EDIT* I've rewritten it, because it's crap, now it's rewritten crap, yay.*

1. Stay with me, please

Written from Naruto's POV- One shot, SasuNaru

I could feel his lips against my own. His skin was warm. He held me close to his half-naked body. Running his fingers through my messy yellow hair, he moved his lips to my chin, then to my neck.

I wrapped my arms around him, digging my nose into his collarbone. I sniffed him, he smelled like his favorite shampoo (vanilla) and a bit of mint, since he had just brushed his teeth, and me. He smelt like me. Maybe it was all the time we spent together, hugging, kissing, and of course we spent the most time training, he had started to smell like me, I liked it. I liked it because it made me feel like I was a part of him. A part of Sasuke.

I started playing with his hair, it made him angry, I laughed. It was always fun to tease Sasuke, he'd of course come up with a better comeback and get me angry, then he'd tell me I looked "cute" when I was angry. I just couldn't stay mad at him, and he couldn't stay mad at me. Because he loved me.

We just laid there, enjoying the sound of the night, our breathing, and the owl in the forest a few blocks from his house. I hate silence, so I always try to be loud, because I don't feel so alone. Sasuke like it quiet, and together the silence isn't so bad. Being alone together isn't so bad.

I moved in with him a few weeks ago, actually he had forced me to live with him. I didn't mind. His house was really big and I couldn't imagine how it was like to live there all alone. I had lived in a small house, since that was all I could afford. I lived in the poor side of town, where there were lots of gangs. Sasuke didn't like that, so he forced me to live with him, it wasn't really forced though, since I happily brought all of my stuff over and moved in with him, though tonight wasn't the first time we had shared a bed.

I felt sleepy. Sasuke wakes up so early, before the sun even rises, I like to sleep in until noon, but maybe that's because I like to stay up so late.

"Sasuke" I said in a low voice, he stopped licking my neck and looked at me.

"What?"

"I'm tired"

"I'll be right back, don't move." He walked out of the room, and then came back a few minutes later. I leaned up to see what he had. In his hand was my sleeping cap. I laughed. Sasuke walked over to the bed and laid down next to me.

"Wear this, Naruto" He put the hat on my head. I couldn't help but burst out laughing, Sasuke chuckled.

"But you hate it!" I said, Sasuke did hate it. When I showed it to him he frowned and asked 'what the hell is this?'

"But I love anything that you wear..."

I yawned. Sasuke put his arms around me, we were both tired. Kakashi had made us spar today and Sasuke and I are almost evenly matched, so we tire each other out. Sparring with Sasuke was always a challenge, he was stronger than me in some areas, but in others we were equal. Everyday we pushed each other harder, and became stronger together. We were growing up together.

I rubbed my face in his chest, he was breathing softly, I kissed him on the lips. It was soft and sweet, he tastes good.

"Goodnight Naruto" Sasuke whispered.

"Goodnight..."

And we fell asleep.

The end

A/n-I've rewritten it, but I've only changed some things and added others, I still think it's crappy, but atleast it's an improvement.

Comment and I'll love you forever.

Thanks for reading this crap!

Toddle-loo!
