1. Time

A broken bone,
And a heart to match.
A forfeited dream
And a lost cause.
They say that
Time heals everything.
But follow me, please,
Through the events
Of every day,
And find out how wrong
They are.
A hospital bed,
Newly emptied.
But its patient
Has not gone home,
A disease,
Though minor,
Has progressed with time,
Leading to its final stage.
A garden,
No longer full
Of the beauty
Which once filled it.
The flowers,
Though once beautiful,
Have wilted away in time.
A firework,
Though it once
Sparkled gloriously,
Is now nothing more
Than ashes,
Scattered on the ground.
Time does not heal everything
Time leads to the grave.
