*A Short Story Written back in 2018 as one of my very first Alien Fanfictions.
What would have happened if i had set myself in the world of the Xenomorphs?*

Perhaps Something along the lines of this?

1 - Introduction / Captured

To be Alien is not to simply be from 'Overseas' as one may jokingly put it, it is to be from a place not of this world, from countless miles outside our own atmosphere, and probably to appear differently from Man.

*I don't normally expect crazy things to happen in my life, though i suppose it depends on your definition of 'Crazy'.
I was a believer of Life outside my home world, i always wondered what that life must have been like.
However, i never would have expected what would happen on one fateful day.
To begin, i had become one of the first people to undergo the 'Hypersleep' Experiment.. i told them when i wanted to return to the waking world, which was: September 30th, 2145.
The People behind the Project obliged.
But it was after i came back.. that things really began.*

--

*I had been living on a Planet light-years outside earth, along with other people, not to mention family that was on this planet and others since they too took part in the experiment.
A Crazy ruckus came in the form of our houses, some of which were makeshift, being invaded by Alien Organisms.
The Creatures broke into our houses, killing people or taking them as 'Hosts'.*

*I had managed to escape this part of the invasion but not the craziness as a whole.
I managed to make it a mile and a half when i was cornered by Three different Aliens.
One Large Alien plus two smaller ones, the large i recognized as Praetorian - not quite appearing large enough or different enough to be queen, and the other two were clearly drones.
And if there was a Praetorian, no doubt a Queen had to be in equation somewhere.
I knew there was no easy way out of whatever they had in mind.
"You win.. i know there's no use in fighting.. you'll just get whatever you want sooner or later.." I drop to my knees.
"Go right ahead." I said before deciding to Blackout, not wanting to feel anything.*

2 - The Queen

I largely expected to not be of the living by now.. but by waking up, somehow, i knew i wasn't otherwise. It Appears I've been taken to a Cave.. i wasn't stuck to a wall like others i had woken up to seeing, but those that were, I'm pretty sure they've been facehugged by now.

I could also see many Eggs in the Cave.

So why i wasn't stuck onto a cave wall, i wasn't sure.. however.. it was not out of the Question that something had been implanted into me and i don't yet know it.

"Oh no.." I whisper, seeing the nightmare around me.

"Lovely." I said after.

Suddenly a bad headache came on.. before.. contact was made.

'It is lovely, is it not?' I heard a Female Voice in my head.

If i knew anything about Aliens, they tend to be Telepathic, especially if it's a Queen.

Of course it only took looking behind me to realize.. she was right there the whole time.

I yelped with surprise.

"So, you are responsible for all of this?" I ask her.

'I am, yes, but i must say: i was surprised to see you so willing to take fate as it came, most of those we capture or eliminate are unwilling, they attempt to fight us, but in the end: it is futile.' She tells me mentally.

"I would imagine you are using all these people as hosts, to oversee the Birth of your next.. well.. Children, Followers, whatever you want to call them." I said, looking around.

'Very Good, i am surprised you knew that.' Well it really WASN'T that good now was it?

"But why am i not up there with them? H-have i been.. implanted too?" I asked her, fearfully.

'Not at all son, i never had any intention to harm you.. in fact, my children have brought you here for a Special reason.' Uh oh.

"I'm afraid to find out." I whisper.

'No need to be, you are here to become part of my hive.' Wow, what?

"I would have asked 'What happens if i refuse', but i'm sure i know what would have happened." I hear her growl slightly.

'And you would be correct, now, you may have noticed your secondary skin was removed.' Wait.. my clothes?

Well, It would seem i lacked threads.

"You mean you took my Clothes.. should i be surprised?" I asked her.

'Hardly, that's where i come in, i shall supply you with a special coating to act as your secondary skin.' Special Coating?

"Uh, that sounds lovely." I said sarcastically.

'I do warn you it may take me a while.' She tells me mentally as she steps up to me.

"How do you do it anyway?" My answer came in the Form of her.. Gagging.. and then throwing something up on me.

"AW! LOVELY!" I cried out, feeling the warm, disgusting stuff on me.

I heard her laughing in my head, i even heard her laughing audibly but in a more Hissy sound.

'Your reactions make me laugh, Human.' She giggled before resuming.

*Soon enough, while the births of her next Children came as they tore out of their hosts, i had been coated by a dark gray, pasty substance that later turned into a kind of rubbery, leathery body suit that coated me from my neck to my feet but not coating my head or hands.
I actually wanna say i look like them a bit.*

'Perfect.' She said.

"Well, i cant complain, it feels cool now." I said.

'It will stay that way in hot climate, and warm during Cold Climates.' This helps.

So now, i had to ask:

"So, you wanted me to be part of your hive.. may i ask to what extent?" I asked her.

'You shall Freelance, you will be free to do whatever it is you Desire, you may choose any of my children to accompany you wherever you go.. however, i warn you.' She looks around her, wondering if her children were listening.

'There are members of my hive that are far from home but are due to return soon, i fear they may see you as a threat or.. breeding property.. if they choose to, weather you want to or not, they will breed with you if they should so choose.' She told me.

"Is that so?" I glare at her.

"Then don't expect me to play nicely if i am unwilling." I said in a growly voice, which made her hiss a bit.

'Have it your way.'

3 - Escaped

So what happens when we fast forward a bit?

Well, here we are now, it is October 18th, 2145.

Today the members of the Queen's hive that had been away returned, but comes a problem i had already become aware of.

When her children returned, they were accompanied by Facehuggers.

Hence, i had the displeasure of finding it out it would also mark the start of, as the Queen had put it: the next Breeding Session.

That's not something you see in the movies, now, is it?

Thankfully i snuck out of the Hive's Location the previous night with that in mind, no way did i want any part of it.

I made sure i was as Quiet as i could be while the Aliens Slept, i also made sure my mind was making a Wind sound to make it sound like maybe i was dreaming.

Now, as i am Miles away, i can only wonder what must be happening within the hive now that i've disappeared.

"If she thought back then that i would just stick around and simply take whatever they do, heh, nope." I whispered, prowling around a, thankfully, alien-free cave.

"Hmm.. if i ever had a hive of my own, i think this is where i would put it." I said, looking around.

--

And my assumptions would prove to be correct.

The Hive had been in a state of concern when they found me absent.

'Where'd he go?!' One of the Queen's loyal Protectors, also known as a Praetorian that happened to be Female, exclaimed mentally upon the discovery.

'He's not in this place at all.' One of the Drones, also a female, said.

'I believe i know why this is happening.. i warned him when we brought him in that once your siblings returned that they might come back wanting to bring about the next Offspring.. i think he disappeared knowing we would be in a mood.' Her Followers looked at her with Surprise.

'However..' The Queen Stood, setting aside a recently laid pair of eggs.

'Even your siblings will tell you that: I warned him if we were to want him as more than a guest in our hive, willingly or not, he would be forced to become a host if needed..' That's when a Female Drone came out, with a fresh kill in her mouth.

'But i will give him this: He may be free unless one of us wishes to breed with him.' That's when she looked upon her Children/Followers.

'I know at least half of you have breed already or have found a mate.' She received nods from those that did.

She gave an audible, hissy sigh.

'I'd hate to do this to him because he's been fearful of this day.. but.. do.. any of you wish to breed with him?' That's when three different aliens stepped up.

There were a couple facehuggers, one being a recently born Royal Facehugger, but they all would voice the same thing.

'We do.' They all said at the same time.

'Oh dear.. i was not expecting that..' The Queen was really expecting maybe just one, if any, but not upwards of Five.

'Perhaps i should have thought this over more before bringing this human into our lives.' The Queen thought with disdain.

'Well, i guess that means we will have to go looking for him.. he will have to choose one of you to breed with once that happens, i don't think he can take all five of you at the same time.' Although, she was feeling like she made a mistake.

'Actually, If i may? Perhaps we do not need to put him through becoming a Host? Seeing him appear as though he were a Hybrid was really interesting.' Zark, one of the Queen's Warriors said.

'Hm, Perhaps you are right, actually, it is too bad we did not get to experiment with that more.' The Queen Says.

'Oh Well, Maybe we will try that idea again in the future.'
