...Mommy and Daddy don't love me anymore because people say I'm different. Other children make fun of me because of my drawings. Mommy never told the truth, she told me she'd always love me no matter what anyone else said, but then she began to see, she could see the pain that I had suffered. I began to grow very angry with Mommy and Daddy, so I shared my horrible thoughts with them. All I wanted was for them to see that I'm not crazy, but I think I made it worse. I don't want to kill, but I do...So I told the doctor that and he told me to tell the truth. I would sit in the white room and cry for hours I'd throw myself off of the walls and screamed for Mommy, but no one answered. Children in the hospital would stare at me and tell me I was evil so I taught them a lesson.

Eventually I was set free, I remember singing then when I came to my senses I was in a dark place, and the last thing I saw was a ring. I tried to climb up to see Mommy and some of my nails cracked and some even were torn off, but I was determined to see Mommy. I kept falling and falling and falling so I eventually gave in. I screamed at the top of my voice,

"YOU WILL ALL SUFFER!" But I don't know if Mommy heard. Something was telling me that Mommy wasn't safe, but there was nothing I could do.

After seven days, Daddy thought it would get better soon... But he doesn't know....
