1. Chapter 1

Hidden deep in the shadows underground Balcov Abbey in Moscow was a deep dark cellar. Within that cellar were two people. So close. So close. They were almost touching. One moved even closer, but the other shuffled backwards. The other one tried to move closer again and jumped back in surprise when the other one got up and slapped him hard. The pain. The figure who was slapped jumped up too as the other one ran away, through dark corridors, leaving the other one standing alone in the dark.

Nobody heard him mutter under his breath "She'll be sorry." and nobody heard him laugh, a cold deep laugh.

"Chief, are we there yet?!"

"Dont worry Tyson, we'll be there soon! Read a magazine or something."

The bladebreakers were on their way to a new tournament in Russia. At first they had refused to go, but they found out that Boris and Voltaire would be away with the Demolition boys and there would be new management, so they were all looking forward to a fair fight, without Boris getting in the way. Well, all except Kai that is. He sat, as usual, probably asleep at the back of their private plane.

Tyson couldnt wait for the tournament to begin. He was glaring out the window, completely anticipated. Max was sitting next to him, listening to his CD walkman. Rei and Kenny were on the other side. Kenny was looking up data on the team that they would be facing and Rei was reading.

"Are we there yet?!" Tyson yelled

"No!!" came the reply from Max, Kenny and Rei.

"Well, we'd better get there soon! I want to meet the team we're facing!"

"They're called Team Darkness and theyre all very strong bladers. Theyre captain is supposed to be unbeatable. Thats why they won the tournament so far."

"Team darkness?!" Kai muttered under his breath "Why couldnt we have that name?!"

Someone called into the plane "We're about to land, fasten your seat belts!"

"Finally!" Tyson put the back of his seat back up and pushed his table in.

Rei looked at Kennys laptop "Do you know anything else about this team chief?"

"Not much else...theyre names are Gilraen, Andrea, Donna and Ashley...None of them have ever lost a beybattle...Gilraen joined five different teams before she decided to start her own and--"

"Hang on!" Said Max "Are you telling me that this is a team of girls?!"

"Yes." said Kenny

Tyson snorted "This will be a sinch! It cant be too hard to defeat a team of girls!"

Kai grunted and muttered "He still hasnt learned his lesson!"

The plane landed and Tyson charged into the airport. Kenny ran after him and Max, Rei and Kai waited outside. About fifteen minites later they both came out again.

"Bathroom." Tyson muttered. They all groaned. Kenny looked at some piece of paper.

"Our taxi should be waiting around here somewhere, its blue. Can anyone see a blue car?"

"Yeah, over there!" Rei pointed to a rather old looking blue car. Kenny ran towards it and signalled for all of them to get in.

When they arrived at their hotel, they threw their bags down and pretty much had to leave straight away. They were running late for the tournament. And they still had to sign up.

As they rushed through the doorway, they saw four girls signing up in the front of a short queue. As they left the booth, the bladebreakers noticed their leather jacket, that all said on the back 'Team Darkness' with a moon in the background. Tyson rushed up to them.

"Hey, are you team darkness."

They said nothing, but turned around slightly to indicate their jackets.

"Right. Well im Tyson, from the bladebreakers and this is my team! Here is our captain, Kai." He pulled Kai in and he nodded in greeting. The other team did the same. "This is Kenny, and these are Rei and Max." Rei smiled and max waved. One of the girls waved back. One girl walked forward.

"Im Gilraen. This is Andrea." She pointed to a girl with very curly hair and huge eyes. She was wearing a black hat. She had a face that indicated that she was annoyed. Andrea glared at them.

"She doesnt like people." Said Gilraen simply. "This is Ashley." She pointed to the only girl in the group who looked friendly. She was the girl who had waved. She had thick wavy brown hair and also had big eyes, but not as big as Andreas or as angry looking.

"And this is Donna, our youngest." She indicated a smaller girl, who looked very young, at least nine who had her hair tied up in two ribbons. She had a sweet face, that looked sad. Tyson bent down.

"Isnt she a bit young to be in a tournament?"

"No, she just looks young. Shes fourteen." Said Gilraen

"Are you serious?!"

"Well, she is still the youngest. Im sixteen in a week."

Tyson fell backwards in shock, as Kenny returned.

"Ive signed our names up. We now have an hour before we have to be back."

"Can we go for coffee?" asked Rei

"Sounds good" Said Kenny

Max piped up "Would you guys like to come with us?"

Andrea shook her head frantically, and Ashley nodded. Gilraen looked at Donna.

"Whatever!" Said Donna.

"Ok, we'll come. We have nothing better to do anyway!" They followed the bladebreakers out of the building and over to the coffee house.

Little did they know they were being followed...

2. Chapter 2

The bladebreakers and Team Darkness emerged from the coffee house twenty minutes later, and both went separately. The Bladebreakers went back to their hotel and Team Darkness went back to the abbey. When the Bladebreakers were fully out of ear shot, they started talking.

"I really liked Ashley, she was really nice!" Said Max

"Yeah, she was my favourite too..." said Tyson not sounding like he cared much.

"I spoke to Gilraen for a while." Said Rei, "She's not so bad. She was telling me how Donna and Ashley joined the group."

"What about Andrea?...I didnt like her at all. She's worse than Kai!"

Kai grunted "Andrea and Gilraen have been best friends since they were young. They were always on the same team and her team mates are the only people she has spoken to in months."

Rei stared.

"I spoke to Gilraen aswell." said Kai simply.

"Yeah i kind of figured..." said Tyson.

They returned to their hotel and most of them unpacked. Tyson spent the whole time in the bathroom. They then returned to the Abbey.

Gilraen and her team approached the abbey.

"Wait here. Ill be right back." said Gilraen and she went down a flight of stairs. Her team stayed where they were.

When Gilraen reached the bottom of the stairs, she turned right and went down a dark corridor, to the basement. There was a cloaked figure down there. She approached him and he jumped backwards.

"What do you want?!"

"I wanted to apologize for yesterday. Im sorry if i hurt you..."

"Yes, you hurt me. Not just physically aswell!"

"I didnt want to go there!" Gilraen was getting angry and it was showing in her voice.

"Just get out of here! You will pay! I swear it!"

"How exactly will i pay?"

"Because Im the one who has been left in charge of the beyblade tournament, and although i cant make you loose, i can do alot worse with all the machinery in this abbey. This stuff can do alot worse than create bitbeasts if you experiment with it, you know."

Gilraen turned on her heel, muttering as she went out "Lunatic!" she then heard him yell after her.

"Im putting one of your team mates into the situation with enough power to kill a member of the other team! They will die in an hour!"

"All right! Whos ready for the tournament to begin?!!!!" Jazzman screamed into the mike as everyone started cheering. "In todays tournament so far the Team Darkness are thrashing everyone in the competition. But lets see how well they do against the BladeBreakers!!!"

The Bladebreakers and Team Darkness both rose up to the benches and the dish was revealed as Rei and Andrea stepped up. The dish was representing New York at night, so everything was black. Andrea smirked.

"Looks like i have an advantage!"

"Dont bet on it!" Rei replied, frowning.

"Come on Rei, you can do it!" yelled Tyson

"Why arent her team cheering for her?" asked Max

"I dont know...Maybe they just dont do that sort of thing." replied Kenny.

Tyson kept yelling.

"You can beat her, she's just a girl!!!"

At that, Gilraen got annoyed. "Rei, you dont know what you're up against!"

Jazzman introduced the teams, and then "3.....2.....1...LET IT RIP!"

Both bladers let their blades go at once. Andrea instantly called out her bit-beast.

"Go Dratzy! Tear him apart!"

"Go Drigger!"

Both bit beasts rose up. Dratzy was a huge black wolf, even bigger than Drigger.

"Drigger attack!"

"Dratzy, defend!" Drigger dashed at Dratzy, but there seemed to be a kind of energy ball around the bit beast, that kept Drigger in and sucked out all its energy, fast. They beyblade stopped and the match was over in minutes.

"Nooo!" yelled Rei, dropping to his knees.

Gilraen looked thoughtful "So hes not dead yet...it couldntve been Andrea who he gave power to."

"Im sorry guys. I didnt know what to do." Rei looked awful.

"Hey, its ok, Rei." said Tyson, who really didnt think it was Ok at all! "Max will beat them right now!"

Donna stepped up to the dish. Max was about to get up but Kai got there first. Max looked confused.

"Kai?...wha-"

"I dont think Max should battle Donna. Im sorry but i think i know how to beat her. Chief, can i go up instead?"

"Max, you dont mind, do you?"

"No, its ok i guess." Max sighed and sat down. Kai stepped up opposite Donna.

Jazzman introduced the bladers again. Then "3.....2.....1...LET IT RIP!" and both beyblades went flying into the dish.

Dranzer went for a head-on attack. He was right, he seemed to be beating her. Her beyblade was already slowing down. Donna, on the other hand, was looking drowsy.

"Donna, come on!" screamed Ashley.

Donna was swaying now, slowly. Her bit-beast, Danta wasnt doing anything. Kai was beating her easily.

"So, why couldn't i go up?" said Max, moodily. "She seems quite easy to defeat!"

She was swaying dangerously now. Almost tipping over, and her eyes were closed. Kai noticed this and stopped demanding attacks, wondering if she was ok. He was just going to walk forward and check, when she stopped. Everything seemed to go quiet. She was standing with her head down, and her eyes still closed. Kai froze. Then, without warning, she shot her head up and opened her eyes. They were glowing white.

Kai wouldve screamed, but he couldnt. Danta had risen above him and Donna was totally in control of it. She was telling Danta to attack him. Danta flew at him, knocking him backwards, and hurting him badly. Danta rose above him, ready to pounce. He could just about hear his team mates, crying out. Also everyone else in the audience.

Dranta poised, and he knew this was it. He was going to be killed. But then...

"Donna, NO!!!!!" Gilraen dived on top of the girl, knocking her to the ground, which drove the bit-beast away to attack Gilraen instead. Kai tried, but he couldnt get up. All he could see was Gilraen lying on top of Donna, whos eyes were still glowing white, slapping her hard.

"DONNA, STOP! LISTEN TO ME! DONNA PLEASE! THIS ISNT YOU!!!! THIS ISNT YOU!!!!"
Finally Donnas eyes returned to normal and she stood up, with the help of Gilraen. She saw Kai on the ground, in a pool of blood and looked in the dish. Both beyblades had stopped. At that moment, Donna fell to the floor again, as she fainted.

3. Chapter 3

As she hopped down the spiral stairs on one foot, clinging the barrier for dear life, tears started to run down her face. Tears of shock, tears of fear and tears of pain. She reached the basement. He was there again, looking into a sphere shaped ball, which was glowing. He heard her behind him and turned around. Her hand met with his cheek, and he jumped backwards.

"What is your problem?!!" she screamed. "I know you were mad, I understand that, but you didnt have to go turn Donna into a human killing machine! God!!! Do you know how scared you made me?!!!"

"Scared for Donna?"

"Scared for Kai aswell! I dont want anyone to die! Not anyone who doesnt deserve it!"

"Right..." He approached her and grabbed her by the arm, and tried to drag her away.

"Hey, what are you doing? stop it!" He dragged her down a corridor and threw open the door to a cell and threw her inside. He then locked the door. She screamed in protest, as loud as she could, but he then walked off and left her alone in the dark.

That night, the bladebreakers we're eating dinner and discussing their defeat.

"I cant believe they beat us in all 3 rounds!!" Tyson yelled at the top of his lungs.

"Calm down Tyson!" yelled Kenny. "They agreed to re-do the last two matches, due to what happened to Kai."

Kai had been let out of hospital that day, with bandages. But he couldnt do anything properly yet, including run. He was now sitting with his team, but not listening to their conversation. Suddenly he got up.

"Kai, where are you going?" said Tyson

"Ill be back in am hour maximum." Said Kai, leaving the hotel. Tyson tried to run after him, but Rei stopped him.

"Let him go" Rei said.

Kai knew exactly where he was going. His curiosity was once again, leading him to the Abbey. He sneaked past the guards and managed to enter through the celler entrance. He walked down the dark corridors, until his footsteps were getting close to the cell she was locked up in. Then she heard him.

"Adam?! Is that you?! Adam, let me go!!!"

Out of curiosity, Kai walked over to the cellar.

"Gilraen, what are you doing here?!"

"Im locked in!"

"Ill help you get out then. I owe you one for saving my life. Thanks."

"It was nothing, really. Now how are you going to get me out. Adam has the key and itll take ages to get it from him."

"Do you realise which cell you're in?"

"No..."

"In one cell, my grandfather planted the keys to all the cells in the building. You're in that cell!"

"Where are they?"

"Pull out the loose brick in the wall behind you!"

Gilraen did so and found the keys in the gap. She handed them to kai and he unlocked the door.

"Thanks."

"Don't mention it. Come on, we have to get out of here!" They both snuck out of the cellar and out the exit.

"I never knew there was an exit here! I always went down the stairs! How did you know there was one?!"

They started running to the main gate. The pain in their legs was incredible but they still ran

"Valtaire, the man in charge of this place, is my grandfather!"

"What?!" Gilraen stopped.

"Come on!" Kai ran ahead of her while she caught her breath for a moment, then she followed him.

Adam was in the security camera room, watching them.

"Close the gate!" He ordered

Kai ran out of the gate, Gilraen was about to follow, when the gate slammed down. She was trapped.

"Kai!!!" Kai turned around. "Try to climb the gate!" He ordered. He put his arm through the bar and gave her a leg up to the first bar, but the gate was very high.

"Come on!" Kai was getting impatient. They must've let the gate down because they saw them coming, which meant they didn't have much time. Gilraen looked past Kai and gasped.

"Kai, run!" Two security guards had jumped out behind Kai. He looked back at her. "Go, Kai! I'll be ok!"

"I'll come back tomorrow!" Kai jumped and ran past the two security guards, who tried to follow, but weren't fast enough, and escaped.

4. Chapter 4

Gilraen was dragged back to Adam the next morning. She came calmly as she had a plan and knew that Kai wouldn't desert her. He told her he would come back. They dragged her to the entrance of the basement. Adam was standing there. The guards pushed her in and closed the door. Adam turned around.

"How did you escape?"

"I didn't. You caught me." She said calmly.

"I mean from the cell! How on earth did you find a key?!"

"I'm not telling you!"

He sighed and walked over to a huge machine.

"Whats that?"

"This? It's the abbeys new invention. Very clever I think. I could use it on that Kai boy, as punishment..."

"No! Leave him alone! He doesn't deserve this!"

"And do I deserve to be treated the way you treated me?!"

"You cant do this to him! I don't know what this machine does, but whatever you do to him, you have to do to me!"

There was a pause. Gilraen smiled.

"You would not dare kill me, Adam?"

Adam grunted. He knew she was right. He couldn't kill her. He just couldn't. He had another plan.

"Step over here." He led her to another, even bigger machine. "Step in. I promise Kai will never be harmed again, as long as he keeps out of my way..."

Gilraen stepped in and he closed the door. Minutes later she stepped out again.

"I don't feel any different. What did you do?"

"You became immortal. Your soul belongs to me now. It will be stored in the machine. I choose if you die. But Kai will not be harmed." He smiled at the shock on her face.

Gilraen ran. She ran up the stairs and out the abbey. She didn't know where she was going. Tears pouring down her face. He chose if she would die? How could she have been so stupid! With her out of the way, Kai would be killed aswell!

She sat down by the river and buried her head in her arms, sobbing. Probably the last person she wanted to talk to approached her.

"Gilraen is that you?"

Gilraens head shot up. "Tyson? No! Go away!"

"Not till you tell me whats wrong!"

"You wouldn't understand." She hurriedly wiped her eyes on her sleeve. "Do you know where Kai is? I need to speak with him."

"Err, I don't know...try the hotel. Room 14."

"Thanks." Gilraen ran off, leaving Tyson sitting there, stunned.

Knock Knock

"Who is it?"

"Gilraen! I need to speak to Kai, is he there?!"

Rei opened the door. "No, sorry I think he went somewhere, but he never tells us where hes going..."

Gilraen caught her breath and sighed "Ok, thankyou. Ill just keep looking!"

She went everywhere. In every shop, every restaurant, every church, every park and could find him anywhere. Then she had a sudden thought, and headed back for the abbey.

Kai burst in through the abbey basement door.

"Wheres Gilraen?!" he demanded, catching sight of Adam.

"Oh shes here, somewhere. But before we get to that, I just want you to know that I could kill her so easily. The way I almost killed you.

Kai laughed, but he didn't smile. "You didn't kill me though. Gilraen stopped your plans."

"Which is exactly why I plan on killing her, unless you feel like doing something for me..."

5. Chapter 5

Gilraen burst through the abbey door.

"Wheres Kai?!!!"

Adam stepped over to her. She didn't move.

"Ah, Gilraen. Nice to see you've calmed down."

"Tell me where he is."

"I don't have to..."

Behind him the machine door opened. Gilraen gasped as Kai stepped out.

"Gilraen?!" He seemed as surprised as she was.

"Adam you didn't!!! No! I cant believe this!"

Adam laughed again, the cold, evil laugh. "Yes. I control both of your lives now. I have both of your souls."

Gilraen dropped to her knees "I cant believe this is happening!!!"

Adam grabbed Kai and threw him into a cell. "Ill be keeping him here for now. You can go. You need to win this tournament." He laughed again, then his face was serious again, almost scary.

"When you turn sixteen, you will both be dead!"

"Gilraen?! Gilraen where are you?!"

Adam threw her into a storage cupboard and locked the door. She kicked and screamed until she heard a familiar voice coming from outside. She stopped and listened against the door.

"Adam, where's Gilraen? Were facing off against the White Tigers in an hour! I need to know where she is!"

Gilraen screamed again "ANDREA! HELP! I'M IN HERE!!!"

Adam unlocked the cupboard door, and Gilraen, who had her ear pressed against the door, stumbled out on to the floor.

"Argh!" she exclaimed as she dusted herself down and stood up. "Andrea! Hi, sorry I was just..."

"Look nevermind! Ok, were facing the white tigers in an hour! We need to go meet the others."

Lets go!"

Gilraen glared at Adam and started to follow her to the stairs.

"No, go this way, its quicker!" She let Andrea down passed the cells. Andrea didn't notice Kai as she walked passed. Gilraen stopped as she walked passed his cell. He grabbed her hand and looked up at her hopelessly.

"Hurry up, Gilraen!"

She looked back at him and whispered "Ill come back for you." He let go of her hand and she followed Andrea out the door.

As the match was going on, Kai sat there wishing the blade breakers hadn't come to this tournament. Wishing they had never met Team Darkness. Wishing he had told them where he was going. Wishing they would come and get him. He heard footsteps coming down the stairs and a familiar voice.

"Ok Adam, I'm here. I told you id find a way to get out. They can let Kevin fight instead of me! I don't care. I'm with you."

Kai listened hard. For the next couple of hours, they just sat there talking, with moments of silence. Until he heard more footsteps on the stairs.

6. Chapter 6

Kai heard Gilraens voice.

"Mariah! Why are you here?! You weren't at the tournament! Adam what is she doing here?!"

Adam stood up. "Bog off, Gilraen! I'm kind of busy here!"

"I cant believe this!"

"What? Are you jealous?"

"Hmph!! She smiled "as if! It was me who dumped you after all! I know shes just some sort of re-bound!"

"hey!" yelled Mariah "What do you mean a re-bound! Guys would pay to get me!"

"yeah I know! Mariah the ho, 20p per go!!!"

Kai laughed in his cell.

Mariah stood up. "Look I don't know who you're talking about, but Adam told me he loves me!"

"Blergh! As if! Now, carry on, don't mind me, ill be leaving in a minute..." she started to walk towards the cells, but Adam stopped her.

"Go!" he said "Go up the stairs and don't come back until I tell you. Ive had enough of you!"

"Fine." She threw something into Kais cell and walked over to the stairs. She turned around before she got to the door.

"Oh, and by the way, you lost. All three rounds."

"You really think I care?"

"Well you should!" Gilraen walked back upstairs and headed back to her team, who were waiting for her in the coffeehouse. Kai wanted to shout "Don't leave me!" But he couldn't. She had already gone. He looked at what she had thrown in...a key. The key! He grinned. "Thankyou grandfather."

Half an hour later, Adam came over to Kais cell.

"Mariah and I are going out. If you even try to escape, ill kill you on the spot." And with that, he and Mariah walked out the door. Kai smiled. They didn't know he had the key. He could be out before they got back easily. He waited until he was sure they had gone, then unlocked the door. He made his way to the back door, but as he got out, guards grabbed him and pulled him back in, locking the door and taking the key away.

"shoot." grunted Kai, as he sat himself down against the damp grimy wall of his cell. He wanted Gilraen to come back and get him out. He wanted his team to come and find him. But it was hopeless. He was stuck and now he would be killed for sure! He felt a tear fall from his left eye, but hurriedly swiped it away as he heard footsteps.

Adam stomped in. Kai thought he would be angry at him for trying to escape, but the situation was actually nothing like Kai thought. He sat down and Kai could hear him smashing up glass objects. Then Kai heard Gilraen.

"I told you this would happen." There was a pause, then Adam answered.

"The time has come, Gilraen. You turn 16 tomorrow. You and Kai will be dead by morning."

"No, Adam please don't do this! My team needs me, his team needs him!" She paused, as if she was thinking this over, then came to a decision.

"Please, what do I have to do to stop you killing him?"

Adam lifted his head up, and looked thoughtful. He opened his mouth to say 'nothing' but then paused again.

"If you could...she's the only one I hate more...why him?...why Rei? It doesn't make sense!" It sounded as though he was talking to himself, but Gilraen carried on listening anyway, trying to put words together. Kai also listened intently in his cell. Finally Adam spoke clearly.

"Kill her." He looked at Gilraen, then walked over to the cupboard that she had been locked inside before.

"Sorry?" said Gilraen "I can't kill anyone! I won't kill anyone!"

Adam emerged with a giant axe. "You will, or Kai dies at dawn! You will murder Mariah at midnight and I won't spare Kai until I have her head."

"You're insane!!!" Gilraen shrieked "You're a lunatic! There's something wrong with you! You seriously need help!" Adam put up one hand, then looked at his watch.

"9pm...you'd better go, it'll take a while to walk to the hotel."

Gilraen sighed and grabbed the axe. She put on a huge black hooded robe and, grabbing the axe, ran for the door. She ran past Kai on the way but didn't look at him. When the door slammed shut, Adam approached Kai's cell. At first Kai thought he was going to be killed now. He stood his ground even though he wanted to run to the back of the cell. He stared into Adam's cold grey eyes. They remained like that for about 3 seconds, but it seemed like 3 minutes to Kai, who was waiting for him to unlock the cell so he would take him to his death. But Adam didn't move. He spoke.

"I have un-finished business to take care of." And he left Kai sitting there, relieved, but even more curious and scared.

7. Chapter 7

Gilraen arrived at the hotel an hour early. She cursed Adam for making her go so early, but then realised that Mariah was the only one in the hotel room. She could do it now! But Mariah wasn't asleep and that would make it easier. But it didn't matter to her. She was freezing and hungry and another day without food and she probably would've eaten Mariah.

She stepped in through the open window and hid behind the curtain while Mariah was in the bathroom. When Mariah came out, Gilraen gripped her axe so hard her knuckles turned white. She was shaking she was so scared. What if she was caught? No, she couldn't think about that! Kai's life was at stake! She gripped the curtain, then stopped herself, thinking. A voice came into her head.

'Hang on a second! I thought you cared about everyone's life, which is why you got involved with Kai in the first place! Now peoples lives don't matter because you want to save him?' Gilraen put her head in her hand. She had sunk so low. Against everything she stood for just to save Kai. She couldn't believe it. But she gripped the curtain again. She had to do it, no matter how bad and guilty she felt.

She took a deep breath. "Sorry Mariah."

She flung the curtain backwards and jumped out. Mariah spun round but barely had time to scream as Gilraen flung the axe between her head and her shoulders. A clean sweep. She fell to the floor and her head rolled. Gilraen couldn't move. She stared at the body, the head, the blood. She couldn't believe what she had just done. She had executed Mariah! She breathed heavily, tears rolling down her cheeks. She would feel this guilt for the rest of her life. Then she remembered; her life would be over by morning. She thumped down on the blood-covered bed and buried her head in her arms. She was going to hell.

She grabbed the head and the axe and walked back over to the window. She stood on the window ledge, ready to jump. Then she looked up to the sky.

"I was only trying to save the life of somebody else. Please forgive me." She whispered. She then leaped down to the building next door, shoving the head into the huge robe pocket. Already in the pocket was a knife. She carefully slipped the knife into her jean pocket and carried on moving. She felt Mariah's head hit her leg and she jumped from roof to roof, until she finally landed on the ground and walked the rest of the way back, trying to find a way to run without anybody dying or noticing that she had gone, but it was no use. She couldn't think of a possible solution to the problem they were in. How did she get into this mess! And her team and Kais team didn't have any idea what was going on! Only Andrea had noticed she was gone that one time. Then the thought hit her. Andrea! She could help!

Gilraen took a short cut, which passed by her hotel. Luckily they were on the ground floor. She found their window and banged on it. Donna came and opened it and Ashley and her helped pull Gilraen in.

"Where have you been? We've not seen you since yesterday! Not since the match!"

"Yeah what happened?"

"Nothing...have you seen Andrea?"

"You just missed her. She went looking for you. Some guy came to the door looking for her aswell! We couldn't tell who it was because he was wearing a cloak like yours! Where did you get it?"

"It was Adams. Where did she say she was going?"

"To the abbey to look for you!"

"No!" Gilraen was horrified.

"Are you alright?"

"yes...no...erm, Ive gotta go. Don't follow! Just forget I came in, ok?"

"erm, ok then. But where are you going?"

Gilraen ran to the window and lept out, calling back at them as she ran "I have to find her!!!"

As Gilraen raced down the abbey stairs and spun into the room she saw that Adam had Kai tied up with rope to the wall. She paused, taking a breath. She held out Mariahs head. Kai looked horror struck.

"I did my part, now hand him over!"

Adam smiled "Well done Gilraen." He looked over her shoulder. "Tie her up with the boy!"

"What the-?" Gilraen began, but guards grabbed her and tied her back next to Kai. Adam took the robe and the axe away. Kai turned to her.

"Why did you come back?"

"Sorry?"

"You know he was lying don't you? He's not really going to spare my life! He's going to kill both of us! There've already been 2 murders tonight, I thought you would be smart enough to run and save yourself!"

"Two murders? I only killed one person!"

"Look." Kai nodded towards the top shelf where Adam had put Mariah's head. Next to it was another head. A very familiar head. Gilraen screamed.

"ANDREA!!!"

8. Chapter 8-Final Chapter!

Gilraen went pale. Kai did nothing. Then he reached into her pocket and pulled out the knife without her noticing. He began to cut the ropes to free himself, at first missing the ropes and slitting his hand. He winced and carried on. Adam walked back through the door and Gilraen shrieked so suddenly, Kai jumped and cut his hand again.

"ouch!" he cursed under his breath. Neither Gilraen nor Adam noticed though. Gilraen was screaming her head off at him from the moment he stepped in.

"YOU MURDERED ANDREA YOU BLOOD THURSTY @$@ HOLE!!! YOU KILLED HER!!! WHY?! WHY DID YOU KILL HER?!"

Adam remained calm. "I knew she was the only one on your team who really cared about you. This made her a bigger threat. And when she found you down here before I knew she would look here again and I cant afford to have her involved. So I went to the hotel room, trying to find her, but she had gone. Then I saw her making her way to the abbey, luckily I caught her just in time." He walked over to the machine with two things glowing in it. They looked like bubbles, huge bubbles. There was a black/grey one and a blood red one. He pressed a button and the black/grey one became smaller. Gilraen gasped, as though she was being strangled. It kept getting stronger and Gilraen kept struggling. Adam was grinning, looking as though he was enjoying it. Gilraen gasped. "Why are you doing this? We used to be friends!"

"Well I wanted to take it to the next step, but you wouldn't let me. You broke my heart, and now I'm going to stop yours!"

"No!!!" Kai broke free and dived at Adam, knocking him into his machine, knocking him out. Gilraen stopped struggling. She suddenly was re-gaining strength. She saw a knife in Kais hand. He ran and un-tied her. He then stood over Adam with the knife. He looked at Gilraen. She gave him a determined look.

"Do it!"

He thrust the knife into Adams chest, sending blood everywhere. At that exact moment the machine smashed and then it happened. Gilraen felt her heart stop.

She fell to the floor. She heard Kai fall next to her. Everything went black. Then, as quickly as it had happened, it stopped. She sat up. Adam had gone. The machine had broken and the two bubbles were gone. Kai stood up.

"What happened? Where did he go? How come were not dead?"

Gilraen walked up to the machine slowly, examining it and thinking carefully.

"Adam sold his soul to this thing. And because we killed him, the machine has been destroyed. As have our souls. They're gone."

"So why aren't we dead?"

"It's had the reverse effect. We're not dead, we're immortal. Forever. Nobody can kill us." She stood next to Kai as they both stared at the broken glass and the goo substance that once held their souls.

"We're in this together now." She said, putting her arm round him. "We've done it, and now were in this whole thing together. Eternally. Until the end of time."

THE END!!! I hope you liked it!
