1. stuff you wonder about beyblade..

why does tyson wear solid primary colours?

why did they decide to make max wear orange and green?

why in g-rev did kai decide to strap red seat belts around his ankles?
and what the hell is in his scarf that's able to break the floor?!

why does tala have handles on his shoulders in the first season?

what kind of hair gel do these boys use?

why do they all look ugly in the first series and 8 years old in the second? seems by g-revolution the animators finally got it right.

lee must have some strange hormone imbalance or something because his sideburns are crazy then again his grandfathers eyebrows are pretty immense so it must run in the family...

why doesnt kenny go to spec-savers?

why does it seem that rei is the only one that actually likes girls? come on, teenage boys, this is not normal actually, Kenny does too. He goes from Emily to Ming-Ming, so let's be glad he finally stepped it up a little.

speaking of rei, he seems quite perfect doesnt he? i mean, awesome beyblader, popular with the girls, really nice guy, says really funny things at times...i suppose he just had to be the freaky cat one it would seem to me that with all the muscles, weights and attitude, kai is compensating for something, wouldnt you agree?

why are the first and third series so similar, even with the same characters, and v-force just so random? they suddenly go from beybladers to superheros or something...

what the hell is on daichi's forehead?

in the movie when they are on the beach, rei is fully clothed and kai isnt there...what are they trying to do to us!
and kenny appears to be wearing a thong aswell what is it with evil dudes and the colour purple?

am i the only person who thought oliver was a girl for about 5 episodes?

in the first series, kai leaves to join talas team, then realises the bladebreakers were better and its all very sentimental and lalala...why does he then do the exact same thing in g-rev? did he not learn his lesson the first time?

its interesting how the animators attempt to capture their personalities through their sleeping positions...

where did voltaire go? did he die? i mean, they still have a connection he is kais grandfather after all who names their child ozuma?

then again, dunga's not much better...

why do garlands siblings all look so normal compared to him?

am i the only one who noticed the foreshadowing with brooklyn's interest in birds and kai's in cats? cats own birds, 'nuff said.

why is hiro such a prick? i mean, i know why, but still ironically, kai speaks the least out of all of them, and gets the last line anyone else think rei's loose hair thing is getting a little bit old now? i mean, it looks great and he should wear it like that more often, but after the third time it gets a little boring kai seemed pretty jealous when he caught rei waiting for salima didn't he C= i find it quite amusing that kai thinks up puns and many different ways to play on words in his head. also, he makes reference to things like the three stooges, which seems sort of unlike him to me a large number of the guys in the series are very attractive, one way or another. yet the girls always have something about them which makes them difficult to like, whatever it may be. most of them are annoying some of the yaoi hints in the original manga, and even the dubbed version, are way too obvious to ignore where did dizzi go in the final season?! i think we all missed her =(

why does brooklyn have fangs? i mean, he's not part cat. that almost ruined his whole image...aswell as the whole psycho king of darkness thing...

apparently theres a new season announced...i do hope it won't be a disappointment...
