THE LEGEND OF ZELDA

DAWN OF DESTINY

Chapter 1. The beginning

Long ago, when time was young, the three goddess descended upon the land that was the chaos of Hyrule & the goddess Din crafted the earth &. Farore gave life to the world &. And Nayru & Gave the spirit of life for all that would uphold the law....

With their jobs done, they departed for the heavens, and left the relic: the triforce in the land of the sacred realm.

Shortly after the hero of time has done his duty and delivered the final blow to Ganon, he returned to his own time, to his home in the Kokiri forest to see his best friend Saria...however.... things did NOT go as planned....

Link is in his house sulking about how to tell his best friend that he loved her, though.... they couldn't be together due to him being a Hylian and her being a Kokiri.

After days of sulking he received a message from Saria to meet her at the sacred grove- their secret place- and talk. He was astonished to hear from her, she had been missing for weeks on end... so after a.... Unimpressive visit with Midna, he raced through the forest... and finally to the entrance of the forest temple. There, sitting atop her favorite tree stump, Saria sat looking rather &. Stressed, like she had been sitting there for ages &. She spoke in a soft gentle tone & I have been waiting for you to come Link. She scooted to the edge of the seat and beckoned him to join her &. As he approached she seemed to start crying, so Link made a move to comfort her in his arms, but pushed them away. No &. We just &. Can't & she said in a tearful tone & But, Saria &. Why &? he replied in a confused voice. sniff you are a Hylian & and I am a Kokiri & we can never be together &. No matter how hard we try & we will always be pushed apart by our differences &. Link stared long and hard at the surrounding forest in a sad yet truthful look in his eyes. We may look different on the outside, but&. In the end, it's only the inside- that how we feel about and care about one another that matters! he spoke in a vain breath. I love you, link. With all my heart and more& So do I! link replied.

You and I will always be friends, and we will always have one another.

Saria started to cry. Goodbye link&. You know that Zelda told you to go home after you ended your adventure& This is my home, saria! This is where I was raised since I was a baby! link yelled with a fearful look in his eyes. Suddenly, saria started to fade from view like a mirage. Goodbye link&. I will always be here for you& and she vanished. NO!!!!!!! Don't go Saria!! After hours of sobbing and crying link turned to the Exit. Suddenly, a great pain seared its way throughout links entire body and let out a yell of pain, aaaaaaaaaaaaarg!! there was a faint explosion. Link lie on the ground unconscious, and where he had stood was a dark figure and spoke in a deity tone& At long last& I have finally awoken! I should probably kill you now, but now that you haven't any will to fight&. You are no longer a threat& He walked over to links unconscious body and stared at the triforce mark upon his right hand. So&. It's true&. You are the Hero that sent my master into the forsaken realm&. No matter. Now that I am walking once again, I will tear a hole into the sacred realm and have this land sent into oblivion!!! he let out a dark and terrible laugh of madness and vanished into the night&.

Chapter 2. Dark ambitions

Link had finally awoken for his unconscious state. groan what happened last night&? then he remembered his unfortunate get together with Saria.

He went into his house and grabbed up his sword, shield and other supplies. I should go see Zelda in Hyrule castle&. At the exit of the forest he met with one of the Kokiri kin and spoke to link. Link&. You're not going to leave again& are you&? He didn't speak. And gently pushed aside then spoke in a cold voice. I am not of Kokiri& I am not welcome here any longer&. She watched him go with a confused and astonishment. I should get to Hyrule castle town as quickly as I can to avoid Salfos in the night. So he ran as quickly as he could, only stopping to defeat any minor annoyances like Peahuts that tried to give him a buzzing. Just before he reached castle town, link agreed to rest at the inn before he went into the castle the next day.

Meanwhile in the depths of Death Mountain&.

The dark shadow figure stood council with many demons and monsters. It is time&. We will once again arise and destroy our common foes& those wretched and vile Hylians!!

We will let loose all those that have been defeated by the so-called hero & and cut down anyone fool enough to challenge us!!! The shadow creacher had slowly removed his cloak and reviled himself& it was shadow link! As soon as that blade is in my hands& He suddenly vanished into the shadows as all the demons had. All the demons had disbursed and vanished shortly after a brief startling roar fest.

Back in Hyrule town, link was preparing for his infiltration of the castle and dodging the guards to see the princess. He was currently at the Bazaar, bargaining with the shop owner over a set of explosives.

What!? 80 rupees for a set of bombs?! That ridicules! Link shouted in rage. Well&. Since you are one of my main customers, I guess I could let you in on a little discount& how do 50 rupees sounds? the tender replied. Well&. Ok, I guess&. Link handed a purple rupee the shop keeper and left the shop. time to head to the castle . Link thought to himself. He headed past the temple of time and for some reason found himself what felt like he was being pulled into and he resisted and pushed himself toward the castle. After dodging the guards patrolling the moat and swimming through the muggy waters, he pulled himself from the water and begun to push several boulders out of the way and made a mad jump for the ledge of the water seeping through the side of the castle, but had slipped and fell into the water again. There was a faint laughing from one of the trees nearby& then a shady character jumped from beyond a fence separating the Zoras River and the castle. It was Impa, Zelda s caretaker.

Ha ha ha&. You have come to the castle so many times and still haven t realized to simply open the door? she spoke in an amused voice and pointed to the metal door just besides him. But it s locked! he spoke irritably. Impa walked over and pushed the door mat aside. And there was a small metal key in a pouch underneath the mat. Links mouth hung open in shock and disbelief. Suddenly Impa looked dead serious and spoke in a harsh tone. We anticipated you would come. The princess has the need to see you. As well as the other sages. Impa pulled link from the moat. I shall take us to the great hall. She said solidly. And she through a strange nut similar to a deku nut into the ground and vanished in a poof of smoke.

Chapter 3. Distant calling

Link and Impa suddenly appeared inside of the castle courtyard surrounded by the guards anxiously awaiting both them. One of the guards spoke. We have awaited your return Impa. The princess grows impatient. Impa replies. Ah&. My princess&.you should learn that patience is a virtue&. No matter. Stand aside cronak, so that I may complete my appointed task. Right, right. Sorry to keep you. The soldier replies sadly.

Inside of the castle, the court was enormous, giant sculptures of the triforce and the three legendary goddesses stood by the large throne. Sitting upon the throne was none other than the princess of hyrule, Zelda. She seemed to be really stressed as they approached, only to discover that she was reading a scroll of another nation, from Termina. She suddenly looked into links face and quickly hidden the scroll from view and smiled at her visitor. Link! You re finally here! I have been waiting for you. Link smiled back. It s good to see you again Zelda. He Replied. Didn t Saria tell you to come here? she asked kindly. Suddenly link looked like he was about to start crying, and she realized quickly what must have happened and quickly went to apologize for what she had asked and started to comfort him. No matter. I just received a letter from Termina. I am not sure who sent it, but it sounds extremely serious. I hate to ask you of this, especially since you have just been dealt a tremendous blow&. But, I would think this also helpful to regain yourself from your pain. I would like you to visit Termina and find who sent this scroll and do what you can to help them. Would you do this for us? she asked. Link suddenly looked up and agreed. Wonderful! But you may need help&. Say&. Where is navi? you may find her assistance helpful on your new journey, you should find her and ask her for help again. And you will need transportation. We can lend you one of our finest horses. That s not necessary. Link cut in. I have my own horse, Epona. She may be a small horse, but she's definitely able to travel. Link finished. Good, then we shall have a feast before you leave. Zelda finished and vanished into her room. First things first, to Lon Lon ranch to get Epona from Malon.

Link had arrived from the castle at Lon Lon ranch. Malon raced over and nearly trampled him. Link it's so good to see you! And hugged him tightly. Link croaked. I need Epona. Oh that's all? she looked a little sad. It's ok, she's in the barn. I'll go and get her for you. And she raced into the barn. There was great commotion inside of the barn before the door suddenly busted open and Epona lunged at Link licking and nuzzling his face gently. Link busts into laughter. Malon walks over to Epona and gently strokes her mane. Be careful my dear horse. And she waved them off into Hyrule field.

Link had arrived at the feast in Castle Town market. Everyone that knew Link one way or another had shown up, including the Gorons and the Zoras, even a few Geirudos. Zelda had sat next to Link the entire time telling him feelings she had felt of dire circumstances in Termina, and that he shouldn't do anything he felt he wasn't ready for. When the feast was done, Zelda requested him to meet her in the Temple of Time so he agreed. In the temple, Zelda stood in front of the tablet of where the spiritual stones were placed to open the door of time, and she was holding the Ocarina of Time in her hands. She spoke softly. Your new adventure will be a extremely dangerous one. Take this with you. And she handed the Ocarina of Time to him and spoke, if you are ever in danger, play this song and she played the Song of Time. Fare well. My friend. My you journey see you safely back to us... and Link left. Only to have a last look over his homeland and vanished into mysterious woods.

Chapter 4. Vulnerability

A sinister smile came upon Dark Link's face, and let out villainous laugh. It's time to put our plans into action. He is gone and now we begin our attack. And those pitiful fools won't know what hit them! He suddenly had created many dark marks upon the ground and had begun to glow ominously. Dark demons and monsters began to spew from the dark marks and filled the top of Death Mountain. The dark figure stood from the spire which he sat. Now. The time has come. Reclaim that which belongs to us! Destroy all that gets in your way! First, go to the ancient temples and create permanent portals to the demon realm. And guard them. Until the time is right. That's right those portals need time to Resonate and Open a large enough gate. For THEM our great lords. Dark Link stood silent for a moment. Now, go my minions! Capture the temples and prepare for invasion! The demonic Vanished without a trace. Now.. It begins. I must find Light Bane and prepare for battle. Shadow Link vanishes into thin air.

In the temple of light

Zelda, Ruto, Nabooru, Impa, Saria, Darunia. You are needed at the temple of light. Rarue spoke calmly. Suddenly bright flashes of light blared in all the encirclements around the main chamber. What is it, Rarue? ruto asks irritably. All the others looked about to ask the same thing. Rarue looked stressed and worried. Have you felt the dark pulses of energy from termina? Yes, but do not fear, link is on his way their& I hope that the mask salesman will be able to assist him when he reaches the new land. Saria replied.

Yes. The mask contains great darkness. He should be able to assist our young hero on his quest&. The rarue turned to the others suddenly. That s not all&. We have unwelcome company, here, in Hyrule . What!? Naborrru replied shocked. Has& HE returned&. She asked fearfully. No&. at least& not yet&. I do not understand who could be so dangerous? I have sensed a strange force at hand, but& It doesn t seem dangerous& at the moment& Zelda replied. I do not know who this new enemy is, but we should all keep our eyes opened. We must find this new entity find its intent. Narue nodded and vanished. Ill keep my eyes on the forest and look for anything unnatural. . Saria had also vanished.

Impa. Darunia spoke. Hmm? Let us keep an eye on death mountain and kakoriko village. I have a bad feeling something bad is going to happen their. Darunia stopped speaking and vanished. Yes&. I have the same feeling& Impa disappeared. Well ruto, I guess we should keep our eyes on lake hyrule, hyrule field and zoras domain. Don t forget hyrule castle and castle town! ruto spoke oddly cheerily. Zelda smiled. Yes, of course. And they had both vanished.

Somewhere outside hyrule

Go now&. A meeting is surly ended by a parting&. However&. That parting needs not last forever& Go now&. Your deed is nearly done&. You have only one last task ahead of you&. Rise above the tower and end that which darkness had begun&your journey is almost done&. The face of the mask salesman had suddenly appeared and Laughed as it vanished into the darkness of the night.

Chapter 5. Dark Rising

In a faint darkness that looks similar to hyrule, hover savaged by darkness a dark Voice wrong in the void. It s finally mine&. At long last its time&. A menacing Laugh followed by a large wave of dark magic covered the misty land. Shadow link stood high above what looked to be castle town holding a mysterious long mysterious blade with a demonic emblem near the hilt. It pulsed a dark aura. The final key is in my hands&

Let the fun begin!!!!!! Shadow link stabbed the sword into the ground the force enough to cause an earthquake. A ray of light had begun to shine through the cracked earth where the blade had penetrated. Now& Go my brethren& Destroy&. The crack in the ground formed into a vortex. All the demonic beasts had lunged into them and had begun reckless engagements. In a crazed laugh shadow link followed.

What on earth&? What is this thing&. Impa had wandered onto the deserted shadow temple where the link had saved her from the demonic hand. But now a Dark mark rested in the center of the Arena. Impa closed her eyes and spoke. Rarue. Rarue can you hear me? Yes, have you found something? Rarue replied. Yes, can you see this? No it can't be. Rarue shuddered. What is it? Impa spoke impatiently. That is a dark requiem! You must seal it! A what? I never heard of it. I shall explain later, Seal that mark! Rarue roared. All right, all right. Sheesh. Impa looked irritable. She closed her eyes and chanted a strange spell and the mark was covered by a Light barrier. We must warn the others to search the ancient temples, there may be more! Rarue voice suddenly vanished. Well. I'd better go find the others. There was a faint cracking in the distance. Where do you think your going? Came dark voice. Impa froze and drew her dagger. Impa smiled. It's about time. I was worried that you wouldn't want to play with me. she turned to face the resurrected phantom hand. You had a cheap shot last time you demented piece of !#@ $ but this time im ready for you! she lunged and had plunged her dagger deep into the hideous glowing eye of the demon. Im not going to let you die yet though. I have some questions for you.

Meanwhile, Rarue had warned every one of the lurking dangers and had sealed all the marks in the temples. Phew that's the last of them. Rarue sighed. And just in time too. Link is returning, He is on his way now. Rarue had a faint smile on his face. Saria and the others had the same look. But their was a sudden earthquake that caused everyone to lose Interest at the project at hand, followed by hundreds of faint screams of terror all over Hyrule. Groan. Whats going on.? Nabooru moaned. He. Has started his attack. Ruto replied. We must return to the surface and help! Saria cried. We cannot. Raurue replied sadly. He is right little one. Darunia spoke softly. & However, we can warn others of the oncoming threat. And we should start right away! By the size of that tremor, Id say that demon has quite the army under its command. We have no time to waste. Zelda spoke. Saria, you go to the forest and warn everyone their to take shelter. Ruto, go to the zorass domain. Darunia, death mountain Nabooru, the desert. As for me, I will warn those in castle town hyrule field and Lon Lon ranch. They all had vanished on their appointed tasks.

Back at the shadow temple

A loud screeching roared throughout the shadow temple so loud that even some of the villagers heard the scream. The phantom hand dropped to the ground with a faint hissing sound as Impa,s Dagger pierced its eye, dead. No! Impa screamed. And she quickly made for the exit of the temple. I must let everyone know what's going on! she thought to herself. She flashbacks to the conversation with the collapsed Phantom demon:

How did you return to this world? Impa questioned.
HE RESERECTED ME. The phantom squeaked.
Who is He?
HE HAS NO NAME& BUT HE GOES BY THE NAME& LINK& The phantom replied coldly.
That's not possible! Impa roared. Link is on his way here Right now!
THE LINK YOU SPEAK OF& IS MY MASTERS&GREAT OTHER&.
What nonsense are you spouting? Impa asks irritably.
The demon explains the details about everything that happened after Link and Saria had spoken to each other. & Well? What does he want? Impa questions.

HE WANTS THE GREAT DARKNESS TO BE REBORN, AND THE BLOOD SPILT REPAYED WITH THE BLADE OF DARKNESS&.THE LIGHTS BANE&. TO RESERECT THE GREAT LORDS OF DARKNESS& And the phantom begins to laugh menacingly. Out of great fear, Impa kills the phantom with her dagger and races out of the temple.

Impa reaches the outside of the graveyard with a great chill in the air and smoke in the distance. Impa draws a circle in the gravel and vanishes into the temple of light and explains the situation. It s& Not possible&.is it&? Zelda looked shaken. Saria had started crying. It s all my fault&. She dropped to her knees crying. Ruto and Nabooru walked over to comfort her. No&. It is not&. Raurue replied coolly. It was going to happen at somepoint&. He turned his back to the others. All we can do now is wait and hope for link to arrive as soon as possible.

Chapter 6. The age of darkness

Link had finally returned from termina. Just one last mountain&. He thought to himself. As he reached the top of snow peek that had separated Hyrule from Termina, He stopped with a sudden drop of color and dropped to his knees as he saw the land&.

It was completely covered in what seemed to be a thick smoke brightened only by the bright angry glow of Death Mountain. Wha&.what happened....? Everything&.Its&.

Link is stunned by the sight.

Link! a familiar voice suddenly called out to him. Who? link turned around in circles multiple times. It s me, Zelda! We are at the temple Light! Hurry! Go to the temple of time, we shall meet you their! and the voice disappeared. Link had started running toward castle town.

The darkness had covered almost the entire town by the time link had arrived. But all the people and towns people were nowhere in sight. Where is everyone&? He asked himself. He had ran into the center of the temple of time when the back door of the temple slammed shut and ghastrly voice wrung in the air. Ha Ha Ha&.. I never expected you to survive in termina& You may truly be worthy of the title Hero But I will need to see proof that you can fight with my own two eyes& The voice had vanished. Suddenly their was a blinding flash of light, and a tall, Wide, armored knight appeared wielding a tremendous axe had appeared right in front of the door of time. If you think you can wield that which is inside this building&. Then you must pass ME!!

The Iron knuckle cracked. Link grinned. An Iron knuckle? That s all? This will be easy! hearing his amusement, The Iron knuckle suddenly threw his axe with great force at him. Whoa! Link dodged. Hey!! That s not nice! You coulda really hurt me with that! Link yelled angrily. The iron knuckle chuckled and drew an enormous sword. Now&. Let s see what you ve got, Runt!! links eyes suddenly changed marble black and dodged his attack. He turned and swung his sword at the strap holding his armor together. But it clanked and missed on the back of the iron knuckles shield. Ha!

Not bad, but not good either! The knuckle swung his giant sword with great speed and just barely sliced through links tunic. Then swung again this time link was forced to try and use his deku shield.crack! link was smashed into a wall. My shield! the deku shield split in two. The Iron knuckle started toward him. Link suddenly gotten really angry and made a lightning fast dart around him and sliced through the iron knuckle guards. His armor clanked onto the ground. Why? You? The now angry iron knuckle charged at link at full speed ready to finish him. The at the last minute, link lunged with his kokiri sword and plunged it through his throat. The iron knuckle stumbled and fell to the ground. He dropped his sword and shield and vanished in a purple mist. Link stared at the hylian shield lying on the ground. Well, that will teach you to break peoples stuff. He grabbed it and placed it on his back. Well, at least this will survive a lot longer than my old one. He told himself.

Link stared at the spiritual stones shining on top of the mantle. He took out his ocarina and started to play the song of time. The door of time suddenly shifted and parted the way. Suddenly a gale of magic pulsed from the room behind it. All the dark fog that had surrounded the room was forced outside.

Wow. He started into the room to see the awesome blade of evils bane. The Master Sword. Suddenly the blade had begun pulsating again with immense amounts of pure, raw power. Link smiled remembering the journey that they had both endured. Suddenly all of the elemental emblems around the room began to glow in their own colors. Then he felt as though he was being pulled into another room. He closed his eyes and felt like he was placed in ice water.

Link opened his eyes. He was in the chamber of sages again, just like when he was awakening the sages. It's good to see you again. I knew you would make out all right. A kind voice spoke. Link turned. It was Saria. Link looked confused and began to shake. Listen. Saria blushed. I. I know that I really hurt you. I'm so sorry.

A tear ran down her face. Link, suddenly alarmed walked over and wiped the tear from her cheek. Saria smiled at him and gave him a hug. There was a bunch of faint chuckling and giggling behind him. Now, now, let's save all the lovey-dovey stuff for later kiddies. Darunia chuckled. Link and Saria both blushed shyly. This is serious. We have a big problem and we need your help again link. Rarue retorted. Will you lend us your strength again, young hero? Rarue asked. Link nodded. You will probably realize that all the townsfolk have gone missing have you not? They are here. In the temple. What happened? What is the fog outside, why is everyone in the temple of light? - Link cut in.

They are here because of a dark entity is at work. A very powerful foe. One that YOU must defeat. Rarue turned to examine a tablet behind him. The room quieted. This tablet shows a legendary war led by a great hero. It was predicted that it would happen again. I fear that this is that time. However, it speaks of two blades of great power combined to defeat the hero's ultimate foe. He turned and smiled. Did you know, that the very blade that cut down Ganon was the first of those two swords? Rarue asked. Link's eyes boggled. But. What about the second? Link asked. We do not know. Only that it is a forgotten blade of mysterious origin. We will continue to search for details about this hidden blade. Meanwhile. He turned to link. You must draw the master sword again. Link smiled. I will be happy too. You must return to the ancient temples. There are dark marks in each temple. Stab the center of each mark to dispel them. Those are creation marks that our dark entity is making for the demons and dark creachers to come to our world. Rarue opened a strange box that had been lying in the center of the room. Here is the equipment that you had on your last journey. It will be most helpful to you. He hands link a Bundle of supplies including his Old bow and arrows as well as bombs, Gauntlets, Zora armor and goron armor. Now, return to the Temple of time, Reclaim the blade of evils bane, and dispel the dark marks. We will tell you if something happens with dark link, or have found news of our missing sword of legends. Rarue and the others rose their hands. Whoa! link vanished in flash of bright blue light.

Chapter 7 the meeting

In a bright flash of light, link reappears in the temple of time.

Whoa& im never going to get used to that& Behind him a powerful force forced him forwards toward the entrance of the temple. Gwa, Ha, Ha ha! Link shivered a little at the laugh. Oh&great&I remember that laugh& Not now& In a poof of smoke, Phantom Gannon had arrived. Ganon smirked. I know why you re here you little nuisance& Im not going to let you get the blade of evils bane& not this time&. Ganon drew his phantom sword. Prepare to die!!! He raced of to where link was unready and madly swung his blade, however link had managed to dodge out of the way with the hookshot that he a retrieved from rare and quickly tried to counter attack while ganons back was turned. But to no avail. Wha&.? The blade just passed through it like smoke. What the&? Phantom ganon laughed. Don t you know&? Shadow can only be purged with light& not pathetic metal! ganon swiftly took to the air and summoned a ball of lightning and hurled it at link. Link tried to dodge but a bolt of electricity jolted from the point of impact and shocked him. Gaaa! link collapses. Ha, ha, ha, ha! How have you gotten so weak since last we met? No matter& all the easier to me!! ganon gathered more energy in his palm and shoots another lightning ball. Link stares for a moment and pulls out one of his bottles. grunt well& here goes nothing&

Link took the bottle and swung it with all his might and caused the tremendous lightning bolt to reflect and smash back into shadow Gannon, GRAAAAHH!!!! &&. Everything was silent except that shadow Gannon s sword fell to the ground with a clunk &well, that s interesting& ha-ha& That s GOTTA suck&.

Suddenly the Door holding the Master sword swung open. Link walked beside it slowly.

The blade glowed and sparkled as if sensing a great new adventure. Link took the blade by the handle and pulled, it forced up and bellowed pure light energy through the entire temple, as well as a large aura surrounded link and began to change him.

Link lay for a moment and opened his eyes slowly. Unn& deja voo& he looked around. Everything was the same as he was moments ago& though he could still use the items that he had when he was a kid!

Link! A voice echoed around the temple. you have mastered the Blade of evils bane& You will not proceed to the future& it is far to risky for this task& So& I m still in the same time as I was as a kid still? Just Im older? He asked confused. that is correct.
