well this is about when i lost my best friend (guy friend) and he was also my crush..i miss him so much but i'm happy with the boyfriend i have now

1. Black Petals

Black Petals

He gave her this rose, the petals dyed black
Told her to always smile, to never look back
He kissed away her tears, final goodbyes
She never knew he should soon die
She let go of his hands, the ones that were so cold
The ones with the memories, the truth they always told
He walked home, her picture in his hands
Knowing what to do, emptiness taking a stand
But still his life passed by, a suicide so hollow
Path took towards happiness, but tears were so shallow
She found him there, dead like a dog, all alone
Black eyeliner fading, dried teardrops shown Crimson bleeding, her photo gripped so tight
Looking toward heaven, her life, she could not fight
Days later, she stood there, beside his lonely grave
Looking toward the sky, tears couldn't be saved
She walked home alone, his picture in her grasp Pain unbearable, the teardrops continued to last
Aching for days on end, no hope left inside
Wrote her final goodbyes, this was her sad suicide
Laying there alone, his picture near her heart
Already shattered, her life was torn apart
Withering rose in the corner, petals dyed black
For the courage they had, to never look back
