ok well I wrote this poem real early in the morning, dont ask why, and I was just bored so I just started typing what first came to my head.... and I guess it was about friends... ^

1. Poem- Friends

Friends

Friends
What are friends?
Friends are people who you can tell secrets too,
knowing they wont say it any other person in this world.

I wonder, is there a limit to friends.
How many can I have?
Will some friends get jealous of you having more friends,
or will they enjoy the more fun?

What is a best friend?
Its someone a step higher then friend? Isnt it?
The why do people sometimes say all there friends are there best friends?
I thought you could only have 1 or 4 best friend, not 10.

Be friends with everyone
make peace in this world
Who cares what other people say dont get jealous be happy
Theres some people out in the world that have no friends, maybe a mouse or a cat, maybe a dog too....

Be Friends with Everyone, make peace, make happiness for everyone
Be the one that will walk from a group of "popular" friends to a nerdy girl with no friends and say HI.
The least you could do would be nice.

Think about this, how to be a friend, whats a friend
Just live your life happy making others happy. the ones that need a little cheering up!
