Power is probably one of her feared characteristics but her good deeds is known by all in aluva.

Loved by many even some of her enemies have a good thought for her.

The onliest thing that can seem to get her angry is seeing her loved ones get hurt.

She's eager to help and thinks its hard to refuse a plea for help, her worries are mostly that of others and she seems to know it when some one is sad.

Many believe she has telepathic powers but there has been no record of proof to ground this theory, her most known power is that of the elements with wind, fire and light used most.

She is often asked for help even by the leader of aluva as she seems quit wise which she says to be nothing more then experience.

Many secrets waver around this pretty female fox, many questions unanswered but we all know we can rely on her to safe the day.

It is said her family is a holy order going back to the times of knights and dragons.

She fairly believes Eraiya is her real auntie and refuses to think of what happened to her family.

She is young, full of hopes but also fears.

Her biggest wish is to become a good house wife some time in the future, and so pays good attention to everything around her and remembers everything she might be able to use.

Incredibly intelligent tough she seems fairly weak, but when it really goes bad and all hopes seems lost, you better prepare yourself for the flames inside.

They claimed to have been searching for something but do reasons kept secret, Toru and Racco parted and Racco has never been seen since. Short after Toru met Eraiya and as he is proud to say, fell in love with her quit fast. Now he devotes his life to her following her around or get her things "his way". In return of his loyalty to Eraiya she got him free passage around the world again and all of his sins have been buried in time. She doesn't care much for the outside world and can sometimes be seen staring off in the distance in sadness.

When asked about her scar her casual reply would be "my burden to bare"

One of the things that makes her known is the memories of the large destructions she has caused before when called out to assist Eraiya. Many fear her for her silence combined with immense destructive magic and the ability to summon an ethereal dragon out of nowhere.

He loves Aluva and the people in it. He is easy to please and hard to get angry. He is in the liking of many women but he is too blunt to notice. Most of the time he can be found outside the gates training, or standing guard at the gates. His onliest worries are his brother and his greatgrandfather Roru, who is reaching an amazing age of 347 years. Being raised to follow in not only the role as chieftain, but also the old family tradition and secrets. He wears a large round blue gem to remind him of it, not even himself knows everything about the gem, but it has been passed down his family for generations. Although he has a brother to share the important duty with he still stands alone to it. Ulch has left the family ways and joined another side, one against Aluva. Blix's fighting style is based on his intelligence, having made a battle suit fitting to his style of thinking and quick decision making. Her father could not bear the loss and in against orders and warning he try'd recreating her. When this was found out at an early time in the process he had to run and abort the operation. He would have left Zara if it wasent for Blix who freed her from the tank and fled with her. Their father never escaped the facility, and Blix was merely 8 at that time. Non the less Blix took it upon himself to Take care of Zara and kept her birth a secret. Zara always believed the fake memories implented in her and lived a silent and solitair life alongside blix. Until Blix told her the truth one day when she was 9 and she went to live her own life and swore to never obey her fake memories again. When she was 13 She changed her name to Mun, obandening her creators surname. That was also the day she joined the freedom fighters with Blix who had already taken up a job as a freedom fighter. She trained hard to become strong and be able to protect her secret and her brother. Now she, along with Blix and Zero, form one of the strongest teams in the Freedom fighters organisation. Her specialty is using herself as a shield as Blix can repair her anyway and cause mayor disorder in circuits and a person's sanety. Her power is speed and an accurate shooting capability, hightend senses and the ability to take on whatever weapon Blix makes for her. Faction: Freedom Fighters

History: Zero is the famous heir of his family long history, although his arrogance misses.

He does know just what he is capable off and that can swing to his head.

But his sister is often there to calm him down, or Zara probably smashes his head with a base ball bat.

Blix is often his man to listen to his problems or senseless rants but to others he is mostly cautius.

He mostly takes it calm and lazes somewhere around Blix's quarters, room or laboratory.

When he is angry he can be found taking it out in the training halls of the freedom fighters base.

And don't say anything bad about his sister or your going to meet why no one wants to make him angry and/or his power overflow.

No one really knows why he joined the freedom fighters or why he is so obsessed with killing Tirinay, or why lluna scares the hell out of him.

His main powers are red thunder strong enough to split the earth and a cheap way of talking and then bang your head when youv lowered your defenses.

Stealth is also a way, preferably sneaking up behind you and then send a killing amount of thunder through your body.

Together with Blix and Zara he often uses them to distract the target and sneak up behind to come with a killing blow.

Although he needs caution as the thunder can also tear himself apart, his power is his strength and weakness.

Faction: -

History: Roru has been the trusted and loved leader of Aluva for at least 100 years.

No one really knows how old he is, except Eraiya, himself and Lexus.

Anyone is welcome to ask for his guidance and advise, even criminals are welcome to seek his aid.

His home may be well guarded but always open for those in need.

His pride is Lexus, which he is sure of will be just as good of a leader as himself or even better.

His sadness is Ulch, having left the safety of Aluva and join another faction.

Eraiya is his hope and comfort, having known her all his life he places great trust in her and believes she'll always be there to reach out her hand to help.

And if it's not that he enjoys hearing Eraiya sing, whether it's a soft song or a more swinging or dark song.

He joined Trush's gang hoping that by his lead he'd be able to make a perfect time machine and stop his parents' death.

Cold, Naïve and uncaring but with a noble goal, some see him as a plain criminal others as an unusual hero.

Trush doesn't trust him and yet he also does.

Lexus knows Ulch is probably the one that will bring his downfall as he knows he could never hurt his brother, but Ulch would not hold back against him.
