Chapter 1 - click for codes

1 - click for codes

<style>heyyy there, artemis! thank you kindly for purchasing this layout, i really appreciate the profit. xD i'm dolce, and i'm just going to hove around here and show you how to customize this layout. fun, right? i have five rules, though:

- 1) DON'T touch the coding in the boxes or style brackets. don't remove stuff, add stuff, or play with the hex codes. if there's a place where you can tough the coding, i will specify so. otherwise, don't.
  - 2) please only use the boxes for their intended purposes, don't change them up.
  - 3) unless otherwise specified, don't touch any font sizes or "br"s or what-have-you's. they've been carefully formatted to make sure everything's aligned well.
  - 4) the coding below the big "don't touch coding beyond here" line is very fragile. don't touch it!!
  - 5) eek i guess i only have four rules.
- now let's get started!</style>

```
<link href='http://fonts.googleapis.com/css?family=Lobster+Two:700&#039; rel='stylesheet' type='text/css'>
```

<style>this little box, right below me? this is the banner up top. you can keep the message at "welcome," or you can change it to your cattery name, or something else. it should be relatively short, though.</style>

<div style=
"width:100%px;
height:125px;

```

<style>this is the box in the top left corner. put whatever you want in here. ^</style>

<div style=

<style>this is the ~~tags~~ box. you can put a few of your favorite avatars in here, just paste the urls
in. you can add more, too. make sure they're 100px by 100px, though!</style>
```

<style>this is the nav box. you really don't have to touch it, however, due to mwear's symbol malfunctioning, the star might go all wonky, so you might have to fix it every so often.</style>
