how i feel about this is actually poetry on how i feel everyday sometimes depressed sometimes sad sometimes angry and i thought that this would be a definite good way to let it out

1. you broke me in 2

you told me you loved me you said it your self you came to hug me but then something came out your mouth you said these words that hurt oh so much so i pushed you away so you would feel my pain but you didn't care you just walked away to meet that new girl you fell in love with so why should i care? its not like you hurt me all you did was lie to me and left me with my heart in two maybe I'll just go home and take the pain away so these are my last words to you

2. Hurt me

Love me hurt me abuse me seduce me hit me kill me push me shoot me stab me feel me please me call me murder me boom i'm dead
