1 - The Saturdays in Ireland

A pair of kids, a komodo dragon, and a half-monkey half-cat were playing a game when the girl ran off into the forest, a black and white haired boy following her. He looked around and ran straight. The girl looked down from a tree and jumped down and ran the opposite way. She came across a huge 2-tailed cat. It stared at her, turned around, dug up a plant, put it in a basket, picked it up and quickly ran away. She stood there for a moment and then followed it. "Wadi! Wadi!" the boy called. "Zak! Zak! We have to show your parents something!" Wadi yelled to Zak as she ran past him. "I'll explain on the way to camp!!!!" "Not right now, Wadi." Doc Saturday was saying. Wadi was trying to tell the Saturdays what she had seen. "But, but-" she was interrupted. "Wadi we're trying to take down a cat like creature." Drew Saturday said. "Supposedly dangerous." Wadi quickly yelled that she knows where it is. Everyone looked at her in surprise. "So where is the cat creature? Wadi." Zak asked. "Follow me." she said as she ran into the forest again. She led them to a cave on a cliff. She pointed up, the cat's tail was just disappearing. Drew and Doc smiled. Wadi ran ahead, but Zak and Doye caught up with her. "Believe you will like this Mr. Saturday." Wadi yelled as she saw a light ahead. When the light hit them they could not believe their eyes.

2 - Discovery, injury and love

They saw a city that sparkled like gold and they could see what looked like a palace. "Wow, what is this place?" Doyle asked. "I-I don't know." Doc replied as he looked around. The streets were quiet. "There's the cat you've been tracking!" Wadi yelled. Doyle had wandered off and found himself heading toward the palace, the cat. The cat suddenly appeared and jumped over the wall to the palace. Doyle looked up and sighed, he did not bring his jet pack with him, so he climbed. Soon he heard a girl's voice, he looked over the wall to see a girl with midnight blue hair, skin as white as snow, and bright red perfectly shaped lips. He sighed and fell off of the wall and landed in some bushes. When he opened his eyes he saw a pair of sky blue eyes staring down at him. "Are you ok?" she giggled. He rubbed his head and looked at her, he had fallen in some thorn bushes, she looked him over and motioned for him to follow her. She led him to a little herb garden, she got out some small vials with different colored liquids in them, quickly mixed some up without looking, dipped a rag in the mixture, and gently dabbed Doyle's arm, the bleeding immediately stopped. She wrapped a bandage around his arm. He looked at her as she put the stuff away. Her cat came around and rubbed up against Doyle. The girl laughed. "Looks like Kiki likes you...um..." she looked at him. "Doyle, Doyle Blackwell." he said. "Doyle, I like that." "So what's your name?" "Alexia, Princess Alexia." Doyle looked at her in surprise. "Princess! Princess! PRINCESS!" someone yelled. Alexia and Doyle jumped. One of the royal guards appeared. "Princess your parents-" the guard looked at Doyle. "Your parents need you to meet them in the throne room." Alexia growled. "Come on Doyle." she said
