1 - Fire

The Elements:

Fire

Strikes swiftly, making his presence known.

No heart,

No soul

in this raging inferno.

He sits in the darkness

behind the furnace,

or under the stove.

Just waiting

He will wait

for however long it takes seconds, minutes, hours, or even years.

He waits.

Just waits until you expect him no more.

Then he attacks

destroying your house

or even more.

There are many that survive this monster,

but there are just as many that have not.

The reason those have died is because

if given the chance

he will put you in a deadly trance.

The trance alone will not make you die, for you can still breath,

but the poison he releases will kill.

There is only one he fears,

He fears her, she is Water

2 - Water

The Elements:

Water

To help all those in need

that is her dream.

She will place herself in danger to fulfill this dream.

To save the thirsty,

She will summon the rains of life.

Unknowingly making another thirsty.

To save a house Fire tracked down

She summons a flood to extinguish the flames.

But when she does this though,

she is unaware that she, instead of saving the house,

destroys the town.

So no matter how kind hearted she tries to be

she still takes lives unwillingly.

Her friend is the strong,

the crazy,

Wind.

3 - Wind

The Elements:

Wind

Quick and strong

Wind does come.

She comes to soothe us on dry, hot days.

She helps Water put out

Fire's flames on his prey.

She moves with such great agility

She can never be seen.

No matter how hard you try.

She can make trees bend to her will with her great strength in any direction of her choosing.

She always tries to be a hero,

something she is not.

For she forgets her limits of her power

and will run so fast

she will unknowingly create tornadoes and hurricanes.

For this she is sorry.

She wants to ask for us to forgive her,

but she cannot.

Because if she stops running,
she will cease to exist, she will die.

Her stronger friend, the one that never bows
is the almighty planet Earth.

4 - Earth

The Elements:

Earth

The strongest of them all

after all he can holds us all.

He gives us beauty to gaze at

with all the forests,

fields, meadows,

and mountains

we always see.

For Earth is a gentle giant,

nothing more.

Except when we get him angry.

For when this happens he is the most destructive of them all.

For he can swallow cities,

crush homes,

even take lives

and not regret it at all,

for he thinks we deserve it all.

He knows how to use his strength,

that he does.

That, again, is how we got our beauty on this planet.

So please, don't get Earth angry.

We want him happy.

Because we, atleast me,

doesn't want our lives to end
