Author's Note: That's what happens when my younger brother decides to keep me awake 'til three in the morning ^^ I always start to write something if I'm tired&And, yes I know it's short.

First Times

Their first kiss came as a surprise for both of them.

But given the fact that they considered each other best friends, Shinon simply because no one but Gatrie could stand his arrogant attitude, the knight even was surprisingly tolerant when it came to his rude comments and Gatrie for reasons unknown even to himself.

So after being around each other all the time and getting drunk together on a regular basis the kiss wasn't that much of a surprise anymore.

This had at least been the opinion of everyone who was witness to it, because both men concerned, stubbornly refused to admit that they weren't quite drunk enough to not remember this first time.

The first time they ended up in bed together, they were drunk once again.

It had been after yet another glorious victory over the Daein army. But Gatrie hadn't bothered to learn the name of the town they had stopped at afterwards, only that their people had visited one of the taverns at the outskirts of town to celebrate.

And after their sixth mug of beer and their eighth kiss, or had it been eight beer and six kisses - neither Gatrie nor Shinon could remember for sure, and while the blue knight was musing about the fact that, yes, Shinon could drink quite a lot given his light build - he had paid for one of the bedrooms on the

The first time Shinon said I love you was when it suddenly occurred to him that he wouldn't get another chance to say it.

The words were muttered between painful, desperate gasps for air, blood his blood staining the ground and Gatrie hovering over him. Ironically the blood did have almost the same color his hair has and the words he wanted to say for quite some time now, which should have given his life a new, a real meaning; had a cruel finality to them.

And he couldn't stop himself from smiling at that thought.
