One day Ruby uses a metal detector and found an ancient book then she opened it when suddenly all of the monsters were released now she's on a quest to capture them all as she meets new friends (you may ask) she captures creatures using the book!

1. Black dog

Ruby: Wow my new metal detector came! I'm going to try it out!!!

Ruby takes out the metal detector and walks across her yard, then the metal detector beeps Ruby, taking out a shovel, starts to dig hitting something hard then takes out a book its corners were rusted metal...

Ruby: This thing must be ancient...blows the dust off I'm going to read it...

She walks inside sits at the table then looked at the cover...

Ruby: "Mythologic Monsters" hmm no author...huh? "veiwers beware don't open the book unless your DETERMEND to risk your life?" this is getting interesting

She swipes the dust off a skull, then she stares into it but a voice echoed inside it voice: Open the book...

The voice was deep and low with a raspy crackle but the voice still talked...

voice: Open it and suffer the consequences...

Ruby listened while sweat dripped off her face the voice still went on...

voice: You must open the book...it is your destiny...

Still and cold, Ruby shivers as a cold rush of air trickles down her back her eyes focused on the skulls glowing red eyes then a skull takes the vision in her head she imagens herself sitting alone falling asleep, the skull getting closer...closer...closer!!!

Ruby: GOD HELP ME! Huh...looks around I must have dozed off... huh? I thought that this book was closed...heck I've gotta stop eating my own cooking...say weres all the pictures?

Out in the dark a low growl echoes, Ruby shivers then hears the door knock she answers it to see her best buddy, Jericho, a grey hedgehog, his wife sally the hedgehog, a pink hedgehog and also jerisho's brother, Dante also a grey hedgehog

Ruby: Oh Jericho! nice suprise hehe uh tugs him in I need help

Jericho: HUH?!?

Ruby: Ok...I got my metal detector and I found a book it had a weird skull then a voice whispered in my head, then the craziest dream happened and now the book was open and the pictures are missing!!!

Dante: That can't be good, can it?

Jericho: Afraid not lil' bud rubs his head

Sally: Hey Ruby did you get a dog?

Ruby: no? Why do you ask...

Sally: I just saw a dark black dog walk past by your hallway...

Ruby: Look at this... opens the book and finds the black dogs page the picture was still missing
It says here that the black dog Terrified lonely travelers for thousands of years, also it was a sign of bad luck or (gulp) even death....

Black dog: (howls into the night sky then it's red blazing eyes stares at Jericho...

Ruby: Jericho...your a lonely traveler right?

Jericho: Sorta...

Ruby: ...run...

Black Dog: (snarls walking closer and closer it looked like the end of our heroes...)

Jericho: Hang on...

Sally: Honey are you sure we can outrun that thing?

Jericho: I'm sure lets GO!

Then all four run into the dark night sky and there adventure begins...
