1 - The Transfer

Randi sat on her bed, running her Suna sign necklace through her fingers. It was her most prized piece of Naruto merchandise, because her boyfriend had given it to her on their 1 month anniversary. He knew that the show was her favorite of all time. Practically anyone could tell that, the way her room looked, with posters, books, games, pretty much everything Naruto you could possibly get your hands on. She even pretended that she was a ninja sometimes, and did hand signs and everything, and she went to every convention that she could get to.

The sixteen year old reached behind her neck and latched the necklace, then grabbed her leaf village headband and tied it around her fore-head. She reached for remote and flipped on the tv. It was her lucky weekend, she didn't have to go to work at the country music show, and the Naruto Hundo was airing all weekend.

She ran to the kitchen, intent on not missing anything after the commercials, and grabbed as many junk foods as she could possibly carry back up the stairs. As she ran back through the living room, arms full of chips, cokes, debbie cakes, and candy bars, her mother sighed.

'We're probably not gonna see her at all this weekend, and she's gonna throw a fit by how much weight she gains this weekend, and I'm gonna have to hear her complain until she's worked it all off again.'

"I'll be back down later, mom!" she called, "I'll need to get more snacks when the commercials come back on if I wanna be stocked for the weekend!"

And she did just that. As soon as she could stop laughing her @$ off from the scene with Kakashi performing 'One thousand years of death' she dashed back down the stairs, blonde hair flying behind her. Any Naruto fan could see that she could be the long lost sister to Naruto. She was exactly like him, in practically every way possible, right down to how her blue eyes glimmered. Once she was back in her room again, she slipped on her pajama's with Gaara patterns all over them. They was black and red, and showed her stomach, the pants reaching the floor, her feet treading on the ends.

"Hey Ran!" her little brother Trent had popped his his head through her door. "If you love that show so much, why don't cha' marry it!?"

"SHUT UP YOU LITTLE TWIRP!!" she screamed, throwing her Sasuke-head pillow at the door, just as it slammed shut. Trent stuck his head through one more time and stuck his tongue out at her. She gave a little yell at him as he shut it again, and went over to pick up her pillow.

That night, the marathon reached the first few episodes of the chunin exams, then the network shifted to Adult Swim. Her sugar rush was on high now, coke cans and sugary product rappers littered her floor, but, alas, all good things must come to an end. She crashed right before Inuyasha came on that night. That would certainly make her mad in the morning. Whenever she missed even one night of that show, she would have a break-down. It was one of her other favorite shows, and she couldn't stand missing it, for fear that she would be completely lost the next night. Yep, anime had completely consumed her brain.

She had fallen asleep with her necklace and headband on. Her mother had constantly told her not sleep in a necklace.

"You'll get choked." she would always say. Well, that wasn't the only thing she should have warned her daughter about. For the next morning, she would wake up in the certain apartment of a certain 'Konoha's-number-one-knuckle-head-ninja'.

Shonen Jump that she had ordered.

"Um... WHY ARE YOU IN MY APARTMENT!!?? AND WHY DO YOUR PJ'S HAVE GAARA ALL OVER THEM!!??"

"Y-your name is N-naruto, isn't it?"

"Yeah! Whats it to ya!?"

"Oh... my... God.... I am actually in my favorite show of all time..." she whispered to herself.

Being the superb ninja that he was, Naruto heard every word. "WHAT DO YOU MEAN SHOW!!?? WE'RE IN KONOHA!!! NOT THE TV!!!! AND YOU STILL HAVEN'T ANSWERED MY QUESTIONS!!!"

"Okay, calm down, and I'll tell you everything that I can."

"WHAT DO YOU MEAN CALM DOWN!!?? THERE'S ANOTHER NINJA IN MY ROOM WITHOUT ME INVITING THEM!!!"

'Ninja? Oh yeah!! I still haven't taken off my headband!

"Please, calm down Naruto, when I explain, everything will be clear."

'Well, almost everything...' She still had no idea how she had gotten there.

"Fine."

They walked over to the couch and sat down. Randi explained everything to him, from begging to get the weekend off from work, to grabbing all the junk foods, and, finally, what she remembered from right before she fell asleep. She even gave every little detail, right down to her pajama's.

"But I'm not sure how I got here." she finished.

"Soooo.... you're supposedly from another world, where we are some show and book, and we have all this stuff modeled after us? And, somehow, you were transported here?"

"Yep."

"Even stuff modeled after Sasuke-teme?"

"Yep."

"I don't believe you."

"DO YOU WANT TO MAKE ME SHOW YOU!!??" she screamed in rage. She even had the same temper as Naruto.

He was actually afraid of her. She backed off a little.

"Sorry about that, hehe... short temper." she said, scratching the back of her head.

"Well anyway, we probably need to take you to the Hokage-sama." he said as he got up and headed toward the door.

"Are you crazy!? I'm not walking out there in my pajama's!"

"Well, then, why don't you use a transformation jutsu and make some clothes?"

"B-but I'm not a ninja!"

"Thats impossible! You have a headband!"

"That doesn't mean that I'm a ninja! I'm from another world remember!?"

"Well, you said that you were a huge fan! You said that you practiced hand signs! And you said that everything was different here! Why don't you just try!?"

"A-alright..." she did one of her practiced hand signs, and a poof of smoke surrounded her. She pictured the ninja outfit of her dreams. A black halter-top formed around her upper body, black pants that went down to her ankles formed around her waist and legs, and she felt the ninja shoes form around her bare feet. When the smoke cleared, she looked down at herself. Her pajama's were laying in a heap next to her. "I-i actually did it!"

"Yeah, you did, now c'mon! And you might want to hide that Suna necklace."

"Right." she tucked it into her top and followed Naruto out the door.

Okay peoples, one thing. I AM NOT COMPLETELY SURE ABOUT THE SASUKE THING!!!
All i know is that he leaves Konoha. But I've read enough fanfics that said Naruto drags his sorry @$$ back.

3 - OMG!!! HOKAGE-SAMA!!

Randi followed Naruto through the village, trying as hard as she possibly could not to gawk at everything they passed.

'OHMYGOD!!! LOOK AT THAT!!! OH, AND THAT!!! AND LOOKIT AT THAT!!! OOO!!!!' Her brain was about ready to explode from the excitement.

They came to the Hokage's building and walked up the stairs to her office. Naruto knocked on the door, and they heard a voice from inside.

"Come in." it said.

He opened the door and Randi dashed past him, running around the room, taking in everything, finally stopping at Tsunadae and bowing repeatedly. Sure, she was American, but she watched enough anime and read enough manga to know about Japanese culture.

"Hokage-sama, it is an honor to meet you! I am so thankful that I could come and meet you! I-"

"Who is this Naruto?" asked Tsunadae.

He sighed and said, "This is Randi. Trust me, you need to hear this girls wacky story."

"Alright." she replied. "Sit... Randi, was it?"

"Yes, Hokage-sama." she nodded as she sat down.

"So, you have an interesting story?"

"Y-yes, I do. Okay, first off, I'm not exactly, erm, from here. I'm..." and she explained her story again.

"Hmmm..." said Tsunadae once she was done. "So, you don't know how you got here?"

"No, I don't."

"When I found her in my apartment, she was in her pajama's" said Naruto. "She performed the transformation jutsu perfectly."

"I see..." said Tsunadae. "Randi, what is your last name?"

"I-its Walker Hokage-sama."

"Ah..." she was silent for a moment, and it looked like she was in deep thought.

"Randi, follow me." she said as she stood. "We're gonna test your skills."

"W-what!? B-but, I never took any of the special training that you need!"

"Yes, but you seem to already have a few skills, and I want to see their extent."

"A-alright Hokage-sama."

They headed out the door.

This chapter was a little short... meh. The next couple might be a little on the short side too, but that's only because it leads up to something kind of big.

4 - *cough*SHOW OFF!!!cough

Once they were at the training field, Shizune had joined them.

"Lady Tsunade, who is this?" she asked.

"This is Randi. She-"

"GOD NO!!!! I AM NOT TELLING THAT WHOLE DAMN STORY AGAIN!!!!!!!"

"Oooooooooooooooooookaaaaaayyyyyyy..... anyway, I'll tell you later. We were just about to test her skills. Shizune, would you mind testing her?"

"Sure."

Tsunadae walked over to her and whispered in her ear, "Go easy on her, alright?"

Shizune nodded and shifted into her battle stance.

"Okay, first show us your stance." said Tsunadae.

Randi shifted her body so that her side would face Shizune. She outstretched her arms to each of her sides, and spread her legs, locking her knees.

"Alright, before we start, let me test your stance." said Tsunadae. She walked over to her and gave her a firm push. (Clearly not using her full strength. That would probably send the girl flying.) Randi didn't budge. "Alright... BEGIN!"

"WAIT!!!" yelled Randi.

"What!?"

"I need some sharp pointy things!!! You know, kunai and shuriken!"

Tsunadae sighed. "Naruto, could you go and find Ten-Ten?"

"Alright Granny Tsunadae."

Just before she could punch him for calling her that again, he vanished in a poof of smoke.

A few minutes later, he returned with Ten-Ten.

"Whaddaya' need Tsunadae?" she asked.

"Can you let this girl borrow some of your weaponry?"

"Sure."

Ten-Ten walked over to Randi and introduced herself. "And your name is?"

"Randi."

"Nice to meet you!" she said handing her some of her weapons from her endless armory.

"Thanks."

"Alright," said Tsunadae, "get back into your stance."

"Right." and she did so.

"BEGIN!!"

Randi dashed at Shizune, performing a hand sign. 'What the hell!?' she thought. Her hands were moving as if she had known this since she was born, and it wasn't one of the signs that she had practiced.

'Oh well! It'll just make this easier.'

"PHEONIX FLOWER!" she yelled, and fire balls shot from her mouth. She had never tried any of Sasuke's jutsu's before.

Shizune, dodged it, but just barely. 'Woah! How did she do that!?' she thought. She started to run at Randi again, and threw a barrage of shuriken at her.

'Focus your chakra, focus you chakra, FOCUS YOUR CHAKRA!' Randi felt the energy swarm to her feet, and she jumped onto the shuriken that had been throw. She jumped back off of them and did a back-flip in the air, throwing her own barrage of shuriken.

'Now I'm glad that mom made me go on the cheerleading team!' Of course she had quit soon afterwards, I mean, who wouldn't? It was just a bunch of preps, and who likes preps?

Shizune dodged, and performed a hand sign. She disappeared in a poof of smoke, and reappeared right behind Randi.

"To slow!" and she threw Randi. She did some hand signs herself, and popped back up right behind Shizune.

"What did you say about being to slow!?" and she threw Shizune. She was caught so off-gaurd, that Shizune couldn't stop from spiraling into a tree.

She hit with a hard bang, but quickly retaliated. Randi performed more hand signs. "SHADOW-CLONE JUTSU!" she yelled, and suddenly there were about a hundred of herself. 'Wa-!?' This was so impossible that it wasn't even funny.

'WOAH!!' thought Naruto. He was the only one who was supposed to make so many true clones. Yep, her's weren't shadow clones either, they were real.

She ran at Shizune with all of her clones, throwing wild punches and kicks. "LIONS BARRAGE!!" she yelled. One of her punches landed Shizune in the chin, sending her flying. Randi popped back up right above her and kicked her back to earth.

Once she landed, Randi colapsed on the ground. She was completely worn out.

Amazingly, Shizune stood up as if nothing was wrong, even though she was covered in cuts and bruises. "That was good," she said, "but you need to work on balancing your chakra, and releasing it in a more steady stream."

"Can you get up?" asked Naruto.

She struggled, and strained herself, making her body move as hard as it could, but she couldn't. "N-no..."

Naruto went over to her and slung her arm around his shoulder. They headed back to the Hokage's building.

I hope that this was good. I'm not so great at action scenes.... meh. R&R PEOPLES!!!

5 - Placement

By the time that they had gotten to the Hokage's office, Randi was able to walk again.

"Wait out here Randi, while we discuss your performance." said Tsunadae.

She sat on the bench on the opposite side of the door to the Hokage's office. Naruto, Shizune, and Tsunadae went into the other room. As soon as she was sure that they were inside, Randi shot up to the door and put her ear to the wood.

She heard Tsunadae talking in a hushed tone, probably trying to make sure that she wouldn't hear them. "Well, I believe she could have the potential to even become an ANBU, considering how well she did on her first try."

Randi was trying so hard not to squeel. 'I could be an ANBU!!!'

She tried to calm down so that she could hear the rest of the conversation.

"What do you two think?" asked Tsunadae.

"I believe that we should put her as a sub-ordinate to one of the Jounin team leaders. That way, she could also learn while she would be in the correct rank." said Shizune.

Naruto just answered with a "Humph." 'This was her first try, and they both think that she should already be a chunin! God, I just think thats wrong! I mean, just look at me! How it took me so long to be a chunin! And its her first time!'

"Well, with the exception of Naruto, I think that the vote should go through." said Tsunadae.

"Yes." said Shizune.

"Who do you think she should sub-ordinate for?" asked Tsunadae.

"Hmm..."

They stayed in deep thought for a while, before Tsunadae broke the silence. "I believe she should go with Kakashi."

"What!? Why!?" Naruto tried not to yell as loud as he could. This girl was ruining everything. First getting a 2nd level rank on her first try at being a ninja, but now she was even getting on his team!

"Naruto, what I say is for the girls own good. If she receives the correct training, then she will be a very valuable addition to the Leaf Village."

"But eventually, she's gonna have to go home!"

That made her heart ache. Her mind drifted to home, to her family, to her boyfriend, to her friends. 'What will they think happened to me? Am I ever going to see them again?' Tears began to well up in her eyes.

"Naruto, you think that I don't know that!?! Until she leaves, she can be very useful."

"Humph."

"Right. Shizune, will you go and find Kakashi?"

"Right."

A few moments later, Randi heard them come back through the window.

"Yes, Tsunadae?" asked Kakashi. Randi could just picture him in there, talking to them with his nose in his pervy book.

"We have decided that you will have a new sub-ordinate."

"Hn?" She could picture him briefly taking his nose out of the book to listen to something about his team.

"There is a new girl that shall be your sub-ordinate." repeated Tsunadae. "She has much potential, and we believe that with the correct training, she will be a very valuable addition to Konoha."

"Well, let's have a look at her." he said.

"Alright Randi," called Tsunadae, "you can come in now."

She opened the door and walked inside.

"As you probably know, this is Kakashi Hatake." said Tsunadae.

"Y-yes."

"How would she already know my name?" he asked.

"To save us all the trouble of being yelled at in the ear, I will tell you later."

"Oookaayy...." he had no idea how to reply to this.

"Anyway, Randi, this is your team captain."

"R-really!?! I'm on a team!?" She tried to act surprised and innocent, as if she had never been eavesdropping.

"Yes." said Tsunadae.

Randi walked over to Kakashi and bowed to him. "An honor Kakashi-san."

"Now, now, you don't have to bow to me."

"A-alright." she said, straitening up.

YES!!! NEW CHAPPIE DONE!!!
