug hovers near it before flying off again there sitting on a giant hell bug is lily she looks over "sorry i should of warned you thats why the case went cold to many people where dying looks like someone knows i asked" lily said tapping the bug it landed vanishing she walked towards the body her eyes narrowed "who ever did this and kidnapped my sister is dying by my hands" she growled punching a tree her breathing heavy she gripped her neck "its a twins mark your sister shes your twin isnt she" i say rushing over i help her stand "nice fo you to notice byakuya kagura worked with her for a little before she vanished that girl kills with out second thought she's never failed not once she's perfect daddies girl stinking curse her how can someone be so cold and sick" lily said leaning against the tree yura helped her walk "so you've seen my twin recently" byakuya asked lily nodded yura sat her down in a chair "is is she ok" hakudoshi asked lily frowned "she isnt who you remember her as have you payed attention to your twin mark lately and how much stinking pleasure is coursing through it life is like a game to her kill or get killed she blasted a stinking hole in the roof cause she didnt feel like using the door" lily said looking down byakuya froze then he gripped his neck like she had done "all all this joy is from killing" byakuya asked lily looked up "killing spying drug deals importing make out for money cause naraku says she isnt the innocent kid she once was she's her fathers daughter this is putting it nicely she's a lust filled angry evil devil" lily said byakuya's eyes widened he punched the wall "for the past three years we've been waiting for her to come back to us and she's been turning into a monster" he shouted tears sliding down his face yura hugged him making him sit down "i take it this case has something to do with naraku due to the insects all over the town" sesshomaru said walking in his eyes fell to lily who looked at him did he know her "yes my sister i thought she was dead she had been kidnapped when we were younger but recently my twins mark has started acting again" lily said sesshomaru nodded

6 - mass killing

I smirk lying down in the soft bed offered to me no one can see me smirk its hidden just like the rest of me my pleasure is on overdrive i've had a good day got up killed someone changed the body hung it in front of the girl who i now know is named kagome's door pulled everyone leg with lily who doesn't even exist her sister doesn't either just shows you what magic can do naraku is sending me a few soulless minions thank god i'm going to have so much fun on this i ruined my brother's day i should be mad at myself but seeing mr always calm punch a wall mr dream holder give up like that it increased the pleasure all that much more somehow i ended up staying with my little sister sesshomaru and his ward/little sister/daughter rin who is so cheerful for her own good such innocence does not last forever it would be wonderful if i shattered it she could be very skilled at her age i sit on the end of the bed sliding my slippers on and head for the door sesshomaru opens one eye "where are you going" he asks i smirk "for a walk" i say and to stage another body maybe or maybe i'll just blow something up part of me is angry and sad but i ignore it unless i'm killing it increases my power he nods i walk out to the forest i know i'm far away enough i put my hand on my chest taking the object off magic is useful but i can't fly nearly as fast with it and father wants to see me i soon landing through my hole in the roof kneeling in front of him he smirks pulling me up "you need something or did you just call me to hear my voice" i say tilting my head slightly cocky grin "your parade on byakuya was very may i say well written" he says i'm against the wall smirking up at him my hair is now in a high pony tail the back of his hand running down my cheek "got anything that needs blown up" i ask tilting my neck to the side he smirks "your enjoying this all too much to quickly its better if you watch the aftermath to watch the tears the anger the rage all the emotion then remember your immune" he whispers in my ear i smirk nodding he lets me off the wall i draw a feather flying into the night swarm of insects around my feather this is going to be fun i see the chief station for the us army time to make my presence as naraku's now second in command known "see how many people" i whisper one bug flies down allowing itself to be seen the people scatter but the bugs trap them in where i want them "naraku is coming call someone" a man yelled i smirk lowering on my feather the hive clear in my hand "sorry my father is letting me have my fun tonight" i say a demon jumps up in front of me "who are you and what relation do you have to naraku" he growled i smirk "kagura of the wind and i'm naraku's eldest daughter and his second in command die" i say slicing him with a wind blade in no time everyone besides me there lies dead on the ground i let a feather drop to the center then fly back to the middle of the forest resetting my little spell returning like nothing happened

i walk up behind lily she said she wanted to show me something like everyone else she flicks on the morning news in kagome's room where everyone has gathered "at first glance this horrible murder with all the insects around appears to be done by naraku but thats not what under lords are saying when they look at this they dont see a naraku murder" the news caster said i remember a intense pleasure last night no she couldnt of "looks like any other naraku killing to me" kagome said lily sighed "naraku didnt do this it isnt his style not one of his kills" lily says my eyes widened "so what is so different about this one we decided to ask naraku himself" the news caster said walking slightly naraku was standing there in his barrier looking pretty few insects flying around him people walking in the back round crap its a trap he's going to do something "so naraku why are other under world lords saying this isnt your doing" the news caster asks peppy tone in her voice he smirks he no longer wears a baboon pelt an i see kagura has his eyes "because it isnt but i did know of this in advance" he said the sick bastard i swear if he makes her show her face i'll kill him personally the people around dont notice the wind barrier formed around them he's going to strike all i can do is sit and watch her tear herself appart "how exactly did you know of this in advance" the news caster asks naraku smirks the camera moves a wind blade fires into the crowd "same way i knew of this one in advance" he says moving his arm to his side a tornado appears next to him shattering leaving a black haired demoness in front of him its kagura i know it is i felt a jolt of pleasure the second the wind blade fired "met my daughter and my second in command kagura" naraku said snickering he moved one finger she stood eyes locked with his "do i get to kill someone this time" she asks he smirks "not now later dear later" he says pulling her up to his side it makes me want to throw up the looks the smile the pleasure still cant beilive my kagura is gone the one i love knew am some reason still waiting for would do this "dont give up eventually she'll come around" sesshomaru whispered as he passed byakuya who looked back at him "my brother used to be a under world lord till dad did something about it before his death took a while but he came back to us she could still come back" inuaysha said byakuya nodded tear slipping down his face "i was once in her position and look at me now she's got something to fight for eventually that disire will over ride the lust to kill" lily said byakuya nodded "most of us even inuyasha started out as killers or slight wrongers its normally just a phase" koga and bankotsu said at the same time byakuya sat down yura next to him something is digging at my heart no nothing can be i dont feel i simply used a puppet to be on the news and here in my act tomorrow the break in the case will come and i wont have to see there petty faces anymore

a little girls scream breaks the air i grip my neck pretending it hurts a scream fires again my eyes widened like i realized something "rose" i say shooting up this is going to be so good i get a fake death even wonderful the things magic can do "what" hakudoshi says i open the door glaring back "that was my sisters scream i'm sure of it" i say darting out the door everyone behind me gulable fools i get thrown back by a fake blast of energy "come any closer and the girl dies" a mans voice says yep i got a puppet for the kidnapper to arent i a gunies "lily" the girl shouts i pretend to me mad but this is pleasuring me allot "let my sister go bastard" i scream frieing a red energy blast the man drops the girl i dart foward grabbing her jumping back "you ok rose" i ask the girl nods we stand side by side "i want pay back" she says i smirk drawing my blade to my side she does the same firing a double energy blast "thanks for the help i'm taking her far away to safety now if you ever see naraku tell him i quit" i say waving i use a insect to fly off but i want to go back why i catch the ginlt of sesshomaru's hair and my brothers damn the dog has my hypontized i know what he used to do my more animalistic disires are trying to take over shoot if i let them then i'm busted thats the one thing i cant get away with considering i've gotten away with murder literally clearly showed by yesterdays mass killing i land in the forest shattering the illsuion and taking off my act leaning against a tree i'm in a different kimono then my puppet now the real mission will start soon as emotions hit the right spot
