There was a girl name Hedimaka who lived in Nome,Alaska.Her snow dogs were courageous dogs.She had won several trophys in the Artic Challenge.But one day in one of her snow dog trips she found a crystle the size of about 3 inches.It said this,"If you happen to find this,keep it,it shall bring you good luck."So Hedimaka kept it,and indeed it became a lucky charm.She ept it with her at all times and never did she take it outta of her sight.Will exsploring a cavern she saw a light.As she got closer her lucky charm started to glo.It reacted somehow to another,what seemed too look like,a potl or a changing chamber.As she got closer it accepted her as a beutiful princess of ice.When this happend she also accepted it.The town never saw her and her snow dogs again,but they suspect that she is watching over them as a loyal child would for shr was only thirteen.

Today a statue stands in reesemblence to her,and they will never foget her name..Hedimaka Uszumaki
