Chapter 1 - Fourth Part

1 - Fourth Part

Jak just stared and soon Ashlien came running up with her gun still drawn and ready to fire. I stood there like a statue, "She IS a wolf!" Ashlien said, Jak was staring still and his stare was beginning to bug me. I decided to take a few steps back since in human form I couldn't run like I did before if Ashlien shot at me again. Running was my only chance, so I ran; I didn't know where I was going but I had to get away. I stopped dead in my tracks when I saw a big vehicle fly over me, a few minutes later the vehicle came back and landed near me. I shielded my eyes to protect from the sand that was flying, then the door to the vehicle opened. Three robot things came out and were followed by a cybertronic thing, "Ah a wolf girl in the middle of the wasteland," he said, I just stood there supporting my weight on one leg, I blinked. The guy looked at the biggest robot and nodded towards me, the robot walked over and grabbed me. I struggled but it was known use the robot had a tight grip, the robot dragged me into the vehicle and threw me into the back corner, "Be gentle now, this should get the council to appreciate me, I'm the one who caught a wolf, not Veger, not Jak, and not Ashlien." He said with a grin, I was becoming scared. The vehicle door closed and it started moving, I fell over when it began to move. "careful." The guy said, he looked like he was half robot half human, and he looked like Ashlien's brother or something. Wait, I had heard of him before! His name was something like... ERROL! That was who! I remembered him from hiding in the shadows at the Haven city races, he was very good. What happened to him? Was he still human? All these questions flew through my mind at once, I didn't know why I cared, maybe it was because I felt safe or something. I just sat there on the floor, looking up at him. He was a monster, he seemed to feel me looking at him, because he turned toward me and smiled like he was flirting. I just stared like "ooooooooook, not like this hasn't happened before but whoa" he looked outside, I tried to stand but fell over again, he looked over and looked down at me on the floor like a child trying to walk, he laughed somewhat, "cute... your not used to this yet." He said looking down at me with a laugh. Suddenly I wondered if he would betray me, but then I forgot because I hit my head on the wall when the vehicle hit thin air.

Finally the vehicle landed, I think I was sick. Then a robot grabbed me by the arm and dragged me into a cage. I just stared out helplessly. I began to change wolf, it took a while to get used to the pain you feel when you have things pop out where there should be something else or nothing at all. I was on all fours now, as a wolf. I was kind of.... Nervous.

But hey! That's normal, for Petes sake I was locked in a cage!! I was Costa phobic. So I panicked... I scratched at the bars, bit them, did whatever I could to get out. But I was still being watched, "You have an interest in wolves suddenly?" said a voice on a communicator, "No, I just found her, for some odd reason she came easily." Errol said, "Hey wait, she?" said the voice, "Yes, she." Errol said annoyed, "Well, maybe I'll come and see her, what's her name?" he asked, then Errol turned and said, "What's your name?" he said, I just blinked and looked away not exactly wanting to tell. "She won't tell." He said to the guy on the communicator, "I'll be stopping over, is there anything you need?" he asked, suddenly his voice was familiar, "Hmm, no." Errol said, "I'll be there eventually." He said lightly and suddenly I could hear someone yelling in the background. The communicator shut off and flew off somewhere, Errol turned to me and bent down to my eye level, he opened the cage slowly and when I tried to get out he picked me up like a puppy.

He brought me to a larger cage, with food and water. The cage was like the forest! It had birch trees, and pinetrees! It had hills, and mountains, along with a stream! It was BEAUTIFUL! I could run and – there were other wolves!! I was getting a bit overzealous now, I was squirming. He let me go and told me “I thought you might prefer this.” He scratched my head and allowed me to run off.

I cautiously walked up to the other wolves, my tail was in-between my legs, and my ears were back, plus I was walking very low to the ground. The wolves put their heads down and sniffed; suddenly they looked behind them and moved away. Then a large wolf walked towards me, he was the alpha male, he was very large, and his coat was pure black, except his ears which were white as snow, suddenly he spoke, “What’s your name?” he said gently, I put my head so low my nose touched the ground, “Samantha.” I said quietly, it was almost a whisper. “Miss Samantha, you do not have to be so low. Bowing is not needed.” He said softly, I slowly straightened myself, he walked up to me and sniffed me, “You have a human scent on you,” He said, “You don’t seem to have any wolf scent on you besides your own.” I told him about Jak, he understood! I had found a crush...
