something i just wrote..its dedicated to all of you that feel that you are under pressuere by your fathers

1. father

Father

Here I walk in my father's footsteps, he wants me to be a rich man but I just want to see the world and travel around.

Leave me alone father and let me live my own life.

I want to see the sun you want to see your money on the credit card.

We are so different father.....just leave me alone
