This is a poem I wrote late one night. And It's about an Ex who i thought was someone I could trust.I hope you enjoy it and let me know what you think of it.

1. I Loved Him Once

Months have come and pass

Amazing to see how far our love has come to last

You've whispered such sweet lies in my ear

And I've come to realize, that your never really here.

~♥~

You once where a boy so dark and wise

Now your nothing but a man who cheats and lies

And I question myself, of why I have you in my life

If all you bring to me is grief and strife?

You begged and pleaded for me to take you back

You cried and screamed for me to love you again

I'm sorry, but I've lost all I see in you

I've gone blind with rage and revenge, even hate too

You ask me why I've become so cold

I don't know, could it be the cause of all the lies you've told?

You broke my heart once, a long time ago

It burst into flames, of crimson and gold

The embers died and it rained ash

Your nothing left but a memory of my past

I've moved on, and I hope you do too

I found someone better than you...
