1 - take my hand{mushy mushy haha joking} take my hand promise land oh brother oh bother hear we are again outside in the pouring rain what a scene foolin around in the caboose of the train and our slow song playin over and over again i dance with you you take my hand and lead me into the promise land tales of hopes and dreams next thing ill be wearing your ring!!

tears now liquid regrets becoz we have to say our parts it feels like tearing apart is my heart now wer under the glowing moon blissfull tender kisses now and forever promise me well always be together you take my hand and now wer together again im going to be strong when we say good bye it wont be forever coz before you know it next will be hi dearest beloved i promise so many things to you i just want to hold you, just be nearer to my boo i want to be the one who stops the pain hold your hand throught the pooring rain struggling through all this static and all this traffic just struggling to get through to you!

alone in the dark we share our hearts become one and all the pain is gone all that is good is done and you take my hand again and you lean in and save me from the rest of the world oh fought so hard and thought my battles had been one but i opened my eyes and saw the war had just begun i scream out your name and try to get into your grasp but everytime i see you i get near you you are always just out of grasp i stumble through the dark with out you im a lost soul your everything i need i see you and i want to be nearer still i want to do anything just to get near my boo chorus: oh paradise t the promise land stumbling through a sea of lost and hopless dreams you break through the blinding light you end my troubles and stright Oh promise land someday well finally see our lips get clooser and they finally meet hell im already here.....
