What Kai would do if he saw what some fangirls say about him!

1. Tyson's Discovery!

Tyson was looking through the web at some fansites about him. Ray, Max and Kenny all were standing by him, reading things from their own fans as well. Kai sat on the sofa reading a book- whatever they were reading it couldn't be THAT interesting.

"Hey look! Kai has a fansite too!" Max noticed one of the websites called, "Hiwatari Shrine". Tyson double clicked and they were sent to it.

They read a little themselves, then suddenly burst out laughing. Kai looked up- what was so funny? They looked at Kai, then the screen, then laughed even louder. "That's it!" Kai thought standing up. He walked over to the screen and looked at it.

There was a picture one of the fangirls drew of herself and Kai kissing. They all burst out laughing at him again. "What is this?!" Kai went back to the homepage trying to block out the memory of the picture. Suddenly words appeared that the girls had written- things like "I love Hiwatari! He's SO cute!" or, "He is soooo hot!"

"Oh my gawd..." Kia groaned. They all burst out laughing again. He clicked the back button to escape the site- and on the screen there was nothing but sites like, "Hot Hiwatari" and "Kai the Cutie."

"I hate computers..." He sighed and sat back down to read his book amongst the laughing of his teammates.
