The war of love

By sonadowluver93

Submitted: July 6, 2006
Updated: July 6, 2006

Sonamy story for Amyfan2004

Provided by Fanart Central.

1 - the transformation of amy

Normal POV

Sonic just ran away from Amy, leaving her in the park alone. He accidentally ran into Tails, knocking him to the ground.

"Sorry, buddy. Amy's after me again!" Sonic said, helping him up.

"Heh. It's alright." He said with a smile. He then heard a familiar voice calling Sonic's name. The blue hedgehog must have heard it too, because he quickly took off. Amy ran up to Tails, looking kind of tired.

"Tails? Have you seen Sonic? I was going to ask him if he wanted to go to the movies with me, but he sped off." She sighed.

"No, sorry Amy!" He said, walking away. Amy sighed as she started to walk back to her home.

Amy's POV

I slowly started to walk back to my house.

'Sonic never wants to do anything with me. He always runs away. Maybe... I should listen to him when he says he doesn't like me. I... guess that's it then... .' I thought as I went into my house.

My house is mid-sized. The walls are white. I have pink and white furniture, with blue mixed here and there. I walked to my room which was covered in pictures of him. One by one, I took them down, leaving the walls bare and put them in my closet. I sighed as I sat on the bed, looking at my practically empty room. I then looked at my clothes and notice I've worn the same type of outfit for the past 3 years.

"Guess I'm going shopping tomorrow." I said to myself, lying down and falling asleep.

Sonic's POV

I quickly ran away from Tails when I heard her voice. I would have kept running if I hadn't run into an old friend.

"Fiona! How are you?" I asked the purple and black fox in front of me. She was just like Tails, except taller. Loved to play with machinery and had two Tails. She wore a green tank top and green army pants.

"I'm great! I haven't seen you in a long time!" She said to me. She smiled widely.

"What are you doing here?"

"Came to look around… Why are you in such a hurry?" She asked me.

"Remember Amy? She was probably about to ask me to marry her for the 5th time today." I sighed.

"Wow. She must really like you." Fiona said with a smile.

"Like me?! She tries to kill me everyday!" I almost shouted.

"Sonic… You have fun with that. If you need me, I'm staying at the 'Holiday Inn'." She said to me before she twisted her tails and took off. I sighed as I ran back to my house. When I went in, I collapsed on my couch.

'Wonder.. When she's gonna call me tomorrow.' I thought before falling asleep.

Next day. Amy's POV

I slowly woke up, noticing I had fallen asleep in my clothes. When I looked around, I remembered what had happened the day before and what decision I made. I sat up and sighed.

'Alright. I don't need him! I always had to suck up to him and let him get away with whatever he wanted! Not anymore!' I thought smiling widely as I stood up. I walked over to my dresser and picked up my brush. I slowly began to brush my quills, not wanting to get any stuck in the brush. After I looked myself over in the mirror, I picked up my wallet and set out for the mall.

"Now where to go.." I said to myself, starting to walk through the large building. Soon, I walked out of the mall carrying a bunch of bags. I had bought a pink tank top with blue, hip-hugger jeans. I bought a few scrunches and some new bracelets, along with a new pair of shoes. On my walk home, I saw him talking to Tails so I thought I'd say hello. I slowly walked over.

"Hi guys!" I said with a smile.

"Uh.. Hi Amy." Sonic said to me.

"Hi Amy! What's with the bags?" Tails asked me, pointing to them.

"I decided to go shopping. Well, I better go home and put them away. Bye!" I said, walking away. It felt good that I could talk without making a fool of myself or embarrassing Sonic. I soon found myself putting my new clothes on and putting my dirty ones in the laundry basket. I looked in the mirror and pulled back my hair with a red scrunch. I kept my bangs hanging and I really liked the way I looked. I took off my current bracelets and replaced them with the plastic blue ones. One on each hand. Finally, I put on my new shoes. I decided to go out and get something to eat.

Sonic's POV

I woke up, expecting to hear my phone ring. I waited a half hour, but didn't get any calls.

"She was supposed to call." I said to myself. 'Wait! You don't want her to call! This is a good thing!!' A little voice in my head said. I silently agreed with it and got up. I picked the phone up and called Tails. I wanted to hang out with him today.

Tails and I were walking down the road, talking about random stuff until I saw Amy walking towards us. I prepared myself, in case of an attack.

"Hi guys!" She said with a smile. She didn't screech my name or tackle me.. Something must be going on..

"Uh.. Hi Amy." I said.

"Hi Amy! What's with the bags?" Tails asked her, pointing to them.

"I decided to go shopping. Well, I better go home and put them away. Bye!" She said walking away.

"Wow.." I said, a little impressed. Nothing happened!

"What?" Tails asked me with a confused look.

"She didn't do anything!" I said with a smile.

"Heh.. Yea. Wonder what's going on.." He said.

"Me too.." I agreed.

Amy's POV

I walked out of the house, deciding to go to a diner. While I was walking, I saw Sonic walking by himself.

'Maybe I should invite him to lunch. It is annoying to eat by yourself.' I thought walking up to him.

"Hi Sonic. What are you doing?" I asked him.

"Hi, Amy. Just walking around. Why?" He asked, looking at me.

"I wanted to know if you'd like to join me for lunch. My treat." I said with a smile. It took him a minute, but he finally said yes.

We sat at a small booth, reading out menus. I was going to get a cheeseburger.

"What are you going to get?" I asked, closing up my menu and placing it on the table.

"Uh… Chilly dogs for me." He said with a smile, putting his menu down as well.

A waitress came up to us and took our orders down on a small notepad. She told us she'd be back momentarily and disappeared.

"Amy, I like your new outfit." He complimented me with a smile.

"Thanks, Sonic. I decided that that dress was too annoying.." I said, returning the smile.

"Hm.. At least your hammer will still match your top." He said.

"Yea. I'm thinking of getting rid of it though." I said, playing with one of my bracelets.

"What? Why?" He asked me.

"I don't really need it. It's just something extra for me to be weighed down by."

"Alright, Ames. It's your hammer." He said sitting back as the waitress came back with two plates of food and two cups.

We ate, talking about other things. When we finished, the waitress handed me the receipt and I paid, also giving her a $5 tip.

"How much was it?" Sonic asked me as we walked out.

"I'm not telling you. Well, goodbye!" I said, walking away from him. I walked home to be greeted by one of my very old friends.
"Nari!" I said, giving the mahogany hedgehog a friendly hug. I haven't seen him for years!

"Amy! How are you? I love your new look!" He said to me, looking me over. I giggled slightly.

"I'm great! And thanks. I just got these clothes yesterday." I said.

"Well, you look absolutely beautiful in them." He complimented. I blushed slightly at the comment.

"Thanks. You wanna come over for a little while?" I asked him.

"Um. Sure! I just moved here, so I can't stay too long. I have to unpack." He said with a smile.

"Alright. Come on!" I said, leading him to my house and inside.

Sonic's POV

Amy invited me to lunch and I actually enjoyed hanging out with her. She left in kind of a hurry though.

'That new outfit makes her look really cute.. Wait.. Why would I think about he.. God.. I DO like her!' I thought with a sigh. I smiled slightly though. I went to go tell her, but I saw her hugging some hedgehog. I slowly walked away and back to my house.

"Who was he? And why was she hugging him? He's probably just an old friend! Nothing to worry about!" I said to myself. I sat on my couch and turned on the television, trying to find something that catches my interest. I turned on the news and saw something that wasn't too much to my liking. Eggman and a bunch of his goons were tearing up the city! I sighed as I got up and started to run.

2 - New love, new hate

Not as long as the first chapter, but I thought it was a good idea to end it there! ^ ^

Amy's POV

We walked into my house and sat on the couch.

"So.. Would you like some coffee?" I asked him.

"Sure. Thank you, Amy." He replied with a smile.

"You're welcome. You can turn on the Television if you like. It will take a few minutes." I said, getting up and walking into the kitchen. I heard the television turned on and a news reporter was talking.

'Here in Station Square, Doctor Robotnick is at it again..' A man said. I gasped slightly and ran into the room. I looked where the reporter was standing and sighed.

"What is it?" Nari asked, I guess confused about my sigh.

"Eggman is only a few blocks from here.." I said, sitting on the couch and putting my hands on my forehead. If he gets any closer, my house could be destroyed easily!

"Then let's go give him a visit! I've been.. 'Training,' and have been waiting for a challenge." He said with a smirk getting up. I looked at him with a smile as I got up too. In a quick move, I was in his arms. The sudden move scared me, but I smiled happily while looking at him. He walked me out of the house and quickly started running. I didn't realize how fast he could run before. We were in front of Eggman in less then 10 seconds!

"Amy! I see you have a new friend.." Eggman said, turning toward us.

"Don't worry Amy." He said simply to me. He let me stand, but still had an arm around my shoulders. He put his left hand up and we were surrounded by some kind of energy.

"Hey! Where'd you go?" Eggman barked, looking around.

"Huh? What's going on?" I asked Nari.

"Something I learned, as well as this." He said with a smirk, looking towards the robot. He kept his hand out, facing the large robot. He closed his eyes and sighed. Suddenly, energy shot from Nari's hand and went straight through the robot.

"How'd you do that?!" I asked, practically jumping up and down. The energy around us died as he put his hand down.

"I told you. I've been training!" He said with a smile to me.

"I guess Sonic has some competition then.." I replied giggling. I really liked being with Nari. He was nice, sweet and strong. I think I like him..

"Who?" He asked with confusion in his voice.

"Me." A familiar voice said from behind. We turned around to see a blue hedgehog standing behind us.

"Hi, Sonic! This is my friend, Nari." I said, introducing them

"Hello. Amy says that you've got competition." He said with a smirk to Sonic.

"Yea. He can run really fast, too." I said to Sonic. He didn't look too happy to meet Nari for some reason, but when he looked at me, I felt guilty. I don't know why, but I did.

"Nice to meet you." He said, walking off.

"Wonder what's gotten into him.." I said to myself.

"Well, I think I should get back to my house. I'll bring you to yours, alright?" He said with a smile, looking down at me. He was slightly taller, but tall enough he could look down.

"Alright." I said as we started back.

Sonic's POV

When I reached the area Eggman was terrorizing, I found a large robot with a hole going straight through it and that hedgehog again with an arm around Amy!! I walked over and heard the way Amy talked. The tone she was using was the tone when girls were flirting.

"Who?" He said to Amy.

"Me." I said, less then happy. They turned around and looked at me.

"Hi Sonic! This is my friend, Nari!" She said with a large smile. It was weird not having her tackle me. I actually miss it.

"Hello. Amy says you've got competition." He said to me.

"Yea. He can run really fast too!" Ames said giggling.

" Nice to meet you." I said, walking off.

How could she do this to me?! She was just stalking me the other day and now she's in the arms of some hedgehog!

I walked into my house and collapsed on the couch.

I lost my chance. My one fracking chance. It hurt so much to see her in the arms of someone else. I sighed, closing my eyes.

'I guess I'm leaving.. 'Nari' can handle Eggman..' I thought as a tear ran down my cheek.

3 - The truth is revealed

I feel VERY good. 2 chappies in one day, maybe if i get a chance, 3! Here you go Amyfan2004!

Sonic's POV

I sighed again and sat up. What would I bring with me? Money of course, but is there anything else I needed?

'Guess this is it.. Better leave a note.' I thought standing up. I went into the kitchen, took out a piece of paper and pencil, then started to write.

'To whom ever is reading this:

I have decided to leave Station Square. Amy's friend Nari can help you handle Eggman, I'm sure.

Tails, You were right. I do have feelings for Amy, but that doesn't matter anymore.

Wish everyone the best of luck,

Sonic"

I left the paper on the table and walked to my room. I looked at a picture.. Of me and her. I sighed as I picked my wallet off the dresser and looked around the house one last time before setting out. I ran out of the city and kept running, trying to find a place where I could maybe start a new life…

Amy's POV

Nari dropped me off and told me where he lived. We had set up a date for tonight. It was going to be so much fun! We were going to go to dinner and a movie! I can't wait. What am I going to wear!?

--

Only 2 hours until our date. I went to get ready until my phone rang.

"Hello?" I said into it.

"Amy! It's Tails! Come over to Sonic's house right away!" He said frantically.

"Why? I have to.." I started.

"Just hurry up!" He said, sounding as if he was crying.

"Alright. I'll be right there." I said before hanging up. I sighed as I started to walk out of the house.

I soon found myself in front of everyone, looking like they were sad and confused.

"What's going on?" I asked everyone.

"Sonic's missing. He left a note, but didn't say where he was going.." Rouge said.

I gasp and took a step back. For some reason, I felt my heart shatter into a million pieces. Sonic never ran away from his problems! Why would he now?!

"L..Look.." Tails said with tears streaming down his face as he handed me the note. I kept reading the one sentence over and over again..

'Tails, You were right. I do have feelings for Amy, but that doesn't matter anymore'

He liked me?!? He always said that he didn't want to go out and didn't love me! God. I bet because of the way I was with Nari… It's all my fault! I burst into tears as I fell to my knees. Rouge sat next to me and wrapped her arms around me.

"Don't worry.. We'll find him.." She said. I could tell she was very upset, but I was even worse then Tails. This was all my fault!

"Does anyone know where he would go?" Knuckles asked.

"I'll g..get in the Tornado and see if I can find some trace of him.." Tails said as he started to twist his tails and fly to the Mystic Ruins.

"Hey. What's going on?" Someone asked from behind. I looked up and saw Shadow.

"You… Wouldn't care.." I said to him..

"Amy.. Please tell me.." He said, kneeling next to Rouge and I. He was being really nice and I couldn't say no..

"Sonic's gone.." I said shakily.

"Hm.. Alright… I'll try to look for him." He said before running off. I was surprised he was actually going to help us. I looked at Rouge and sighed.

"Amy.. Come on.. Let's go look for him." Rouge said to me getting up. She held out her hand and I took it. Rouge pulled me up.

"Let's go." Knuckles said to us as we started to walk from Sonic's house.

Sonic's POV

I found myself in a city called Westopolis. I started to walk around until I saw a familiar person walking around. He looked like he was looking for something.

"Shadow? What are you doing here?" I asked him.

"Looking for you. What the hell were you thinking?!" He yelled at me.

"That's none of your business." I replied, turning around and crossing my arms. I felt like him for some reason.

"Sure as hell is Amy's." He mumbled, starting to walk away.

"Wait.. What did you say??" I asked turning around and catching his arm.

"Last I saw Amy, she was in tears because of you." He said with anger in his voice as he snatched his arm away.

"So? She has Nari to comfort her." I said, turning back around.

"Don't be too sure of yourself. He's a red-brown hedgehog.. Right?" He asked, raising a brow.

"Yea, why?" I asked.

"Damn." He said running off.

"What the..?" I said. I quickly ran after him, wanting to know what was going on.

Amy's POV

While we were looking for Sonic, I ran into Nari.

"Hi! Look.. I can't go out tonight.." I said, looking down.

"Why?" He asked. I could tell he was hurt. I sighed.

"Sonic's missing and we have to find him." I said, looking up at him. I looked into his eyes and saw something weird.. I've never seen it in Sonic's eyes before.

"Nari! Get away from her!" A dark voice yelled. I looked past him and saw Shadow.

"Why?" Nari asked with a smirk. Something was up, but why was Shadow yelling at Nari.

"Damn it, you know why! Lunare, it's the easy way or the hard way!" He growled.

"Tsk, tsk, tsk.." Nari said shaking his head still smirking. He shot a cold glance towards Shadow. His fur started to change color. It went from mahogany to black. His eyes changed from black to mahogany. I fell backwards, startled by what just happened.

"You know, Shadow. I'll make this quick and painless since I feel like being generous today.." He said, raising his hand to Shadow. My eyes widened, but I quickly got up and tackled him to the ground, causing his shot to misfire.

"Nari! What are you doing?!" I yelled at him. He only laughed crazily before shoving me off. I didn't hit the ground, but was caught by Sonic.

"Don't you DARE touch her." He growled.

"Is that a challenge?" Nari said, getting up.

"Yea, it is." Sonic said, gently placing me down and walking over to him. I couldn't believe it. He was fighting for me!

Sonic's POV

I followed Shadow and saw Amy tackle a black hedgehog. I quickly ran behind her and caught her when he shoved her off.

"Don't you DARE touch her." I growled, holding Amy gently.

"Is that a challenge?" He asked, getting up.

"Yea, it is." I said, gently placing Amy down and walking next to him. If he wanted to hurt Amy, he was going to have to go through me!

He quickly threw a punch, but I ducked and kicked him in the stomach. He was sent back a little, but it didn't seem to bother him.

"So.. This is the great Sonic? What kind of kick was that?" He said to me. This guy was getting on my nerves.

4 - Final Chapter: Breif encounter

Sonic's POV

He quickly threw a punch, but I ducked and kicked him in the stomach. He was sent back a little, but it didn't seem to bother him.

"So.. This is the great Sonic? What kind of kick was that?" He said to me. This guy was getting on my nerves.

"Lunare!" Shadow yelled. The black hedgehog turned around, which gave me the perfect opportunity to strike. I kicked him in the head and sent him spiraling backwards.

"Why you little basterd!" He said to me. He disappeared into thin air.

"What the..?" I said to myself, looking around. I got hit from behind and there he was. He looked at me as if he was better. He then looked at Amy, who looked back at him horrified. He kneeled next to her and brushed his hand through her quills. I was now beyond angry. I quickly got up and ripped him off of her. I threw him into a tree. He smirked at me. He disappeared again, but I kept my guard up. I heard Amy scream from behind, but didn't see anything. That was the problem. She was gone.

"Where the hell did she go?!" He yelled, looking around. I was angry. He could have done anything to her! I heard a loud thud from behind and saw Nari on the ground and Amy looking beyond pissed.

"Don't you DARE touch me!" She yelled stomping down on his spine. He yelled in pain. I couldn't believe she was able to get him in that position.

"Chill out, Amy.." He said.

"Why are we even friends?!" She yelled picking him up by his quills and throwing him hard against a tree.

"Because.. We've been friends.. Since we were little!" He said, getting up slowly. He looked like he was hurt.

"That's because my mother forced me to hang out with you! You're nothing but a spineless little mama's boy! You and your gay self better get out of here before I kill you!" She yelled, picking him up by the quills and looking him dead in the eyes. She started to run, Nari still in her grasp. After a second, she threw him in front of her and he hit a bench, making it tip over and falling into the small stream with him.

"You don't tell me what to do!!" He yelled getting up. He stuck his hand towards Amy. She disappeared from sight and reappeared behind him, hitting him hard in the head, causing him to go unconscious.

Amy's POV

Nari hit Sonic in the back of the head and looked at me with. I looked into his eyes and felt horrified. I knew he was going to do something, but what? He then kneeled next to me roughly ran his fingers through my quills. Sonic quickly got him off me and threw him into a tree. He disappeared, but I felt something go around my waist and something pressing against my lips. I screamed, not knowing what it was. When I realized it was Nari, I pushed him off and punched him in the face, sending him to the ground.

"Don't you DARE touch me!" I yelled, stomping down on his spine and making him yelp.

"Chill out, Amy.." He said to me. I cant believe he said that after trying to make out with me!!

"Why are we even friends?!" I yelled picking him up by his quills and throwing him hard against a tree.

"Because.. We've been friends.. Since we were little!" He said, getting up slowly. He looked like he was hurt.

"That's because my mother forced me to hang out with you! You're nothing but a spineless little mama's boy! You and your gay self better get out of here before I kill you!" I yelled, picking him up by the quills and looking him dead in the eyes. I was ready to kill the next thing that laid a hand on me. I started to run, Nari still in my grasp. After a second, I threw him in front of me and he hit a bench, making it tip over and falling into a small stream with him.

"You don't tell me what to do!!" He yelled getting up. He stuck his hand towards me. I knew what he was going to do, so I ran my quickest and hit him hard in the head, causing him to go unconscious. I picked him up and carried him out of the water. I then threw him onto the ground and began to get the small patches of dirt out of my shirt. I noticed everyone staring at me like I was crazy.

"What?" I asked.

"You just… Sonic couldn't… How the hell did you do that?!?" Rouge babbled.

I only shook my head and picked up his limp form. I walked over to Shadow.

"Can you take him somewhere far?" I asked him.
"Sure." He said simply as he took the unconscious hedgehog out my arms and disappeared in a green light. I looked at the remaining 3 and smiled widely when my eyes set on Sonic. I quickly ran up to him and threw my arms around him, being careful not to knock him over.

"I'm sorry." I whispered, holding him tight.

"It's alright Ames." He said with a soft smile, gently running his fingers through my quills. I looked up at him with adoring eyes. I realized I could never stop loving him. He'd always be my true love..

"Why didn't he hit you though?" Sonic asked me, a little confused.

"Well, we used to be best friends. I've known him since I was very little." I sighed.

"Look.. I'm sorry I.." He started until I interrupted him.

"Don't be.." I said, smiling softly.

"Uh.. Not to break this up or anything, but Tails is still flying around looking for you.." Knuckles said to Sonic.

"How are we gonna get to him?" Sonic asked, letting me go and turning to the other two.

"Uh.. That's a good question.." Rouge said.

"Doesn't Tails have a communicator in his workshop that let's you talk to whoever is in the plane? I remember using it." I said with a smile.

"That's a great idea! Let's get going!" Rouge said taking Knuckles' hands and taking flight. I looked at Sonic with a warm smile. He smiled back and picked me up. He quickly started to run and we found ourselves in the mystic ruins. He ran us to Tails' workshop and let me stand. I walked in with Sonic close behind and walked up to a computer. I sat in the chair and pushed a few buttons, making it turn on. In a minute, we could see Tails in the plane. I picked up the small walkie-talkie and talked into it.

"Tails?" I said into it.

"Amy! I can't find him!" He said into his.

"I know. He came back, so you should come back." I replied.

"Alright. Be there in a little while." He said before putting his radio down. I looked at Sonic with a large smile as I returned the radio to it's rightful place as well.

"Amy…" He said softly with a smile. I got up and walked in front of him.

"Yes, Sonic?" I asked, looking into his eyes. I couldn't look away. I was lost in his beautiful emerald orbs. He did something I didn't expect. He pressed his lips against mine. I wrapped my arms around his neck, bringing him closer. We stayed like that for a little while until we needed to breath…

"My Sonikku.." I whispered, smiling widely.