Hey! I had the same curiosity and finally made the switch. What convinced me was how breathable and fast-drying linen really is. I first bought from TheBeanchy store, where their dining essential napkins led me to try other linen items. The towels are lightweight but super absorbent, and they don't get that damp smell like some thick cotton ones do.

I had the same curiosity and finally made the switch. What convinced me was how breathable and fast-drying linen really is. I first bought from TheBeanchy store, where their dining essential napkins led me to try other linen items. The towels are lightweight but super absorbent, and they don't get that damp smell like some thick cotton ones do. Plus, they dry quickly, which makes them perfect for small bathrooms or humid kitchens. Once I tried linen, I never looked back.
