*Some people believe in magic, but some don't
There is nothing wrong with that, because people have different beliefs
I am one of the billions in the world who believe in magic
You may be one of the billions who believe in magic too
I can't real*

1 - Power of Love

The Power of Love

Some people believe in magic, but some don't

There is nothing wrong with that, because people have different beliefs

I am one of the billions in the world who believe in magic

You may be one of the billions who believe in magic too

I can't really tell because I don't have any super magic power

But the thing that is more important than anything else in the world (maybe except for life)

It's not magic or some cool super powers or fame

Its LOVE

Love for yourself and others

Love for friends

Love for family

Love for everyone in the world

You don't have to wait until they show it

Show it now!!

Just 1 smile for your friend

Just 1 hug for your mum

That's all you need

To show that you care for them.

The power of love.....
