As title states. My statement, who I am now and who I was.

1. The End.

Closing my account. Why? Because I've joined Deviantart, and this site is no longer in my league. You can now find me at <http://kitsune-prophet.deviantart.com> . I'll remove all of my craptastic pictures here. Only the pictures I am proud of will go onto my DA account. However, if I ever write a complete story, or start a manga, I will post it here, rather than make a messy DA account.

I have grown out of the immature, amateur artist that I once was. I believe that this site doesn't hold much more for me, and that DA will allow me to experience completely what I intend to experience. `Tis a sad goodbye, but it was coming sooner or later.

I leave one final Haiku, to shake this uncomfortable feeling.

The development

Inexperienced artist

I have now matured.
