dib has something to tell gaz....well actually it's more of a poem type story....but trust me you'll like it....it's cute

1. To Gaz

DIB'S P.O.V

i know that i'm not perfect but sister let me try please don't lock me out again tell me why you cry

i can be your hero let me wipe away your tears tell me little sister let me know what are your fears i know that moms no longer here and dads at work somewhere but if you start to feel alone remember that i care now little sis you're growing up and i'm so proud of you you'll always be my family and i'll always love you too i know you think you must be brave you think you must be strong but it's okay to let it out admitting you were wrong now there's a smile we can't see and a secret dream you hold but please don't try and hide gaz don't let your heart grow cold now sister dear this is a first you hugging me so tight my coat is dampened with your tears but i tell you it's alright now gaz this is a side of you i'm glad you let me see and you will show the world one day the person you can be
