

Jini!

By JiniSingen

Submitted: August 1, 2007
Updated: February 24, 2008

READ Thats all I want...I'm watching you...o.o...

Provided by Fanart Central.

<http://www.fanart-central.net/stories/user/JiniSingen/47511/Jini>

Chapter 1 - Chapter 1: A new life	2
Chapter 2 - Chapter 2: School has started for Jini!	14

1 - Chapter 1: A new life

Chapter 1: A new life

Playing in the river, in Whales, beside the village, was a place where Aisha and I liked to play during the month of June. Outside was hot during the month our summer vacation started. Mayu, my older sister, already graduated two years ago from our Magic school, while I and Aisha still had 3 more years.

I was standing in the water, wearing my sky blue and yellow striped bikini with “STAR” written on it ,while holding my beach ball shivering, ”Uuu...Th-the water is FREEEEZING...! “. I whined, while trying to get used to the water’s temperature, Aisha, was wearing her white colored bathing suit, and was already on to her little tricks. Though, I also love doing pranks and tricks on others, but I’m not doing any this time... But, she sneaked in back of me and splashed me!

“AAH!” ,I screamed. I was angry at her for splashing at me with the icy water and I started chasing her, beach ball in my hands,”Come back here!” I cried out.

I threw the ball at Aisha, but missed! We started splashing at each other. It didn’t last long, we soon stopped and got out of the river to rest. I sat on the grass and putting my feet in the water while holding my colorful beach ball. With a sigh I said,

“Aisha, please don’t splash me like that!”

“But you’re not freezing anymore, are you?”

“...yeah...”

As you can see, my name is Jini Singen. I have just turned fifteen last month, but I’m still a year younger than Aisha. Aisha and I are so close, since we’ve known each other for such a long time. Ever since Mayu and I moved in to Whales, if I remember right. We’re also sisters-in-law. The reason for this is because Mayu and Gato, Aisha’s older brother, got married just last week. Even if I don’t have a mom and probably no dad, we’ve become like a family.

I jumped back into the river and asked Aisha, “You wanna play catch? “

Aisha stared at me, her eyes wide and sparkling, which were honestly pretty creepy...

But out of the blue, she then jumped on me and yelled,

“Dear Jini! You’re so cute! ”, hugging me with her breasts crushing my face. And, no it didn’t feel nice! She was suffocating me! I don’t know for a guy though...

“Aisha! Ah! Stop it!” I yelled as loud as I could.

“Dear Jini...!”

As I tried to stop Aisha, my real sis came by. I saw her wearing her bright green bathing suit with a big red ribbon in the middle of her chest. She’s very pretty and about 27 years old....I think.

“Oh! Am I interrupting something? ”, my older sister asked politely.

“Mayu?“ I asked, confused by her sudden appearance.

I pushed off Aisha’s face, letting go, as she fell back into the water. Mayu glared at me and started to scold with a slight sweat,

“Jini-chan...That wasn’t nice... “

I started panicking, “Well...! “, I was afraid to get in trouble...it wasn’t my fault! She was crushing me!

Then, I suddenly heard, out of no where, a familiar male voice, “I can see that my three beautiful goddesses have all been placed in the same place! “, It chimed

After hearing Gato’s voice, I immediately tried to hide myself into the water. I bet you’re wondering why I’m trying to cover myself. Isn’t it obvious? I’m just too shy to show myself to a guy when I’m in a bathing suit, even if we were related.

Gato, the flirt that he was, picked up sis’s chin with his finger and approached her face,

“So how’s my gorgeous flower doing?” He asked, sweetly.

“Oh, Gato! Stop it! Not in front of the kids! ”, Mayu cried happily, blushing a faint red. Gato came at just the right time! Right when I was about to get in trouble, phew!

Mayu pushed Gato softly away from her and demanded,

“Jini-chan! Apologize! “, she ordered. That got me mad. I mean, come on! It wasn’t even my fault! Well, I did make her fall in the water. But what a dumb reason to apologize for! It’s not like anything bad happened!

“What happened?” Gato asked while standing next to his little sister, Aisha.

“Jini-chan was being mean to Aisha-chan...” Mayu replied.

With my face turned around, I got out of the water and started yelling angrily,” HEY! It’s not my fault! Aisha was on her “Crazy hugging mode”! And I’m not a kid! “

Sorry...I sort of have a high temper...Though only with those I’m used to being with.

Aisha suddenly replied, “Yeah! You’re right! But I can’t apologize!”

“Huh? But, it’s your fault that I’m in trouble! ”, I yelled again.

“Yeah, but calm down already! No reason to yell! ”

“It’s true.”, Gato and Aisha agreed.

“But... ”, Mayu continued. She, Aisha, and Gato gathered around me, smiling, and started a surprise group hug.

In unison, they cried out happily,

“It’s your fault for being so cute!”

I was embarrassed, but happy for such a compliment. My face turned dark red, and I went quiet...I didn’t want to show my feelings. To avoid doing so, I picked up my ball and started chasing them.

I live alone with my big sis, but next week, I’m gonna move. And I’m gonna be alone.

Yup, Aisha is going to stay with her mom and dad while Gato will be living with my onee-san in my soon to be old house, since I’ll be moving out.

Me? Since I didn’t want to live with Aisha, (Nothing personal...honestly!) I’m going to go back to the place I was born. Back to Japan! But now, since I’ll be moving...Who will I live with you ask? All I can say is that this is something I never thought would happen.

I’m in Japan. It was so boring to get there and even more complicated...I was almost going to go to the wrong plane! The city that I’m moving to is called Domino City, but I don’t really know how it looks yet. Since, well I was still only in the train station, looking around frantically for the exit, where I knew everyone was waiting for me.

With each step I took, I found large crowds of people waiting for their trains, and even more dodging me to make their way to the trains themselves. I was still kind of angry that they didn't come from the airport to get me, as I looked around to see even more crowds.

Minutes later, a train came and the crowd became smaller. I soon saw from afar, a short boy with a figure that looked familiar to me. I stepped closer to make sure if it was him. I was thinking with every step I took, 'why is it just him waiting there for me?'

My pace quickened until I finally got close to him. 'He's so cute!'

Here we go! , I told myself again.

Now, standing beside him, I said quietly,

"Um..."

He turned around and looked at me with his big purple eyes. I blushed, face turning a darker red with every second as I looked at his innocent eyes. I was nervous enough for my heart to gain another 10 beats a minute.

He finally said my name in a surprised tone,

"Jini!"

"Um...yeah... Where are grandpa and Aunt Ashoota? ", I asked without hesitation, even if I was still amazingly nervous.

He smiled with a slight blush, replying, "Oh, mom and grandpa are working, so they told me to come alone to pick you up."

His smile always made me happy. I stayed quiet for awhile and turned my face around so he wouldn't see me. I was blushing still, and simply had to smile. He's TOO cute! , I thought to myself again.

"The train's here", he said.

I wake up from my daydream and nodded. We got in the train, and I sat down in the last empty seat as he held onto one of the poles, to prevent losing his balance. I felt sorry to have taken the only seat that was left.

I took off my bag and put it on my lap, silently. Since there were only people around, and not a space between them, I was too shy to look straight. So I sat quietly looking at the picture of a light brown cat head with angel wings sewed on my bag.

As we stepped out of the train, I followed him to the exit of the Domino train station. When we walked out, I took my first look at my new home, the new city I would spend my life in. Everywhere, people were walking and playing around, and there were tons of different shops and buildings. I smiled a little and thought that even after eight years this place still looks the same.

We walked to go home, to my new home! Heh heh! Though it felt awkward since we weren't talking or anything...I wanted to say something...anything to start a conversation...but I was just too shy! Auuu...! It felt so awkward!

This person I'm walking beside with is Yugi Mutou. It may not show much, but he is one year older than me. No, he's not a relative, but he's a friend that you can really trust! We're so close to his family, since his mom and my mom were best friends. You could consider his family part of ours!

He even knew me before I was born, and I knew him when I was born!

Do you think it's weird that I'm not living with one of my relatives? Ever since my mom died, we haven't really kept in touch with them, since there were a few family issues then.

Okay...while walking beside Yugi, I was trying to say something, but I kept on hesitating! Aah...Just go with it already...! I thought to myself with a scold. I finally worked up the courage to speak.

“Um... Yugi, it's been a long time since we've seen each other... “, how cheesy was that!? I felt so embarrassed! But I wanted to talk with so badly Yugi!

He stayed quiet for a while, smiled and said, “It sure was! For eight years... “

His reaction made me blush so much. I felt so weird. Though I know you already found out that I don't like Yugi as much as friend, he's more to me! Heh heh!

I saw Yugi look around a little, soon to ask me,

“Jini, are you getting better in magic? “

I immediately replied, “Well, I am better than before... It's still hard for me...See? My wand is in my bag!”

During our conversation, I started feeling less shy talking to him. After I replied, he smiled and said,

“I see... Magic sure is cool. ”

I just stared at him looking at his soft smile that he always gives me.

Since I'm too lazy to practice, I don't get any better. I do practice spells sometimes, but not all the time. I'm not that good since I mostly mess up. I'm not used to Latin... I get mixed up most of the times. Just so you can know spells are only chanted in Latin.

I can feel that you're a little mixed up! You see, I'm not really a normal girl. I'm a mage, but in your way of saying it, a witch. And Yugi knows. I told him when we were little. I trust him that much! I have to keep it secret so it won't cause problems. I'm not sure why, but I just have to! I'm human too! Can't know everything!

You see, I moved to Whales since magic schools were secretly hidden only around England. And of course, we were also taught normal school lessons also. We were taught mostly English and Mathematics. Even though I live in England and I'm half British, my accent isn't like theirs. Mine is just the typical everyday English accent! My sister, Mayu, has the British accent though. So to train our magic skills, me and my onee-san moved to Whales and attended a magic school there. It was free too!

While we were chatting in our conversation, we finally arrived at the new house. I was a little confused...

"Here we are."

... And I realized something and popped out,

"Oh yeah! I forgot that the house is at the top of the store!" I forgot about the store... Yugi's family owns a game shop called Kame Game Shop*. I forgot that the house was above the store...eh hee... That was dumb of me... I'm so clueless sometimes it's not funny...

Yugi opened the door as I heard the wind chime coming from the inside when coming in.

"Grandpa," Yugi called out, "we're here!"

I saw a little old man that is as short as Yugi while I came in, quietly saying,

"Hello." I bowed slightly.

I was still as shy as ever. When I said it, it's possible that he didn't hear me. Well, this is Sugoroku. I think... I'm not really sure that is his name... But for now, let's think that! Well, he works in the game shop and he is Yugi's grandfather. Since I know him well enough, I call him Grandpa also!

Happily, Grandpa said,

"Welcome back, Yugi! " He smiled and soon asked, "And who might this be? ", while looking at me.

I became nervous, hearing Yugi sigh, "Grandpa... "

Grandpa soon realised, and said, surprised,

"Jini-kun! Look how much you've grown! It shows Mayu-chan has taken such good care of you.
"

I looked at him, smiling and proudly stating,

”Yes! “

Yugi stepped towards the counter where grandpa was standing, holding a round, squishy looking yellow ball with a cute smiley face and a little antenna on its head, asking,

“Is that a new toy grandpa?”

Grandpa replied, “Yes. It’s a Locomagno*. It starts to roll and sing when you put a magnet close to it. “

I stared at it. It looked really cute.

*Kame: Turtle in Japanese. It is part of the name of the Mutou’s game shop. Yugi’s family owns a game shop that sell strange games and toys from around the world.(I think the name is cute! ^.^)

Afterwards, grandpa took out a box in a cute pink and white striped wrapper. He handed it over to me and said, cheerfully,

“This is a little welcome present. You can open it now if you want to. “

I started taking off the wrapper and opening the box to take out a detailed model of one of my favourite heroines from an anime I really like for the moment called *Nurse Witch Komugi-chan Magikarte. It was a model of Komugi-chan in her transformation suit. I was really happy and surprised by this. Observing its detail, I was thinking, this is the best present EVER! My eyes sparkled with joy as I stared at it.

The old man smiled and said,

“I’m glad you like it. And just so you know it is Yugi who chose it for you. “

My heart jumped, beating faster. I stayed quiet for awhile, blushing deeply as I tried with all my might to smile. Yugi looked at me and blushed. He gladly told me,

“I knew you would like it. You were always talking to me about this anime while we were chatting on MSN*...So I thought to myself...I’m sure Jini would love a model of her favourite character from her favourite anime...”

I was so happy. This really made my day. This was one thing I love about him. I’ll surely treasure this. I stayed quiet, still looking at it.

Not too shortly after, Grandpa looked over at me with a smile,

“Oh! Jini-kun! I’m sure you’re tired from coming all the way here. You can go upstairs and change. “, He said.

Yugi walked over, next to the stairs and told me,

“Come with me Jini. I’ll show you to your room. “

I followed him up the stairs to the house. Before walking on the floor of the house, we took off our shoes and put them on a carpet beside the wall, close to the door with the stairs that go downstairs.

*Locomagno:I got the idea of the name and appearance from the psp© game called LocoRoco©.

*MSN: You know...you can chat with others and exchange and send messages...

He showed to me my soon to be new room. It was all empty and dreary, with the only things around being the multiple boxes filled with my things, along with a few pieces of furniture. I just stared at the boxes and thought of how much unpacking I’d have to do. Well! I had my magic! ‘But’ I thought, ‘I should also unpack on my own.’ And my room was right next to Yugi’s. I was so happy.

Yugi turned around and looked at me, saying,

“I’ll go help grandpa at the store so you can go change. “

I looked at him put on his slippers and go downstairs back to the shop to help grandpa. When I went into my room, I took off my bag, and put it on a pile of the boxes. Afterwards, I stood in front of my white painted hard wooden mirror and I started undoing my two, tight braids. When I was done, I sat on the carpet coated floor and making a big sigh at the same time. I yawned,

“Waaaaaa... I’m so freaking tired! “

I stood back up and looked at myself in the mirror, my hair was curly from being in those braids. I told myself that I would’ve looked better if I had left my hair loose. ‘Well, I couldn’t help it! It already happened!’ I thought as I started changing. I took off the dress I was wearing and opened some of the boxes to find my comb and some clothes. I finally found my comb after looking through 3 boxes. I also found a pair of light beige pants and a loose red t-shirt. I put my pants on, the t-shirt afterwards. When I was finished, I took my comb and tied a ponytail, to make the curls seem a bit less noticable. That seemed good enough. It was comfortable at least. To let the time pass a little, I took out the shorts that I’d wear to bed and made the said bed by using the bed covers and pillow covers found on one of the piles of boxes I found. I could just fix my bed for today and unpack the rest of the stuff tomorrow.

Then when I was gonna get out, I heard someone that came upstairs. Could it be Aunt Ashoota...?

Suddenly, someone familiar appeared in front of me, saying

“Jini-chan! There you are! ”

She went towards me and hugged me, “Welcome to your new home! “

I stayed quiet, still as she as ever. She continued, exclaiming,

“Just looking at you reminds me of your father! “

This is Ashoota. She is Yugi’s mother and was my mom’s best friend.

She happily grabbed my hand and brought me towards the kitchen.

“Come help me cook dinner! And we have much to talk about! “

“Um...Where’s Yugi? “, I asked while being so shy and quiet.

“Yugi is helping grandpa at the shop.”

Oops! I had totally forgot! I was such a dummy! When we went into the kitchen, Aunt Ashoota took her apron and tied it around her waist, asking me,

Jini-chan, do you want to wear an apron? “

I just quietly said no. I’m not used to them. And I barely helped onee-san cook. But I could still help her even without wearing an apron.

“Can you guess what I’m making? The hint is that it’s your favourite dish! “

I thought to myself, ‘spaghetti?’ I was not really sure...

“ ...”

“Not sure? I’m making spaghetti!”

Wahoo! I was right!

Next thing she took out a wooden tray to cut vegetables, putting it on the counter, next to the sink. I guessed what’s where she would be cooking. She then placed a carrot and three tomatoes on the tray, telling me to cut them into pieces and to be careful. I start peeling the carrots, thinking to myself, ‘I hope she in puts meat....then again... meat is pretty expensive in Japan...’

While I was chopping, Yugi’s shout was heard from downstairs,

“Mom! She came over! “

“Who is it? “, Aunt Ashoota asked.

Yugi replied by one name,

“Anzu! “

As I heard the name “Anzu” I thought to myself,

Anzu? Is that a girl’s name?

As the person was coming up the stairs, grandpa, behind her, said happily,

“It was nice for you to visit! “

I didn’t turn around. I just simply continued to chop the tomatoes after I finished peeling and chopping the carrot.

“Heh heh... I just wanted to come by! “

I thought to myself once more,

“It’s a girl! Is she one of their relatives or something?” I took a fast glimpse of her. She was very pretty, just like onee-san...

I continued chopping the tomatoes listening to Aunt Ashoota chatting with Anzu, telling her as I finished,

“I finished cutting the tomatoes...”

“Good job Jini-chan! Thank you very much! And while I’ll be boiling the sauce, why don’t you and Anzu-chan help each other prepare the table?” Aunt Ashoota said.

I felt nervous since I’m very shy with people I’ve just met. I really felt uncomfortable... When Aunt Ashoota left the sauce boiling on the top of the stove, she went to the living room where Yugi and Grandpa were there watching a program in the television. Anzu and I were alone... I couldn’t help but stay quiet. Anzu finished setting the utensils on the table and she silently walked in back of me. I didn’t feel comfortable, but I still continued placing the glasses and napkins. When I was about to finish, she suddenly giggled,

“You’re very quiet. Yugi told me that you were really shy.”

I just stood there after finishing and froze...I didn’t know what to say, but I did feel some joy of Yugi talking about me. Though that wasn’t my best quality. Everyone asks why I am so shy. I can’t answer that! It’s just... I dunno!

When Aunt Ashoota came back to the kitchen, she took out 5 plates and put them next to her on top of the counter next to the stove. She called me,

“Jini-chan, would you put the spaghetti on the plate for me?”

I just went and nodded. When I wasn’t too sure if it was enough for everyone, I simply asked her,

“Is...this enough?”

“...Yup! Thanks you very much again, Jini-chan!”

Just as soon as everything was ready, everyone came to the table and we had to bring another chair for Anzu to sit on since it was normally a table of four people. As we ate, I just sat there quietly eating and after taking my first bite, I thought to myself, ‘it’s sooo good!’

I was really hungry the whole day and I’m glad I ate something good today! Then Aunt Ashoota asked me,

“Jini-chan, what do you think of the spaghetti?”

As I was about to answer, I saw Yugi looking at me. I blushed and just replied,

“It’s really good!”

“Oh, I’m so glad!” Aunt Ashoota said smiling.

We chatted and it went well.

After dinner, Anzu had to leave. She was really nice, even if we had an awkward start. Later, the rest of us watched a little television. It was the news... I didn’t really like it, but it didn’t really bother me. Ashoota suddenly exclaimed,

“Oh! It’s that late? Jini-chan, did you take a bath?”

“...no...”

“Nobody took their baths yet... Jini-chan, I’ll go first then it’s your turn. “

I just sat there, looking at her as she went to get ready to take a bath. I was sitting on the sofa with Grandpa while Yugi was sitting on the floor. It somehow reminded me of when we were little and we always slept on the floor after playing at his house.

After Aunt Ashoota got out, I went to my room to take out my pyjamas. I just took out shorts since I decided to wear the same t-shirt I’m wearing now. I slid the door open and I started undressing. I left my clothes in this little basket they left, and washed my body with the water from the bathtub and a bar of soap. I also brushed my teeth and flossed them. I put on my pyjamas and before going to bed, and put on my retainers. I use to have braces...Thank god I got them off before coming here! I wouldn’t want Yugi to see me in them...

In the warm blankets that had been aired out in the sun during the day, I immediately fell into deep sleep.

CHAPTER 1,END

2 - Chapter 2: School has started for Jini!

Chapter 2: School has started for Jini!

It was 10:45am, Wednesday and I was still sleeping. As I turned around and tried to open my eyes, it was 10:55am. I lied my head down on my pillow after I looked at the time in my psp*.

*psp: system that is to first truly integrated portable entertainment system designed to handle multiple applications.

I got up and looked around the house to find someone. It seemed that Grandpa is downstairs at the shop, Yugi is at school and Aunt Ashoota is working.

I've been living with the Mutou's for a 1 week from now. I've gotten a little used to staying in their house. I kind of Mayu and everyone I knew from Whales. At least onee-san calls around like once a week, so I thought I'd be alright.

I went to the kitchen and I saw a plate with sunny side up eggs, a toast and a little bowl of salad to the side. The food was still warm, so I took my plate and little bowl to the living room. I sat on the carpet coated floor, I turned on the television, put on a program and I started eating. Yay! It was showing an anime! The anime was called *Lucky Star. I knew that anime. I used to watch it back when I was in Whales on my old computer. They are showing a new episode. I was just sitting on the floor and eating, watching a new episode of a good anime. My morning went well.

After eating I washed the plate and little bowl in the kitchen sink and then I went to my room to prepare for Monday. I was starting school. I took out my new school uniform and I put it on my chair next to my desk. I was really excited. Though, I wasn't really excited about wearing the uniform. Why were we obligated to wear skirts? Why not pants... I dislike my legs... At least I'll be wearing stockings. They didn't go all the way; they stopped at a certain part. But they are higher than the knee.

First day of school and I was super nervous. I was happy that I get to walk and go home to and from school by walking with Yugi.

As I stood in front of my classroom, 1-C, everyone was looking at me as I tried not to make eye contact with anyone since I was so shy. The teacher who stood beside me smiled and started saying:

“I’m your homeroom teacher Mrs. Takanara Misuzu. Please introduce yourself, Singen-chan”

I was so nervous... I stayed quiet and then I started saying:

“M-my name is Jini-“

“Singen-chan! Please speak louder so the whole class can hear you.”

Some of the classmates giggled. Oh my god... that was so embarrassing... Okay... Let’s try this again...

“My name is Jini Singen. I’m a transfer student from Whales, pleased to meet you.”

And I did a small bow.

Have I spoken loud enough?

“Very good Singen-chan, take the seat in the middle row, the first seat from the front.”

I walked quietly while others were watching me... Waaah... It was so embarrassing... I took out a textbook and my pencil case. I listened to what the homeroom teacher was saying, though I didn’t understand that much Japanese, that’s why I’m in 1-C. The letter determined the level that you are in. I’m in C since my Japanese was not yet evaluated. But my English was what made me go to that level. If I wasn’t good in English, I would’ve gone to a lower class like 1-E or something. And since Yugi was older, he was in class 2-B.

Class was not bad; no one talked to me yet! It was lunchtime, I took my bag and I went directly to Yugi’s class to eat lunch with him.

I suddenly heard arguing from his class. I was standing at the door, looking on what’s happening. I then heard Yugi:

“Give it back Jonouchi-kun!”

A guy with a dirty blond hair color shouts:

“No way! But what’s in here anyways?”

Yugi panicked.” You can look but don’t lose anything! It’s really important to me!”

That guy took a peek in the little golden colored box and then said:

“How dumb.” He then threw it in the air.

I was about to go catch it for him just when Anzu suddenly appeared and caught it for him! I just stared at her in shock...darn... Just when I was going to do my deed of the day... She suddenly started screaming at the guy:

“Bullies who pick on little kids are what are dumb! Get out of here!”

Hmph! Yugi’s not a little kid!

When the guy ran out from the door he screamed out:

“I’ll get you for this!”

I just stood there looking at this scene where I would’ve been the heroine. I was a little angry... But if it was me I wouldn’t have yelled at him like that... I’m still not used to the atmosphere around me and I’m much to shy...

Anzu handed over the little box and Yugi thanks her. Yugi then noticed me behind the door, he called out:

“Jini!”

I get surprised as I entered the classroom and went by them and said:

”I want to eat lunch with you guys...”

I brought a seat from someone else’s desk and sat by Yugi’s desk.

I’m there eating his mom’s yummy homemade sandwiches from the lunch box I put on my lap. Yugi was eating the same thing.

I was still shy with Anzu, as I was still not used to her, well it WAS the second time I’ve seen her!

Yugi told me that he has known her from elementary school.

Anzu asks:

“Yugi, what is this?” she pointed down on the little golden box.

Yugi replied:

That's right. You haven't seen this yet, Anzu. If you promise to keep it a secret, I'll show you."

I just looked at them while Yugi was explaining to Anzu about that box.

Yugi has already told me about it on the phone when I still lived in Whales. I was still like 7 years old and I don't remember much on it.

He said that he found it on a shelf at the shop covered with dust, so then he kept it for himself. The box was decorated with hieroglyphs and had an eye in the middle. There were like pieces of a puzzle in the box. The solid pieces are of a bright and golden color.

The pieces looked so unusual; I bet when he will finally solve it, it will look really cool!

He even said that if you solved the puzzle, your wish will come true!

Anzu then giggled from what Yugi said.

"Anzu...I knew you would laugh..." as he looked at her all disappointed.

"No no! I wasn't laughing, Yugi! And...what's your wish?" and then winked.

Yugi laughed and said," That's a secret! "

They were chatting 'till the sound of the bell. After lunch there was class again and the day ended slowly.

CHAPTER 2, END