*Dear my love, haven't you wanted to be with me and dear my love, haven't you longed to be free?
I can't keep pretending that I don't even know you and that sweet night, you are my own.*

*Take my hand, we're leaving here tonight
There's no need to tell anyone, they'd only hold us down
So by the morning light
We'll be half way to anywhere, where love is more than just your name.*

His hand gently graced over her cheek as he caught a tear that made it's way down her face. She held her arms closer to herself as he pulled her into a warm, comforting embrace and rested his head on hers. His perfect fingers ran down through her hair and up again as he rubbed her back consolingly. Her breathing calmed as she relaxed against his chest and listened to his steady heart beat. She managed to wrap her arms around him and buried her face in his body, sobbing silently. Oh, how she had longed for the day she would be this close to him. How she had longed just to feel his arms around her and his soft hands in her hair

*I have dreamt of a place for you and I
No one knows who we are there.
All I want is to give my life from me to you
I've dreamt so long, I cannot dream anymore
Let's run away, I'll take you there.*

*We're leaving here tonight
There's no need to tell anyone, they'd only hold us down
So by the morning light
We'll be half way to anywhere, where no one needs a reason.*

He gave her one last tight squeeze and let go of her. She wished they could have stayed that way forever. She wished she could have stayed in his arms. His gaze pulled her up into his eyes. Oh, those gorgeous brown eyes; how they made her want him even more than she already did. He gazed questioningly at her as if to ask if she was alright. She smiled and nodded, wiping her tears away. Suddenly she felt him move closer to her and take her hands. He brought them down from her face and pressed his lips against hers. Her heart skipped a beat as their fingers entwined and he pulled her closer to his body.

*We're leaving here tonight
There's no need to tell anyone, they'd only hold us down
So by the morning light
We'll be half way to anywhere, where no one needs a reason.*

*Forget this life, come with me, don't look back you're safe now
Unlock your heart, drop your guard, no one's left to stop you
Forget this life, come with me, don't look back you're safe now
Unlock your heart, drop your guard, no one's left to stop you now*

This was all she had ever wanted, all she had ever dreamed. Her skin touching his and their lips connected in such a way that only one whose experienced it could describe. His hands uniquely massaging her neck; her fingers exploring every inch of the back of his head, almost tangled in his hair. He pulled back just enough to be able to kiss her tears away. She smiled and put her hand on his cheek, his perfectly smooth skin under her fingertips. Yes, this was it. This was all she had ever wished for ... Just this one single solitary moment, to be loved by him.

*We're leaving here tonight
There's no need to tell anyone, they'd only hold us down
So by the morning light
We'll be half way to anywhere, where love is more than just your name.*

A/N:: Goodness, for the longest time, I didn't know what to do with this. So I just ended it there. Eh. Short and sweet I guess. Um. That's all I have to say about it. I mean. This is more of an image in my mind of what I wish would happen someday, but I turned it into some form of a song-fic. Eh. Hope you likes it though >_> ... So. I guess that's all. Kayz. :3
