1. open up to the fire of love open up let the fire burn let the heat of love burn your heart let it burn your soul let it take you to a new world of adventure and danger let it lift your problems and let it burn away your troubles let it just let it burn let it make all your problem turn in to ash and float away with your true love let it burn you to your love let it keep you in his arms let it never die out let burn forever and ever and ever until the day you die and trust me you will find that fire you just never give up .
